

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

 Garter.

 HARROWBY and DERBY.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, June 28, 1859.

A CHAPTER of this Most Noble Order was held this day, at three o'clock :

The Knights Companions following, in their mantles and collars; viz.: His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, the Marquess of Exeter, the Marquess of Lansdowne, the Marquess of Salisbury, the Duke of Cleveland, Earl de Grey, the Marquess of Abercorn, the Marquess Camden, the Earl of Clarendon, the Earl of Carlisle, Viscount Palmerston, Earl Granville, the Marquess of Westminster, and the Duke of Devonshire, attended by the following Officers of the Order; viz.: the Prelate, the Chancellor, the Register, and Garter, assembled in the Entrée Room, where they were called over by Garter.

Her Majesty, His Royal Highness The Prince Consort, and His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, having passed into the Chapter Room, the Knights Companions and Officers proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign.

The Sovereign and Knights Companions being seated, and the Officers standing in their respective places, the Chancellor signified to the Chapter

Her Majesty's royal will and pleasure that the vacant stall in St. George's Chapel should be filled.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, the Earl of Harrowby was introduced by Garter, and being conducted to Her Majesty, received the honour of Knighthood, and having had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand, withdrew ; the Earl of Derby was next introduced by Garter, and conducted to Her Majesty, and having been knighted, and had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand, withdrew.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to an election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor, were by him presented to the Sovereign, who commanded him to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Right Honourable Dudley, Earl of Harrowby, had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, his Lordship was received at the door of the Chapter-room by the Marquess of Westminster and the Duke of Devonshire, the two junior Knights present, and conducted between them to Her Majesty, preceded by Garter, bearing the ensigns of the Order. The Earl of Harrowby, kneeling near the Sovereign. Garter, on his knee, presented the Garter, and Her Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness the Prince Consort and His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, the two senior Knights Companions, buckled it around his Lordship's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the Ribband and George, and Her Majesty, assisted as before, put the same over his Lordship's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition. His Lordship then again had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand, and having received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, retired.

The Chancellor, by the Sovereign's command, then read a new statute, whereby all statutes, limiting the number of the Order, were dispensed with by the Sovereign, for the purpose of manifesting, in an especial manner, Her royal approbation of the distinguished services and eminent merits of Her right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin and Councillor, Edward Geoffrey, Earl of Derby, late First Lord of Her Majesty's Treasury, and whereby the Earl of Derby was declared a Knight of the said Most Noble Order, any rule or usage to the contrary notwithstanding. The Sovereign's pleasure was at the same time declared, that no further election of any Knight Subject shall take place until the vacancy of a stall of a Knight Subject shall have happened subsequently to the reduction of the number of Knights Subjects to the original number of twenty-five Knights Companions.

The Chancellor having accordingly announced to the Chapter that the Earl of Derby had been so declared a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, his Lordship was received at the door of the Chapter-room by the Marquess of Westminster and the Duke of Devonshire, and conducted to Her Majesty by Garter, when he was in like manner invested with the Garter, Ribband, and George, and his Lordship, having again kissed Her Majesty's hand, and received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, withdrew.

The Chapter being concluded, Garter, by Her Majesty's command, again called over the Knights Companions, who, together with the Officers, withdrew from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JULY 5,

Buckingham Palace, July 4, 1859.

THIS day the Archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by the Bishops and Clergy of the Province, waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address ; which was received by Her Majesty on the Throne :

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, approach your Majesty with the renewed assurance of our attachment to your Majesty's Throne and Person, and with our earnest prayer for a continuance of the prosperity, with which it has pleased Almighty God to bless your Majesty's Royal Family and the Nation.

We thank God for the restoration of tranquillity to your Majesty's Indian Dominions ; and, whilst we deprecate any attempt to promote our Holy Religion by any compulsion from the arm of secular power, we cannot but hope that the present season of peace may afford the opportunity of extending the Kingdom of Christ in that land of idolatry and superstition, so that British rule may eventually become a blessing to our fellow subjects there, not only for time, but for eternity. For the attainment of this great object, we venture to express our earnest hope, that your Majesty may be graciously pleased to encourage any efforts that may be made for a sub-division of the vast dioceses already formed in that part of your Majesty's dominions.

The short period which has elapsed since we had last the privilege of addressing your Majesty, has been marked by important events with regard to the interests of the Church at home.

The increase of population and the abuses incidental to the system of appropriated pews have produced the effect of practically excluding from our churches a large proportion of the population,

In such a state of things, we have viewed with thankfulness the institution of additional services with sermons, which have been held in our cathedral and other spacious churches, where, without distinction of persons, all have been equally admitted. •

The large number and attentive congregations which these services have brought together, have shown that the absence of a part of our population from the outward means of grace has in a great degree arisen from the inadequate supply of them.

It has proved that many, who seemed to have been hopelessly estranged from the public worship of God may be recovered to His fold, when thus brought under the influence of His Holy Word.

We have only the more reason to lament the still existing evil, the insufficiency of our church accommodation, and of our number of Clergy to meet the demands of an increased and increasing population. Unfortunately, while that increase is going on with unparalleled rapidity, the existing endowments of the Church appear to admit of no proportionate extension; and although private liberality has effected much, and is daily making fresh exertions, it has hitherto been totally unable to overtake the existing destitution.

Under these circumstances, we would humbly express our earnest prayer, that the resources of the Church may not be further diminished by the abolition of Church Rates, a measure which would despoil the poor of a part of that provision which was made by the piety of our forefathers for the maintenance of Divine Worship and Christian Instruction without charge, and which would disturb the foundations of the Church as a National Institution, from which the greatest blessings, spiritual and temporal, have been diffused into every quarter of the land.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity of respectfully conveying to your Majesty our deep conviction that one of the most effectual means under God of extending the blessing of the National Church will be found in an increase of the Episcopate.

We cannot refrain from taking this occasion of expressing to your Majesty, an opinion concerning certain attempts which have been recently made to bring about a change in the Prayer Book ; we believe, that the force of one argument for such change depending upon the alleged undue length of some of the services, has to a certain extent been removed by the recently authorized use of the Litany as a separate service ; and looking to the general question, we declare our decided conviction that the supposed advantages of a revision of the Book of Common Prayer are far outweighed by the manifest disadvantages of such a course, especially at the present time.

We cannot conclude without tendering to your Majesty the thanks which we, as Ministers of Peace, owe to your Majesty for the endeavours so anxiously made to avert the hostilities in which some of the great Powers of Europe are unhappily engaged. We earnestly pray for the growth of those Christian principles which tend to prevent the miseries of war by restraining the passions which excite it. Principles which happily do so far prevail in this country, that the maintenance of peace, consistently with the national honour and national security, is the universal desire, and we trust the universal prayer of your Majesty's faithful people.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

" I receive with sincere satisfaction the renewed assurance of your loyal and affectionate attachment to my Throne and Person.

“I heartily concur in your feelings of gratitude to Almighty God for the restoration of tranquillity to my Indian dominions ; and it is my earnest desire that the Government of that country should be conducted in the spirit of mildness and charity, which is the distinguishing attribute of our holy religion.

“I rely upon the christian sentiments of my subjects for supporting the pacific policy which has consistently guided my counsels.

“It will ever be my anxious wish that all measures may be adopted which have for their object the diffusion of true religion among all classes of my people, and which may tend to render the National Church an efficient instrument for promoting the spiritual welfare of the increasing population of this realm.”

THE Queen having been graciously pleased, by a Warrant under Her Royal Sign Manual, bearing date the 13th of December, 1858, to declare that Non-Military Persons who, as Volunteers, have borne arms against the Mutineers, both at Lucknow and elsewhere, during the late operations in India, shall be considered as eligible to receive the decoration of the Victoria Cross, subject to the rules and ordinances already made and ordained for the government thereof, provided that it be established in any case that the person was serving under the orders of a General or other Officer in Command of Troops in the Field, when he performed the Act of Bravery for which it is proposed to confer the decoration;—Her Majesty has accordingly been pleased to signify Her intention to confer this high distinction on the under-mentioned Gentlemen, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, on account of Acts of Bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their names; viz.:

Mr. Thomas Henry Kavanagh, Assistant Commissioner in Oude.—On the 8th of November, 1857, Mr. Kavanagh, then serving under the orders of Lieutenant-General Sir James Outram, in Lucknow, volunteered on the dangerous duty of proceeding through the City to the Camp of the Commander-in-Chief, for the purpose of guiding the relieving Force to the beleaguered Garrison in the Residency,—a task which he performed with chivalrous gallantry and devotion. The Force fell into an Ambuscade on the night of the 29th of July, 1857, and, during the retreat on the next morning, Mr. Mangles, with signal gallantry and generous self-devotion, and notwithstanding that he had himself been previously wounded, carried for several miles, out of action, a wounded soldier of Her Majesty's 37th Regiment, after binding up his wounds under a murderous fire, which killed or wounded almost the whole detachment; and he bore him in safety to the boats. Date of Act of Bravery, 30th July, 1857.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order with reference to the representations of the Right Honourable Thomas Sotheron Estcourt, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that no new burial-ground shall be opened in any of the under-mentioned parishes without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that burials in the said parishes shall be discontinued, with the following modifications, from and after the fifteenth of July instant, except as is herein otherwise directed, as follows; viz.:

SEVEN OAKS, KENT.—In the vaults and graves beneath the parish church of Seven Oaks, Kent, and, with the exception of now existing vaults and family graves, in that part of the church-yard lying between the street and a line drawn on a level of the west end of the body of the church; and it is ordered, that, in the other part of the churchyard, with the exception of vaults and family graves, only one body be buried in a grave, and that, with the same exception, no grave be reopened—and that no human remains be exposed; that in vaults and brick graves in any part of the ground each coffin be separately entombed in brick or stone work, and that, in family earthen graves, one foot of earth be left between each coffin, and that no coffin be deposited within five feet of the surface of the ground. KINGTON, HEREFORDSHIRE.—In Kington Church, Herefordshire ; and on and after the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the churchyard, except in now existing vaults and walled graves, in which each coffin shall be entombed in an airtight manner.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 6th day of July, 1859.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyards and burial-grounds be postponed as follows; viz.:

In the churchyard of St. John, BACUP, in the parishes of Whalley and Rochdale, and in the Ebenezer and Irwell Terrace Chapel Burial-grounds, in that consolidated chapelry, from the first of July instant to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; in the churchyard of St. Bartholomew, St. Thomas, St. Philip, St. Martin, St. Paul, and St. Mary, BIRMINGHAM, from the first of July instant, to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; and it is also ordered that the operation of two Orders in Council of the second of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and twenty-sixth of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, so far as they direct only one body to be buried in any grave in the General Cemetery in the old parish of Birmingham, and in the Church of England Cemetery at Birmingham, respectively, be postponed from the first of July instant, to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; in the western portion in the churchyard of St. Paul's, CHICHESTER, to the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty ; and it is ordered that the said ground be then finally closed, with the exception contained in an Order in Council of the seventh April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, in regard to vaults and brick graves in the said churchyard ; in so much of CROYDON Churchyard as is called the New Burying-ground, from the first of August next to the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, subject to the regulations contained in an Order in Council of the eleventh of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, in respect of the said churchyard ; in the parish new burial-ground, and in the Wesleyan Burial-ground, DARLASTON, from the first of July instant to the first of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty ; in the burial-ground of the Primitive Methodist Chapel, DUKINFIELD, from the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, to the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one ; in the churchyard of MELBOURNE, Derbyshire, in the Friends' Burial-ground, in the New Jerusalem Chapel Burial-ground, and in the Baptist Chapel Burial-ground, in that parish, from the first of July to the first of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine ; in such parts of the Independent, Wesleyan, Association, and Primitive Wesleyan Chapelyards as are not within three yards of any building, and in Trinity Churchyard, and in the Lower Independent Chapelyard, all in OVER DARWEN, in the parish of Blackburn, from the first of July instant, to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty ; in the new parish burial-ground of PONTEFRAC, from the first of July, and in the old burial-ground at Knottingley, in the said parish, from the first of May, to the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; in the present burial-ground of the chapelry of THORNTON, in the parish of Bradford, Yorkshire, from the first of July instant, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; in the chapelyard of the Ecclesiastical District of WHITECHAPEL, CLECKHEATON, in the parish of Birstal, Yorkshire, from the first of July instant, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the thirty-first of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, it was ordered that, except in family vaults and graves, only one body be buried in each grave, in the new burial-ground, in the parish of TWICKENHAM, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied; now therefore Her Majesty by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order in lieu thereof, and it is hereby ordered, that in the said new burial-ground or churchyard of Twickenham, with the exception of all vaults, brick graves, and family earthen graves, only one body be buried in a grave, and that, in family earthen graves, one foot of earth be left undisturbed above the previously buried coffin, and that no coffin be buried within four feet of the ordinary level of the ground.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed, and were made chargeable and payable upon, for, and in respect of, letters, newspapers, Parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers, transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post; and by the same Act power was given to the Postmaster-General to charge such higher rates of postage on certain letters, newspapers, and other printed papers therein mentioned, as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, should from time to time deem expedient, and also to remit any of the rates of British postage or inland postage for the time being payable by law on the transmission of post letters, newspapers, or other printed papers, to such extent as the Lords of the Treasury should from time to time direct. And by the same Act power was also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant ; and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any of such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof.

And whereas by an Act of Parliament, passed in the eighth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled " An Act for the better regulation of Colonial Posts," power is also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of colonial postage payable by law for the transmission of letters by the post, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any of such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled " An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office."

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by another Act of Parliament, passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to them in and by the said several before recited Acts, some or one of them, and of all other powers, enabling them in that behalf, have from time to time, by divers Warrants in writing, under their hands duly made, bearing date respectively, at Whitehall, Treasury Chambers, the 21st day of July, 1857, the 2nd day of September, 1857, the 16th day of October, 1857, the 13th day of April, 1858, the 15th day of June, 1858, the 19th day of June, 1858, and the 3rd day of December, 1858, made and issued certain regulations, orders, directions and conditions, relating to the rates of postage, and the mode and time of payment thereof, and to the weight, size, and dimensions, and the mode and time of sending, under and subject to, and in conformity with which, the several packets, consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, and the several other packets therein, or in some or one of the said Warrants respectively mentioned, may respectively be transmitted by the post.

And whereas in and by the said recited Warrants, some or one of them, provision is made that where packets transmitted by the post, under the authority of the said respective Warrants, shall not be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to the regulations, orders, directions, and conditions therein, or in some or one of them respectively mentioned and contained, such packets shall, in certain cases, be chargeable with certain letter rates of postage therein, or in some or one of the said Warrants respectively mentioned ; and it is expedient in all such cases that power should be given to the Postmaster-General to charge such packets with a less amount of postage than such respective letter-rates of postage in the manner hereafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said several hereinbefore recited Acts, any or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners (by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided), order, direct, and declare as follows :

1. In all cases where any packet consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, colonial, or foreign, or any packet consisting of printed votes and proceedings of the Imperial Parliament, or the colonial, or other legislatures, may be transmitted by the post, under the authority of the said hereinbefore recited Warrants, or any or either of them, or under the authority of any other Inland or Colonial Book Post Warrant now in force, if any such there be, and any such packet shall be so transmitted as not to be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the regulations, orders, directions, and conditions in the said Warrants or Warrant respectively contained, relating to such packet, and shall, by reason thereof, have become liable, under or by virtue of any such Warrants or Warrant as aforesaid, to be charged with the like rate or amount of postage to which it would have been liable as a letter if the postage had been paid when posted, or with any higher rate or amount of postage, the Postmaster-General shall, and he is hereby authorized and empowered, at his discretion, either to charge any such packet with the rate or amount of postage to which it shall have become liable under or by virtue of any such Warrants or Warrant as aforesaid, or to charge any such packet with any other rate or amount of postage which he shall think proper, not exceeding the rate or amount of postage to which such packet shall have become liable under or by virtue of any such Warrants or Warrant as aforesaid, nor less than the rate of postage which such packet would have been chargeable with if transmitted in conformity with the regulations, orders, directions, and conditions contained in any such Warrants or Warrant respectively relating to such packet, anything in the said hereinbefore mentioned Warrants, or any or either of them, contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

2. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made, at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke the orders, regulations, and directions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, regulations, orders, directions, and conditions, in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

SIR,

Allahabad, January, 1859.

I HAVE the honour, in accordance with your request, to enclose, for submission, to the Right Honourable the Governor-General, documents regarding the eminent services rendered by Captain Russell, Commissary of Ordnance, on the occasion of the mutiny of the Native Troops at Allahabad, in June, 1857.

2. These documents are sufficiently conclusive, that the disarming of the Native Guard in the fort of Allahabad having been successfully carried out, under circumstances of peculiar danger and difficulty, was mainly attributable to the admirable foresight, coolness, and courage of Captain Russell, and that to him is chiefly due the credit of having saved the fort from falling into the hands of mutineers..

3. His heroic courage and self devotion were still more conspicuous in the preparation he had made for blowing up the arsenal, in case of the garrison being overpowered.

4. Captain Russell's services, in connection with the duties of his appointment, were no less remarkable; and it was in a great measure owing to his unwearied energy and fertility of resource, that the armies employed in the North Western Provinces and Oude, were abundantly supplied with ammunition and materiel, from the first outbreak until the present campaign.

5. Services such as these are eminently deserving of reward, and I therefore take the liberty of earnestly recommending Captain Russell to the favourable notice of Government.

I have, &c.,

H. LEWIS, Captain,
Principal Commissary of Ordnance.

No. 2.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. Brasyer, C.B.

Camp, Siwa,

Sir,

10th January, 1859.

WITH advertence to your letter of the 3rd instant, regarding the service rendered by Captain Russell, Commissary of Ordnance, on the outbreak of the mutiny at Allahabad, I have the honour to report that, on arriving at Allahabad, myself, with the regiment of Ferozepore. in May, 1857, it clearly appeared to me that a dangerous time had arrived, and that it was necessary to take every precaution to avert the pending crisis. I, therefore, lost no time in making the acquaintance of Captains Russell and Brown. the principal Ordnance and Artillery Officers there. Their labours in arranging the guns, preparing and storing in convenient, but safe; positions, ammunition, &c., as well as attending to their other multifarious duties in the arsenal, were increasing, and by the 1st of June, as far as I could judge, everything depending on their exertions was as complete as circumstances would admit of; without increasing the alarm, or showing symptoms of fear, still their labours continued; and we frequently consulted each other, as to the best mode of averting the evil too clearly seen by us to admit of doubt of its near approach.

On the evening of the 6th of June, having received from Lieutenant Alexander (the late), a note, showing that the mutiny of the 6th Regiment, N.I., had commenced, I at once communicated the facts to both these officers, recommending silence, and requesting them to be prepared to assist in keeping off the outside mutineers, as well as for any emergency inside the fort. They were with me instantly, and from place to place silently, until our separate duties separated us occasionally. Thus for three days and nights we never slept for more than a few minutes at once, watching with, and earnestly for each other, solemnly and confidently trusting to our Creator for relief; and others were so completely exhausted that we could scarcely find a man to stand sentry or work the guns. I frequently saw them working as gunners, &c., much to the admiration and encouragement of others, although themselves frequently compelled from exhaustion to desist for a few seconds; and I confidently assert that, during a short stay at Allahabad, (leaving that garrison myself on the 30th of June, 1857,) without enumerating particular acts, the service rendered by Captains Russell and Brown could not have been excelled by any one in their position; and, in my humble opinion, they are both eminently deserving of reward.

I have, &c.

J. BRASYER, Lieut.-Colonel, Commanding Regiment of Ferozepore.

Colonel R. D. Kelly, Commanding Field Force, to the Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Oude Division, Lucknow.

Camp, near Bootwul,

SIR, 30th March, 1859.

IN my letter No. 186, of 28th instant, to the address of the Quartermaster General of the Army, I gave a short statement of the successful attack made on the morning of the 28th instant, by a portion of the force under my command, on the rebels posted in the first range of the Nepal Hills; and I have now the honour to forward, for the information of Major-General Sir Hope Grant, K.C.B., a more detailed account of the affair, which I request he will have the goodness to transmit for submission to his Lordship the Commander-in-Chief.

2. The force intended for the attack was divided into two columns; that on the right, commanded by Captain Stafford, 7th Punjab Infantry, consisted of that regiment and a detachment of 92 men of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, commanded by Lieutenant Gilbert; the left, under Captain Renny, of his own regiment, the 3rd Sikh Infantry, and a detachment of 92 men, of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, under Captain Peel: the strength of these columns is given in the margin.*

3. The remainder of the Force, consisting of the Field Battery Royal Artillery, under Major Henry; the remainder of the wing Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, under Lieutenant-Colonel King; Her Majesty's 34th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Simpson; the Jât Horse, under Major Murray; Lahore Light Horse, under Captain Jackson, Her Majesty's 70th Regiment; and Pathan Horse, under Lieutenant Vivian, were distributed in a chain of pickets skirting the jungle, to cut off the escape of the enemy, should they attempt it from the direction of the base of the hills. Three companies of Her Majesty's 34th Regiment, under Major Maxwell, were left to guard our camps, which were left standing.

4. At daybreak, the attacking columns left the camp, and, pushing through the dense belt of jungle skirting the base of the hills, commenced their steep ascent at the points selected by me the previous evening; and, skilfully led by Captains Stafford and Renny, they ascended the spurs of the hills, by which they commanded the gorges on either side; and, notwithstanding the opposition made by the rebels, greatly superior to them in numbers, with all the advantages of position in their favour, fairly drove them from ridge to ridge completely over the crest of the range, inflicting on them a loss of at least four hundred in kil'd alone, and a quantity of arms of all sorts thrown away by them: six elephants, and about twenty-five camels, and three hundred horses and ponies, were also captured.

5. Our loss amounted to five men killed, and one European officer, Lieutenant and Adjutant Baillie, 7th Punjab Infantry (who, although severely wounded, is, I am glad to say, doing well), one native officer and eight men wounded, total five killed and ten wounded; which, although to be regretted, will not, I hope, be considered out of proportion to the advantage gained.

6. I enclose, for the information of the Major-General, the reports of their operations, made to me by Captains Renny and Stafford; and I trust that he will support my recommendation that their valuable services on this occasion, as well as on that of the affair of the 25th instant, may receive some recognition. The conduct of all engaged, both officers and men, was admirable.

7. The difficulties of a steep ascent through a thick jungle, and under a burning sun, and exposed to a heavy fire, were overcome with cheerfulness, and with a resolution which overcame all opposition, and left the enemy no resource but flight; and I beg to recommend to the notice of Sir Hope Grant the names of the officers and men mentioned by Captains Renny and Stafford, viz., Captain Peel and Lieutenant Gilbert, Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry; Lieutenant Roberts, Her Majesty's 87th Regiment, 2nd in Command 3rd Sikh Infantry; Lieutenant Gordon, Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, 2nd in Command 7th Punjab Infantry; Lieutenant and Adjutant Baillie of the same Corps (severely wounded); also—

8. The enemy made some attempts to escape on our right and left flanks through the jungle ; but, a fire being opened on them by the pickets of Her Majesty's 13th and 34th Regiments stationed there, about twenty were killed, and, I think, few escaped.

In addition to the officers commanding corps and detachments I have already mentioned, I beg to express my sense of the services rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel Gwilt and Major Maxwell, who commanded posts on this occasion, and Lieutenant Cochrane, the Staff Officer to the Column. I have also to thank Captain Haig, the Commissariat Officer with the Column, for his indefatigable exertions to feed the troops, which has been attended with unusual difficulty, on account of our being at present in a foreign State.

I enclose nominal and numerical returns of the killed and wounded, and also a present state of the Force.

Camp, Field Force,

SIR,

March 29, 1859.

FOR the information of Colonel Kelly, C.B., commanding the Field Force, I have the honour to report that, agreeably to instructions received from him on the previous evening, I marched yesterday morning at four o'clock A.M., with the troops noted in the margin,* for the purpose of attacking the enemy's position in the hills north of the camp.

On reaching the edge of the jungle a little to the westward, I drew up the troops in the following order :—

One company of the 3rd Sikh Infantry extended as skirmishers in front, with a sub-division in the same order on either flank : the detachment of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry and another company of the 3rd Sikhs in support.

In this order we advanced through the heavy jungle, and ascended the ridge of the steep hill to the north-west.

When half way up the hill, I was enabled to reconnoitre the position of the enemy, and determine my plan of attack.

Two columns, consisting of two companies of the 3rd Sikh Infantry, with a section of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry attached to each, were detached to the right, with orders to proceed along the spur of the hill running out to the north-east. These detachments were commanded by Captain Peel, of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, and Lieutenant Roberts, 2nd in command, 3rd Sikh Infantry.

I advanced, with the remainder of the column, along the ridge to the top of the hill, from whence two more parties were detached under Lieutenant Harrison, Adjutant, 3rd Sikh Infantry, and Lieutenant Sartorius, 72nd Native Infantry, attached to Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry.

The enemy were now completely surrounded, and the different columns commenced the descent simultaneously; and, although we had to pass down the face of the hill, through a most dense and difficult jungle, the enemy were driven from every position, with great slaughter, into the valley below. Owing to the nature of the ground, the few European officers were all employed in command of separate detachments. My thanks are due to all, but more particularly to Captain Peel, of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, and Lieutenant Roberts, 3rd Sikh Infantry, on whose detachments fell the principal share of the fighting.

No troops could have behaved better than those entrusted to my command, both European and native.

The practice of the Enfield rifles of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry was admirable; the duty was most arduous, over steep hills, precipices, and a heavy impenetrable jungle.

Our loss was small, owing, I believe, to the heights being occupied before commencing the action: that of the enemy could not have been under three hundred and fifty.

I beg to recommend to the favourable consideration of Colonel Kelly, C.B., commanding—

The conduct of these native officers and men was conspicuous, both on this occasion and in the action of the 25th instant.

SIR,

March 28, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Brigadier Kelly, C. B., Commanding the frontier, that, agreeably to his instructions, I marched from camp this morning at four o'clock, with the troops marginally noted,* for the purpose of attacking the rebels in the low range of the Nepal Hills.

2. I entered the belt of heavy jungle, which here skirts the hills to a depth of about four miles, at break of day, and, having thrown out four companies of the 7th Punjab Infantry, two extended and two as supports, under Lieutenants Gordon and Baillie, to cover the advance of the column, I pushed on through the dense jungle as rapidly as possible. After proceeding about four miles, and reaching the foot of the hills, the skirmishers surprised and cut up a cavalry picquet, capturing their horses.

The rebels, having then become aware of our approach, opened a heavy fire from the left front, from which, however, they were speedily dislodged; but, finding that my skirmishers, though gradually forcing their way up the first range, were greatly outnumbered and exposed to an overwhelming fire, I determined upon occupying an elevated ridge on the right, from which, after a rapid but toilsome ascent, I was enabled materially to assist the skirmishers by a protecting fire from the rifles of the company of Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, under Lieutenant Gilbert.

4. The rebel force fully numbered 5,000 fighting men, well supplied with ammunition, as was apparent from the continued heavy fire which they kept up till driven over the highest range.

The bodies of the enemy killed, which lay directly in the path of the troops, amounted to about fifty, but there can be no doubt but that, in the dense jungle to the right and left of our advance, and into which the fire was chiefly directed, many must have fallen.

5. No troops could have behaved better, and I am much indebted to Lieutenant Gilbert, commanding detachment Her Majesty's 13th Light Infantry, for his support; also to Lieutenants Gordon and Baillie, 7th Punjab Infantry, for the gallant manner in which they led their respective detachments. I regret to say the latter officer was wounded in the head by a musket ball.

6. I beg further to bring to the notice of the Brigadier commanding, the names of the under-mentioned native officers, who were distinguished by their cool bravery and exertions in encouraging the men and keeping them together :—

I HAVE the honour to forward the correspondence noted in the margin,* received from Brigadier Hill, commanding Hyderabad Contingent, reporting his having fallen in with, and dispersed, parties of the rebels in the hills west of Gawilghur.

2. I have much pleasure in bringing to the favourable notice of His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India, the gallant conduct of Captain Clogstoun, second in command, 2nd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, in a successful attack made by him on a large body of rebels.

3. His Lordship is aware that this officer was unable to take a share in the late Central India Campaign, with his comrades in the Hyderabad Contingent, his services being required in the Deccan, where he was usefully employed in main-aining the peace of the districts against predatory irruptions of the Rohillahs.

4. Captain Clogstoun brings to notice the gallant conduct of trooper Shaik Hyder, 2nd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, in attacking the rebels; and Lance Naik Seewoo Buksh, 6th Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent, is prominently noticed on the same occasion, by Lieutenant Henchy, of the Artillery, commanding the party of 6th Infantry, Hyderabad Contingent.

No. 12.

Brigadier W. Hill, Commanding Hyderabad Contingent and Berar Field Force, to the Military Secretary to the Resident, Hyderabad.

SIR, December 9, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Resident, that yesterday I came upon the track of a rebel force which I was in the hope of encountering from the information which was brought to me by a few grasscutters, who had preceded my force by about half an hour.

I soon came up with the advanced guard of the force, numbering 30 or 40 cavalry on horses and tattoos. On being surprised by my column coming up with them, the greater portion fled in all directions in the jungle, which was so dense from trees, grass and bamboos, that we soon lost sight of them.

Concluding that the main body could not be very far off, I ordered Captain Clogstoun, commanding 2nd Cavalry, to pursue ; and both Captain Hoseason, my Brigade-Major, and myself accompanied the cavalry ; and, for a few miles, we found the road strewn with baggage, and nearly blocked up with horses, tattoos and bullocks which had just been left by their riders, who had escaped to the jungles ; but, still hoping to meet the main force, we did not draw rein for a distance of twelve miles, but in vain, as no trace of them could be discovered.

I had left Captain Scott, commanding 6th Infantry, with the artillery and infantry. He extended his infantry on both sides of the road to ascertain if any rebels were secreting themselves in the jungles, and several prisoners were brought into camp in the evening.

Although I was not successful in bringing the rebels into action, I consider that an important point has followed my having remained in this range of hills, as I have been able to ascertain beyond a doubt, the intention of Tantia Topee, when he took the line of the Taptee through these hills towards Poonah, as the Resident will observe by the copy of a letter I have this day addressed to Major-General Michell, which may probably guide the General in making the present movements of his force in co-operation with the troops now in the field south of the Nerbuddah.

I cannot speak too highly of the high spirit evinced by Captain Clogstoun and all his men, who, though they unfortunately did not encounter the rebel force in such strength as to make a greater example of them, nevertheless upheld the name they have won for themselves for intrepidity and celerity in all they do.

The enemy's loss was three killed, among whom was a Sowar of the 14th Bengal Irregular Cavalry, as indicated by the carbine which was taken from him after he was shot. Of the prisoners, four were Sowars of Scindiah's body guard, one of the Gwalior Contingent Infantry, and a Sepoy supposed from a button found in his havresack to be a man of the 70th Bengal Native Infantry. These were shot this morning by sentence of a Court-Martial, which tried them yesterday.

There was no loss on our side. As the reports I have received lead me to infer that not four hundred men, including camp followers, have escaped me, I have written to Colonel Becher, who has a force near Peeplode, to stop their further progress; and, as Captain McKinnon, commanding at Ellichpoor, wrote to me on the 6th instant, to state that a Duffadar's party, of the 4th Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent, had observed that a large body (about 1,000) had crossed the road near Sawulmainda, and were taking the road Tantia did, which is immediately in our front, I march to-morrow to Mootah, and next day to Maisdy.

Brigadier W. Hill to the Military Secretary to the Resident, Hyderabad.

Sir, Camp, Mootah, December 10, 1858.

IN continuation of my letter of yesterday's date, reporting my having fallen in with a small body of rebels while on my march to Hurldee, I have the honour to state that, as some of my supplies had not arrived in consequence of having marched thirty-two miles on that day, I directed a party as per margin.* under the command of Captain Clogstoun, of the 2nd Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, to be held in readiness to march back the following morning to escort them into my camp.

2. Having received a letter from the officer commanding Ellichpoor, dated only three days before, stating that Captain Prescott, commanding an outpost at Sawulmainda, had reported that a considerable number of rebels had there been seen by his Irregular Cavalry, and that they were moving in the direction of Maisday, which was on the direct track, as that which was taken by Tantia Topee, and which was immediately in my front, I considered it necessary to halt at Hurldee while this detachment was out, as well as another detachment under the command of Lieutenant Sinclair, of the 6th Infantry, which I had sent round another road to prevent any party of rebels getting to my rear.

3. The successful termination of Captain Clogstoun's duty is described in the accompanying report from that officer, which I have the honour to forward.

4. It was very pleasing to me in having been able to speak in the highest terms of Captain Clogstoun and his cavalry, when pursuing the enemy on the 8th under my own observation ; and, though in the present instance thick jungles and ravines threw the greatest difficulties in their way, as described by Captain Clogstoun, nothing could obstruct them in anticipation of meeting with an enemy, and I feel much gratified in being able to report that the gallantry and intrepidity of Captain Clogstoun and his men were rewarded by falling upon a part of the rebels again, and driving them into the hills in the direction of Charwar and Hurdar.

The Infantry are entitled to equal praise with the Cavalry, having marched 32 miles the day previous, and nearly 37 miles, besides engaging the rebels, when Captain Clogstoun reports they acted with much energy and courage, and this party joined me at three P.M., on the 10th at Mootah, having marched a distance of 101 miles since daylight on the 8th instant.

I have very great pleasure in recommending both Captain Clogstoun and Lieutenant Henchy (who was the only available European officer to command the infantry, as the Adjutant was ill) to the notice of the Resident, as well as the men they commanded.

I beg also strongly to recommend for promotion the men brought to my notice in Captain Clogstoun's report.

In consequence of my having for some days been compelled to place the troops upon short rations, as well as to limit the cavalry in grain, which was absolutely necessary to enable me to march through this deserted part of the country, all the inhabitants having fled from their villages into the jungles after having been plundered by Tantia Topee, and as I expected a large force in my front, I was reluctantly compelled to leave the complete dispersion of this small party of rebels to the force which is under the command of Colonel Becher, who protects the line from Peeplode to Hurdar, who has informed me that he would send out detachments in the several directions I recommended to him, to intercept the rebels; and I hope he will be successful in the object in view.

I have, &c.,

W. HILL, Brigadier,
Commanding Hyderabad Contingent.

SIR, Camp, Mootah, Dec. 10, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Brigadier Hill, commanding Hyderabad Contingent, and Berar Field Force, that I left the camp at Hindee at six o'clock A.M., on the 9th instant, with the detachment as per margin,* to proceed, as ordered, towards Sindwah, to reconnoitre, and also to escort supplies expected by that route.

Fifteen miles from Hindee, the track taken by the rebels repulsed by Brigadier Hill's force on the day previous was pointed out to me. I halted the detachment, and, having personally ascertained that a large body of men and horses had very recently entered the jungle at the spot indicated, I determined to follow up the track, more particularly as the danger which threatened the supplies, the immediate object of the duty I was on, proceeded from the very party on whose line of retreat I had struck.

I sent on the baggage under a guard to the village of Dawar Takrai, four miles in advance on the road to Sindsewall, and commenced the pursuit. The retreat of the rebel force from the first mile followed the course of a dry and stony nullah, then continued through dense jungles and over a succession of low hills and rocky ravines clothed with bamboo and long grass ; to cross the ravines, the cavalry had frequently to dismount. Having proceeded for some eight miles, the close vicinity of the enemy became apparent. I therefore ordered twenty men of the Infantry to the front to precede the Rissallah, which had hitherto led, and the advance was continued with as little noise as possible. On emerging from a thick mass of jungles into a comparatively clear space of some hundreds of yards in extent to the front and right, and intersected by bushy nullahs, the enemy were seen slowly filing through the long grass, and quite unconscious of our approach. I at once dashed at them, followed by my Orderly Sowar Shaik Hyder. The troop, led by Ressaidar Mahomed Shah, as it cleared the wood, galloped by the party of the infantry, who were in advance, and joined in the attack and melee which ensued. The enemy, completely taken by surprise, made but a short resistance, broke, and fled to the surrounding jungles.

Lieutenant Henchy, observing a party of the enemy moving off to the right, by a rapid advance with the infantry under his command, intercepted their retreat, and beat them back into the nullahs above mentioned, when a number were shot down. The affair was soon over ; the nature of the ground afforded every facility for the escape of the enemy, who, taking advantage of the cover at hand, soon evaded us, leaving twelve of their number dead on the path, besides those in the nullah and long grass. It is impossible to say how many escaped wounded into the adjacent jungle. The enemy's infantry alone suffered ; the mounted portion of their force, Sowars dressed in red ulkaluks, were in advance, and made off at the outset. I followed as soon as we had defeated the former, and pursued the latter for several miles further, to a range of high hills, up a ghat of which they had ascended. A reference here to Lieutenant Henchy's watch warned me that I had but time to get back to the road before dark, and, having no guide, I deemed it advisable to discontinue the pursuit and return. The cavalry reached the village of Dawan Mikra at five o'clock P.M. ; the infantry some time later.

No description of mine can convey a just idea of the difficulties surmounted by the cavalry and infantry in the pursuit ; and rocky ravines, through which there was no path, at first sight appeared to present impassable obstacles to further progress, but, as it was evident that the enemy's horse had scrambled through, the Hyderabad Cavalry essayed and succeeded in doing so too. The banks of the rivers and nullahs were covered with high reeds through which horse and foot had to force a way with an exertion which added considerably to the fatigue of a long day's work, which was so cheerfully and zealously accomplished by the fine fellows I had the honour to command. From the distance traversed in pursuit of the enemy without coming across animals laden with kit or supplies, I am led to conclude that the report regarding the enemy being so well provided with provisions is much exaggerated.

I beg to bring to the notice of Brigadier Hill, the gallantry and dash shown by my Orderly Trooper Shaik Hyder, who I saw spear two of the enemy at the commencement of the attack. Res-saidar Mahomed Shah came well to the front, and showed great bravery and zeal throughout. Lieutenant Henchy brought to my notice the conduct of Lance Naik Seewoo Buksh, who exhibited great courage, and set an excellent example to the men.

I beg also to mention that I received every support from Lieutenant Henchy.

The enemy's force, as far as I could judge, was composed of Williaties and Purdasees.

I have. &c.,

HERBERT CLOGSTOUN, Captain, 2nd in Command, 2nd Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, and Commanding Detachment Field Force.

No. 627.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from the Officiating Adjutant-General of the Army, No. 131, dated 17th April, 1859, with its enclosed report of an engagement with the rebels by a detachment of the 1st Punjab Cavalry under Captain Millett :—

No. 16.

The Officiating Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to the Government of India.

SIR,

April 17, 1859.

I HAVE the honour, by desire of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward, for the information of his Excellency the Governor-General in Council, a report dated 4th instant, No. 76, from Major R. A. Ramsay, commanding the Kumaon Battalion, of his having relieved the Thanna of Chowraddee, and enclosing a letter from Captain H. L. Millett, of the 1st Punjab Cavalry, describing an affair with the enemy in which the detachment under his command, consisting of a squadron 1st Punjab Cavalry and detail of Oude Mounted Military Police, behaved with much spirit.

2. Lord Clyde begs to recommend Duffadar Saffur Khan and Lance Duffadar Kummerodeen

Khan, of the 1st Punjab Cavalry, for the 3rd Class Order of Merit, for their gallantry in this affair.

H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Officiating Adjutant-General of the Army.

No. 17.

Captain Hugh Ley Millett, commanding Detachment 1st Punjab Cavalry, to Lieutenant A. B. Temple, Staff Officer, with Major Ramsay's Force.

SIR, Camp, Musha, April 4, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major Ramsay, commanding, that, agreeably to instructions I received from you, I proceeded yesterday in advance of the Kumaon Battalion, with detachments 1st Punjab Cavalry and Oude Military Police (as per margin)* at a sharp pace, to endeavour to intercept a body of rebels (reported to be 500 Cavalry and 1500 Infantry) who had left the jungle at the foot of the hills, and were threatening (and as was afterwards ascertained by me, had attacked) the Thanna of Chowradee.

On arriving within three or four miles of the Thanna, my advanced skirmishers suddenly came upon a body of the rebel cavalry (their outlying picquet) to whom we immediately gave chase; they, and an infantry picquet which joined them, retiring as precipitately as possible on their main body in the vicinity of the jungle. The skirmishers, under Duffadar Sufdur Khan, 2nd Troop, 1st Punjab Cavalry, closed in, and charged them in the most gallant manner; the odds being about seven to one. The gallantry of Duffadar Sufdur Khan, and Lance Duffadar Kummerodeen Khan,

* 1st Punjab Cavalry.—2 European officers, 108 sabres.
Oude Military Police.—1 European officer, 22 sabres.

2nd Troop, 1st Punjab Cavalry, was most conspicuous. I myself saw them engage four men (cavalry), all of whom they killed ; but I regret that Lance Duffadar Kummerodeen Khan received a severe sabre wound on his left temple, and, had it not been for the gallantry displayed by Duffadar Sufdur Khan, he would have been killed.

Fourteen of the enemy were left dead on the field ; and the detachment had four men and four horses wounded (as per accompanying return.)

I continued the pursuit at the gallop, until brought up suddenly by a nuddee with very steep banks. Being now close on the main body of the rebels, who held a position on the opposite bank, we sustained for a short time a very heavy fire from musketry and rifles. My advance being thus checked, I retired with a view of drawing the enemy out into the open country, where I could again charge them with effect. In this I was disappointed, as they clung to the jungle. Being unable to act further, I immediately despatched a request that the infantry might be brought up, as quickly as possible, to dislodge them.

My thanks are due to Lieutenant A. F. Danvers, 1st Punjab Cavalry, who accompanied the detachment, and showed his usual zeal, and also to Lieutenant W. L. P. Drummond, of the Oude Military Police, for the able assistance rendered by himself and his men ; one of whom slew four of the enemy with his own hand.

The Thanna of Chowradee held its own against the rebels ; and the Sikh Police, who fought from within its walls, killed thirteen of the enemy.

I regret to add that, owing to the severity of the pace maintained throughout, two horses of my detachment died from exhaustion, and a few were lamed.

Enclosed I beg to forward a numerical casualty return of the detachment under my command.

I have, &c.,

HUGH LEY MILLET, Captain, Commanding Detachment, 1st Punjab Cavalry,

No. 19.

Major R. A. Ramsay, commanding Kumaon Battalion and Detachment, to the Major of Brigade, Field Force, Trans Gogra.

SIR,

April 4, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Brigadier Horsford, C.B., commanding Trans Gogra, that, yesterday at 11 A.M., while changing camp from the village Chunderpoor to the Thanna of Musha, where the Police were located, a distance of two miles, Lieutenant Drummond, commanding the Military Police, acquainted me that the rebels in force had attacked the Thanna of Chowradee, some twelve miles eastward, and requested me to march at once to its relief.

At 12 o'clock I moved out with the detachment under my command, strength as per margin,* and, when about five miles on my road, I directed Captain Millett, commanding Squadron 1st Punjab Cavalry, to proceed in advance of the infantry, accompanied by Lieutenant Drummond, who, with a small party of his own Sowars, volunteered his services five miles further on. I received a note from Captain Millett, informing me that he had engaged a body of the rebels, computed at 1500 Infantry and 500 Cavalry, on the border of the belt of tree jungle skirting the foot of the hills, and driven them into the forest. I pushed on rapidly to join him, and, on reaching the spot, I found the rebels had retired into a dense jungle intersected with deep ravines. It being late in the afternoon, and Lieutenant Drummond having reported that the enemy's cavalry had been seen to take the direction of our camp at the Thanna of Musha, and it was imperative for me to detach my cavalry to the aid of the Thanna of Chowradee, I determined to return with the infantry to the support of my own position, Captain Millett and Lieutenant Drummond proceeding on to the post threatened.

I have the honour to enclose Captain Millett's report.

In conclusion, I beg respectfully to bring prominently to the favourable notice of Brigadier Horsford, C.B., the gallant and dashing conduct of Captain Millett and his squadron, in having attacked and routed an enemy so far superior in strength to his own detachment.

My detachment returned into camp at 8 P.M., fatigued, having marched twenty miles under a burning sun.

List of casualties enclosed.

I have, &c.,

R. A. RAMSAY, Major, Commanding Kumaon Battalion and Detachment.

No. 629.—WITH reference to Government General Order No. 317, of the 11th March, 1859; his Excellency the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing the following letter from the Resident at Hyderabad, No. 39, of the 11th April, 1859, with its enclosures.

No. 21.

Lieutenant-Colonel C. Davidson, Resident of Hyderabad, to the Secretary to the Government of India.

Hyderabad Residency,

SIR,

April 11, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for submission to his Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council, the accompanying copy of a letter from Brigadier Hill, commanding Hyderabad Contingent, of the 9th instant, and of its enclosure, from Captain Cadell, commanding B. Troop Madras Horse Artillery.

I have, &c.,

C. DAVIDSON, Resident.

No. 22.

Brigadier W. Hill, Commanding Hyderabad Contingent, to the Military Secretary to the Resident, Hyderabad.

SIR,

Bolarum, April 9, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward a letter received from Captain Cadell, commanding B. Troop Madras Horse Artillery, soliciting permission to correct an omission which was inadvertently made when writing his report of the part taken by the Horse Artillery in the action at Chichumba, in which the name of Captain Swete has unfortunately not been inserted.

As I can bear testimony to the gallantry and endurance of Captain Swete on the occasion of his fighting his guns when wounded, I hope that this circumstance may meet with a favourable recognition of the Government by the insertion in the Gazette of Captain Cadell's letter, which I now forward for submission to the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India for his Lordship's consideration.

I have, &c.,
W. HILL, Brigadier,
 Commanding Hyderabad Contingent.

No. 23.

Captain Cadell, Commanding B. Troop Madras Horse Artillery, to Captain Hoseason, Brigade-Major, late Berar Field Force.

SIR, Jaulnah, April 4, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to represent, for the information of Brigadier Hill, lately commanding the Berar Field Force, that, on seeing the publication in a Bombay paper of the Chichumba despatches, it occurred to me I had inadvertently omitted in the report I sent in of the operations of the detachment under my command on the 15th January last, to mention the efficient assistance I received from Second Captain Swete, who was the only officer present for duty with my troop; and I respectfully request, if the Brigadier will allow of the correction being made at this late date, that an addition may be made to my report to the effect that—"I beg to mention favourably the conduct of Second Captain Swete, the only officer available for duty with my troop, who gave me every assistance; and, although he received a wound in the thigh from a matchlock ball, he remained at his post till the operations of the day ceased. The conduct of the non-commissioned officers and men of my troop was all that I could wish." I regret much that it should have been necessary for me to trouble the Brigadier with my request to repair the omission I made, but trust it may meet with his favourable consideration.

I have, &c.,
R. T. CADELL, Captain,
 Commanding B. Troop Madras Horse Artillery.

Hannay, against the Meyong Clan of the Abors.

His Excellency in Council concurs with the Commander-in-Chief in the approbation expressed by his Lordship regarding these operations.

Jenkins, Agent to the Governor-General, and commanding troops North-Eastern Frontier, enclosing a report from Lieutenant-Colonel F. Hannay, of his recent successful operations against the Meyong Clans of the Abors.

Lord Clyde desires to express his approbation of the manner in which these operations were conducted, and of the gallantry of those engaged in them, but especially of the Detachment Indian Naval Brigade under Lieutenant Lewis.

I have, &c.,

H. W. NORMAN, Major,
Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR,

March 11, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to submit, for transmission to the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, in original, a letter, No. 41, of the 28th ultimo, from Lieutenant-Colonel Hannay, accompanied by a sketch map and six enclosures, reporting the complete success of the detachment under his command, in carrying by assault, on the 27th ultimo, the strong stockaded position of the confederated Meyong Clans of Abors, and the destruction of two of their villages.

2. I have much pleasure in drawing notice to the high satisfaction expressed by Colonel Hannay at the conduct of the whole of the troops under his command, and particularly with the gallant manner in which the attack was led by the Naval Brigade, under the command of Lieutenant Lewis, of the Indian Navy.

I have, &c.,

Agent, Governor-General,
and Commanding N. E. Frontier.

1st Assam Light Infantry Battalion, and Expedition to Abor Hills, to Colonel F. Jenkins, Agent to the Governor-General.*

Passee Ghat,

SIR,

February 28, 1859.

IN continuation of my letter No 40, of the 19th instant, I have the honour to acquaint you, that the expedition under my command reached the vicinity of Passee Ghat on Saturday, the 26th instant, and, on Sunday morning, the 27th instant, I proceeded from that point, with a party as per margin,* to the attack of Passee and the adjoining Meyong Abor Village of Rong Khong, which was effectually carried out, and those two positions taken and completely destroyed by 4 P.M., when I returned to the camp established at Passee Ghat.

2. I beg to state that the resistance made by the Abors to our advance was most obstinate and determined, which they were enabled to do, from their thorough knowledge of the ground, their peculiar skill as marksmen, and their formidable barricades and stockades, eleven in number, from the river bank, nine of which the enemy defended ; and, in three instances, it was necessary to use a 12-pounder howitzer gun to open a way for the assault.

3. The enclosed list of killed and wounded (Europeans and Natives) will show that we had to contend against a formidable enemy, armed with a powerful weapon in skilful hands ; the strong nature of the defences keeping the attacking party unavoidably exposed, not only to the fire from the front, but from both flanks, and from trees and heights occupied by the enemy. However, all went down before the gallantry of the troops. The village of Rong Khong and three strong positions were carried at the point of the bayonet by our gallant band of Europeans, Indian Navy, and the Advanced Guard under Lieutenants Lewis and Davies, with Mr. Midshipman Mayo. The position of Passee was taken by Major Reid and myself, the main body of native troops, with the Local Artillery and a 12-pounder howitzer gun.

4. In such jungle positions, and with the prevailing practice of carrying off their wounded, the loss of the enemy cannot be ascertained, but they must have suffered considerably, particularly in the defence of Rong Khong, where the conflict was hand to hand. One body was found at Rong Khong ; and the traces of blood from the different positions they held, to the villages, afforded proofs of their having suffered.

5. I beg leave to express my utmost satisfaction with the conduct of the troops engaged, European and Native. I would especially notice for your information, and that of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, the very gallant conduct of the Indian Naval Brigade, under Lieutenant Lewis, Indian Navy, with Lieutenant Davies, and Mr. Midshipman Mayo, Indian Navy. Lieutenant Lewis had a narrow escape ; an arrow fired at a very short distance lodging in his cap pocket. Lieutenant Davies, who gallantly led the Advance Guard throughout the whole of the operations of the day, was, I am sorry to say, severely hit in the left breast and left arm. Mr. Midshipman Mayo also, a gallant young lad, who was prominently forward on all occasions, was slightly wounded in the finger. I beg to report that the conduct of these officers was most gallant and exemplary ; and I have to add also the highly meritorious conduct of Mr. Assistant-Surgeon White, whose devotion and attention to the wounded, in positions of great risk, was beyond all praise.

6. I have now to bring to your notice the great assistance which has been afforded, throughout the expedition, by Major Reid and his small party of Artillerymen, being an eye-witness to their gallant conduct in serving the guns amidst showers of arrows from all directions, and seeing many of the men hit, their continued exertions to dislodge the enemy evinced a very soldier-like spirit.

7. My Serjeant-Major was present, and he behaved with his usual soldier-like steadiness.

8. In conclusion, I beg to state that I have received the greatest assistance from Captain Bivar, your principal assistant, with me. His personal exertions, in regard to the requisite supplies, carriage and boats, and on bringing the large fleet with us up stream, have been most praiseworthy. I shall await his wishes for a few days at this place, to enable him to make his arrangements with the different tribes.

I have, &c.,

S. F. HANNAY, Lieutenant-Colonel, Commanding 1st Assam Light Infantry Battalion, and Expedition to Abor Hills.

P.S. Annexed is a rough sketch of the line of operations.

SIR

February 28, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward you a list of casualties of the engagement of yesterday of Expeditionary Force to Abor Hills under your command.

At the same time I think it right to inform you, that in each case the arrow was poisoned with extract of a species of aconite.

I am happy to say that, in consequence of the measures which I adopted on the Field, viz. cupping, suction, and ligatures above the wound, very little ill results ensued from the poison, and those have succumbed to the ordinary treatment for narcotico-acrid poisoning.

I have &c.,

The rebels lost about 20 killed and a number of horses. No casualties on our side. On the morning of the 12th, we left about 10 A.M. for Wuzerung. Mr. Ecford having heard that the communication between Gondah and Fyzabad had been stopped, we deemed it advisable to take that route and disperse the rebels. On the morning of the 13th we advanced towards Gondah viâ Koerber Jungle and the village of Magowa. The rebels were reported to be in the Koerber Jungle, on approaching which, we saw them at a distance rapidly retreating. I immediately ordered the artillery to the front, who soon got within range and opened a most destructive fire ; for nearly three hours after this, it was nothing but one rapid advance, unlimbering and opening fire with fearful effect on them, the Sikhs, under Captain Jones, and Hodson's Horse, under Lieutenant Mecham, charging when opportunities offered ; the rebels were at last driven into a large expanse of water, skirting their rear ; they were now entirely at our mercy ; Captain Jones crossed with his Sikhs and charged amongst them, and they were completely routed ; very few indeed escaped. A very large number remained in the water, and, on Mr. Ecford offering them their lives, four and twenty gave themselves up as prisoners, the remainder were shot. The rebels consisted of sepoys from the 1st, 53rd, and 54th Regiments, having with them the colours of the 53rd Regiment, which were captured by the Sikhs, together with an elephant and some camels. The loss of the rebels killed was, at least, between 300 and 400 ; their strength at the commencement of the action, I should think, was about 700 or 800. I have now

ON the 6th instant, I had the honour to report for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Division, that at the first movement of the enemy into the Kymore Hills, I detached the Benares Police Cavalry with orders to proceed to Chundaree 9 miles South of Jehanabad; that I moved myself with the infantry into the hills, stant, I directed the Detachment alion of the 60th to move from bhooa, eight miles south, but the ding, having received information was making for the Grand Trunk

Road, returned to Mohunea the same evening with the Police Cavalry, who had also received similar information: they were however too late, as the enemy had already crossed, and gone north.

No information of any description having reached me from the Road Police, Mr. Bingham, or the cavalry, I felt satisfied that the enemy must have crossed the Trunk Road in small bodies, and therefore marched with the Detachment as per margin* upon Kochus, directing the cavalry and 2nd 60th to follow me with all possible expedition.

Arrived at Kauraich, within a few miles of Kochus, I learned that the enemy was at Toorkee, a village 3 miles to the west. I turned to attack him, but, on reaching it, found that he had marched at 5 A. M. It was then 10. Halting for the men to breakfast, I pushed on again, at 2 P. M. to Sulkooa, where the enemy had turned eastward, in the direction of Dinareh. I followed till dark, and until I had lost all intelligence of him, and then halted, to allow the men to get their dinners.

In this manner I continued the pursuit of the enemy for the next three days, viâ Kochus, Dinareh, Bhaupore, Munneepore, Nawa, Nugger, Kesuth, and Waina, towards the Ganges, never allowing him to halt for more than a few hours, and straining every nerve to push him upon the Arrah Police Force, which I had been informed was on the Line between Domraon and Peeroo.

In this I was partly successful, Mr. Herschel, the Magistrate, having since informed me that he was enabled to compel one party to lay down their arms, and that the other had been attacked in crossing the Ganges, and lost upwards of eighty killed.

January, Maha Rajah Jung

Bahadoor having expressed a wish that the British troops should operate in Nepal, Brigadier Horsford was directed by the Commander-in-Chief to move forward and disperse the rebels, who were still encamped beyond the Sitka Ghat. On the 10th February, the Brigadier gave execution to his orders; took all the guns possessed by the enemy, thirteen in number; and cleared the valley lying between the first two ranges of hills. He had been instructed not to pass the second range, to be most careful in his treatment of the Nepalese authorities and people, to put an absolute stop to plunder, to forbid the slaughter of kine even for the use of his British troops, and to cause the whole population to understand that his march in Nepal was merely for the purpose of securing tranquillity and safety for them. Brigadier Horsford's measures were taken throughout in exact accordance with his instructions. Compensation was paid for damaged crops; no cattle were killed; the strictest discipline was preserved; and it is gratifying to know that the inhabitants of the valley testified their regret, when, the object of his mission having been accomplished, Brigadier Horsford retraced his steps, after a fortnight's occupation of the country.

4. Brigadier Horsford's advance caused a great alarm among the followers of the Begum, the Nana, Bala Rao, Beni Madho, Jodh Sing, Mahomed Hussein, and other rebel leaders, who still kept the remnant of the fugitive Sepoys together. The numbers of these Sepoys were largely stated by the Goorka authorities—much more so, indeed, than was guaranteed by fact. Nevertheless, their number was considerable, and it is possible they may have amounted to ten thousand fighting men, exclusive of the very numerous followers in attendance on the Begum and the chiefs.

* 1 J. At this time, Jung Bahadoor's plan to allow who had retreated across the hills to move eastward to the mountains, communicated to the Commandment. Jung Bahadoor proposed a body of people to get as far as they were to deliver up their

They were then, having been ordered by the British Resident of Oude, to be down in bodies of a thousand men, with the purpose of being thence despatched under the sanction of the Government.

At the same time, Jung Bahadoor expressed a wish that a body of British troops should be sent eastward from Oude, through the district, to be ready to co-operate in the event of the necessity should arise. There was much doubt of the expediency of such a measure, as it appeared extremely hazardous to the Government to trust altogether to the loyalty of the Sepoy disarmament, as proposed, and ordered for, by Jung Bahadoor. If he had appeared at the passes at the time, with a sufficient body of British troops in the neighbourhood to bar their design on the neighbouring provinces, the rich provinces would not have been absolutely lost. In this being the case, no time was lost, but by order of the Government, a detachment of all arms,* which was sent forth to take post at Ramnuggur, beyond the north of Segowlie. Colonel Murray was placed in command of it, and was instructed to meet the views of the Government of his design of the Sepoy disarmament; but, in any case, to be ready to oppose it. The squadrons Murray's Jat Horse; J. B. Royal Artillery; 13th Light Infantry Regiment; 3rd Regiment Sikh Infantry.

prepared to bar the progress of any rebels into the district of Tirhoot. At the same time, her Majesty's 19th Foot was held in readiness at Dinapore, to be thrown across the Ganges, and advance to Tirhoot itself, if any contingency of the campaign should render the movement desirable. During this time all the posts were maintained along the border running to the north of Goruckpore and the Trans-Gogra districts. The Moradabad Levy arrived in due course to reinforce the troops under Brigadier Horsford. Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment and the Kemaon Battalion were detained on the frontier, although destined for other quarters.

6. Reports reached his Excellency at short intervals, of the progress of the rebels through the country of Nepal, till at length, at the beginning of March, they appeared on the Gunduk. It soon became evident that Jung Bahadoor's expectations would not be fulfilled; and that, so far from any disarmament of the Sepoys taking place, either voluntarily, or in consequence of compulsion by the Goorka forces, there was reason to believe that sympathy for the rebels existed in the Goorka ranks. After a time, Jung Bahadoor again solicited the aid of British troops, and declared that the Sepoys under the Begum and Nana, who had reached the Gunduk, were beyond his control. Thereupon, Colonel Kelly was immediately authorized by the Commander-in-Chief, in anticipation of the orders of the Governor-General, which followed shortly afterwards, to pass the border in his front, and to break up the bodies of rebels which had moved eastward. He was also empowered by the Commander-in-Chief to make requisitions on all the officers commanding troops along the Goruckpore frontier, that a combination among the various forces might be insured for the com-

Colonel Kelly acted in accordance with the orders, and with great spirit. He pressed the enemy home, twice* with considerable loss, from him, and effectually turned them to the westward.

The result of these actions was the capture of several chiefs of note, including the Ranees of Toolseepore. The Ranees, fairly frightened, made rapidly for the west, and in the second week of April, reached the Commander-in-Chief. The Begum was believed to be at Bootwall, she had but one hundred followers with her. This was very much an alarm would seem to have been given in the Tirhoot district. At the civil authorities in that quarter, the British Foot, and some Sikh cavalry, went out in march to Tirhoot from Bootwall, but did not encounter an enemy. In his operations, Colonel Kelly received friendly support from the Ranees and other authorities. These Ranees, in their attempts to blacken the British troops in the Court of Nepal, had used much violence and outrage to them; they asserted that villages, known to have been plundered by the rebels, had been spared by the British soldiery. This assertion was met with great calmness, and the Ranees took much pleasure in assuring the British that Colonel Kelly has been successful in his reports on the good discipline of his command.

8. About the last week of March, the rebels, who had been driven westward, began to show again in the mountains north of the Trans Gogra district. They were starving, and in a most wretched condition. They had become satisfied that nothing was to be obtained in Nepal and the Terai but the most scanty subsistence, and a certainty of jungle fever. They seem to have quickly made up their minds, and, after having been engaged with great success by Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, of the 1st. Sikh Infantry, who repulsed them with considerable loss, part of them succeeded in passing Major Ramsay's post, under the hills, and made for the Raptee. The troops at Nawabgunge, Barabinkee, including the Queen's Bays, a regiment of Hodson's Horse, and a troop of Horse Artillery, were pushed on immediately across the Gogra to Secrora; and Major-General Sir Hope Grant, K.C.B., was directed to proceed himself, in person, to Fyzabad, to direct the operations which had now become necessary for the final destruction of the last remnant of the rebel army.

9. Sir Hope Grant moved rapidly out of Lucknow, with another regiment of Hodson's Horse, and two Horse Artillery guns. When passing through Durriabad, he made arrangements for the safeguard of the Gogra, and then proceeded to Gonda, by way of Fyzabad. He was instructed to infuse the utmost energy into the movements and actions of all the officers commanding columns and posts in the district, and to desire that the rebels who, it was known, were half-starved, worn-out, and utterly demoralized, should be attacked immediately, wherever they could be found, and under all circumstances. I WAS encamped at this place on the 2nd inst. and Lieutenant-Colonel Rich was at Laituree. According to your instructions I arranged a movement of our columns south, for the purpose of sweeping these jungles.

We moved accordingly on the 3rd inst. but could not succeed in catching the rebels, who escaped to the west, crossing the Parbuttee ; and, in so doing, a body of their cavalry—about 200—cut through the long column of my baggage, which, together with my guns, half my infantry, and some hussars, I had sent by the straight or

My plan was to attack Boordah, where the rebels were encamped, from the north, and endeavour to drive them east upon Lieutenant-Colonel Rich, who was to be at Esurwas, whilst the detachment at Tinsia was to show itself and intercept any attempting to go south.

Accordingly, at day-break on the 5th, I was a little to the north of Boordah, and, forming one-third of my small infantry force in skirmishing order, and the rest of us in four supports, we advanced quietly through the thick jungle in the direction where the enemy's camp was said to be. On nearing it we were challenged, and, finding the alarm given, we fell upon them with a cheer from our Europeans and the sound of all our bugles and trumpets.

We killed a good many infantry here ; but the cavalry, who were encamped on the other side, and whose horses lately have always been kept saddled, managed to get away.

I pushed on at once with about forty hussars and a few infantry in the direction of Esurwas and Lieutenant-Colonel Rich ; but, finding none of the enemy near us, I hastened on with the hussars alone, and, after going about two miles, we discovered the enemy's cavalry moving parallel to us. We left those that had preceded us for Lieutenant-Colonel Rich ; and Major Seager, commanding the 8th Hussars, turned to his right, and attacked what was before us. We killed forty of them, and also turned back their camels and baggage that were following them, so that it all fell into the hands of our infantry and camp followers.

It extended over a length of five miles and breadth of two miles thick jungle, and we could not spare officers to count them. It is certainly not less than 300, independent of what Lieutenant-Colonel Rich may have done. The natives say 500, and do not appear sorry. I begin to think that fear of the rebels alone has prevented them affording us every assistance.

I beg to assure you that the very correct intelligence we have constantly received from our spies and the arrangement of the whole plan of our attack, were due to Captain Bolton, A.D. Quarter-master-General. I may safely say that, without him, we should still be walking after the rebels, and I have the greatest pleasure in bringing this officer's excellent services on the present, as well as on several former occasions, to your notice, hoping you will present them in the proper quarter.

I cannot speak too highly of the spirit evinced by our Europeans on this occasion, and the fortitude and endurance shown by the 10th Native Infantry. We have all been out in the field more than fourteen months. Our march this day was not less than forty miles; the heat and want of water in the jungles were most oppressive. Our men's clothing has been much damaged in their rapid advance through the jungle.

I have to thank Major Seager, Commanding 8th Hussars; Major the Honourable E. Massey, 95th Regiment; Captain Carmichael, 95th Regiment, Commanding Detachments; Captain Richards, Commanding Detachment 10th Native Infantry, and my Brigade Major, and Cornet Goldsworthy, 8th Hussars, for their zealous able assistance, which enabled me, first, to carry out a long march in a very dark night, and, secondly, to attack with a definite plan, through very thick jungles, where the sun was the only thing that could be seen.

I then went on to Tinsia. On arriving I saw the Brigadier's force : they had already had a fight, and I saw fifty or sixty bodies lying about. The Brigadier gave me a note to take on to Colonel Rich. On arriving at Esurwas, I heard firing, and saw two horses loose belonging to the 14th Dragoons, which I assisted to catch, and saw a serjeant of the 14th Dragoons, who told me there was a fight going on. I have the honour, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to enclose in original, for the consideration of His Excellency the Governor-General, reports as per margin,* of operations that have recently taken place in the Trans-Gogra districts of Oude. I have the pleasure in expressing his Excellency's satisfaction in the manner in which these affairs have been conducted. Lieutenant-Colonel P. Walker, Major-General R. Camp, Kusbah,

SIR,

April 28, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Sir J. Hope Grant, K.C.B. commanding in Oude, that, having ascertained that the rebels (Nusserabad brigade) under Daveedeen, instead of proceeding westward, as reported in my letter of the 24th instant, had doubled back to their old ground in the dense jungle south of the Koanee River, I determined to fall back, and, if possible, get in rear of them, so as to carry out the Major-General's instructions to drive them westward.

Hearing that Major Murray, commanding a moveable column, was at Bhowaniegunge, some ten miles from my camp, I rode over to consult with him, which resulted in his moving down the east side of the jungle, whilst I moved westward; we thus had the enemy between our two columns.

Yesterday morning, when on the line of march, I received intimation from Major Murray, that he had attacked and defeated the enemy on the previous day, and that they were supposed to have gone in the direction of Doomdah Ghat on the marched at once for this Ghat, and encamped at the village of _____ to the south of it.

At half past noon, I was informed that the rebels, 1,200 strong, were in the jungle on the north bank at two miles west of Doomdah. I made arrangements to attack the camp standing under charge of the Royal Artillery, with the two Batteries, one company of Her Majesty's 3rd Regiment, and one company 3rd Battalion. I marched with the rest of the regiment, and, after posting the sentries to prevent the rebels moving along the river east, I advanced, with the intention of attacking them in the position they were supposed to occupy. We succeeded in getting within 100 yards of them, before they were aware of our approach. They were soon on the alert, and on the first few shots, they broke, and fled in all directions, carrying away many of their arms, ammunition, their food, clothes, and cooking utensils. The ground was strewed for miles with the bodies of the rebels in skirmishing order for miles, killing a great number; the dead bodies were counted on the field, and it was found that 1,200 were killed. We could not understand from spies and prisoners that the rebels are very numerous, and that they can remain no longer in these positions. They now intend proceeding to the south of the Raptée.

Her Majesty's Horse.—2 Native officers, 60 men and sowars. 3rd Sikh Infantry.—1 British officer, 5 native officers, 140 non-commissioned officers and privates. Her Majesty's 34th Regiment.—9 serjeants, 3 doctors, 221 rank and file.

I would beg to bring to the notice of the Major-General the admirable conduct of the troops, European and Native; the pursuit was carried on under a scorching sun, without any check of any kind for upwards of five miles.

My thanks are due to all the officers engaged, for the energy they displayed in leading their men, but more particularly to Captain Puget, commanding detachment of Her Majesty's 34th Regiment, for the able manner in which he commanded the skirmishers throughout the day.

A casualty return is enclosed.

I have the honour to report the result of the operations at head-quarters 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry, as per return of the operations of yesterday, at Bungaon, and defeat of the rebels by the 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry, under the command of Major Buck. I received intelligence that the rebels were on the south-east spur of the range near the village of Ramah-vent, and I immediately moved to prevent the rebels' escape in this direction. The rebels were on the look out, and I immediately ordered Lieutenant Sandeman, to move to the north-east side, and to receive intimation that the rebels were on the look out, and I immediately moved to prevent the rebels' escape in this direction. I afterwards personally ordered by the rebels to move to the north-east side, and to receive intimation that the rebels were on the look out, and I immediately moved to prevent the rebels' escape in this direction. This move was a most successful one ; for, immediately afterward the enemy, having been pressed by skirmishers Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, came out of the jungle in a body of about 150, all Sepoys, armed with musket and sword. I allowed them to clear the jungle well, and then charged. Numbers were cut up, Sepoys of the 1st, 22nd, 53rd and 56th Native Infantry.

A few got into broken ground and into a deep nullah. A small body of skirmishers of Her Majesty's 53rd came up, and did great execution with the Enfield ; and I imagine that of this party about 30 or 40 escaped, certainly not more.

I regret to say my loss for so small a body of men engaged was large ; the nature of the wound, mostly tulwar and bayonet, will show that there must have been a great number of hand-to-hand encounters, in which Lieutenant Dick, Adjutant and Duffadar Chunda Singh, showed themselves good soldiers. The latter, on the 13th, distinguished himself, and I am sorry to say yesterday lost his arm.

My thanks are due to Lieutenant Sandeman for the manner he supported me with his troop, and kept the rebels in check, with so small a number of sowars. I annex a return of wounded.

W. C. Whitlock, Commanding Saugor Division, to the Adjutant-General, Saugor

Nagodeypoor, March 27, 1859.

In compliance of the Major-General's order, I have the honour to report a successful attack I made yesterday on Adil Mahomed, the Bhopal rebel, in the jungles near this place.

Having reliable information of this rebel's position, I left Basoda at 11 P. M. on the 25th instant, and reached the village of Basoda Soojabad a little after day-light next morning.

So complete was the surprise that, on our arrival at the village, not a soul was stirring, and, at first, I thought the rebels must have heard of my approach and decamped. Very few minutes however elapsed before I saw many rebels come to the edge of the jungles to see what we were.

The advance of the four Companies of the 43rd Light Infantry was ordered, and, in one minute, they dashed into the jungles in admirable style. For a moment, I thought the rebels would stand; but it was only for a moment, when they turned and fled, and were pursued through a very thick and thorny jungle for fully three miles to the end of the valley, when further pursuit became useless.

There was but little opportunity of using the cavalry, and the only attempt I made to employ that arm was by sending a party round to the right to try and interrupt the flying rebels.

I had no means of ascertaining whether the estimated number of rebels, viz. 2000, was correct. I found that they were bivouacked in detached parties in convenient spots all over the valley, which was shown by their fires. Neither can I estimate the enemy's loss: many were killed certainly. The expenditure of ammunition was 800 rounds; and the 43rd Light Infantry do not throw away their fire, but the ground was difficult, and it was all sharp-shooting.

The rebels dropped some of their cattle, arms, and plunder, but they had no money to speak of about their persons, and I saw no Sepoys or Sowars in uniform.

honour to communicate, for the Brigadier-General Whitlock, that, with instructions received from Mankaid, Commanding at Nowgong, command of the detachments departing,* to Rajgurh, at which town he marched on the 22nd instant.
On the 23rd instant I received assistance from Captain Rishton, Madras Native Infantry, for the operating against a force of rebels who had attacked the baggage of the command, and killed three of the guards. I immediately detailed the cavalry of the Rewah Contingent under Lieutenant Ireland together with a company of Her Majesty's 97th Foot,* and advanced to the village of Murruree on the right bank of the Kane river. Having at that place obtained information as to the position of the rebels, and the services of a guide, I united with the force under the command of Captain Rishton, and pushed forward rapidly in pursuit of the rebels, who were following the course of the river towards Saleia. After a march of about fifteen miles through dense jungle, I overtook the rebels in their encampment at nightfall. I instantly deployed and charged, clearing their entire camp, and capturing their camels, horses, arms, cooking utensils, and bedding. The rebels retreated rapidly across the river, closely followed to the banks by the troops, darkness and difficulties of the jungle rendering any further pursuit hopeless. I, however, re-formed, and halted on the ground for upwards of four hours, awaiting the rising of the moon; after which, finding no further traces of the rebels, I returned to the camp, after a march of upwards of thirty miles.

I have great satisfaction in stating that the entire dispersion of the rebels was effected with but little loss—the casualties amounting to but three men Madras Native Infantry, one of whom only is severely wounded. The loss of the rebels I was unable to ascertain with accuracy, owing to the darkness. Among the captured stores were sabres, carbines, and uniforms of the 12th Bombay Light Cavalry, together with uniforms of the 12th Bombay Native Infantry and Bombay Artillery. From the different sources of information it would appear that the rebel force was about 500 strong.

following morning, sent a strong party, under two native officers of the Madras Rifles and Light Company 1st Regiment Madras Native Infantry with a sufficient number of camels and other public cattle, to convey to camp the mens' kit, which of necessity were left at the foot of the ghaut.

On the return of the advance portion of the party, to the village of Murruree, the enemy came suddenly upon them, killing three Sepoys out of five, and capturing the baggage under their escort the remaining two escaped, and rejoined their own party. One of my camp followers, who had witnessed the attack, escaped through the enemy, and gave us the information. I immediately ordered the rest of my detachment to fall in, leaving a guard in a strong position in a temple, in which was placed the ammunition and camp equipage. I then marched on the village above named, having sent Lieutenant Cox to the detachment under your command at Rajghur, to procure the assistance of some cavalry, if possible. After his departure, I ordered Lieutenant Tyndale to request you to have a party in readiness to co-operate with me, should the information procured be such as to warrant pursuit of the enemy. These two officers conducted this duty to my satisfaction, and shortly overtook me near the village of Murruree, with a party of Rewah Contingent Cavalry, which you despatched to me under the command of Lieutenant Ireland, whom I desired to advance on the village, in which I found the bodies of our sepoy very much mutilated, and stript of their accoutrements.

Stragglers were here overtaken and charged by the advanced party under Lieutenants Ireland and Tyndale ; a few of the enemy were killed ; others took to the hills, and were pursued by a company of Madras Rifles, under Lieutenant Cox, and the light company, 1st Regiment Madras Native their position at a village called Imleepanee, about twelve miles from my encampment, I marched at four a.m. from Syepoor, a village eight miles west of Kishenghur, situated among the Chutteepeer hills.

3. When within two miles and a half of Imleepanee, I proceeded forward with the cavalry of the detachment, to reconnoitre the enemy's position ; and found them posted a little beyond the village, in a deep hollow near the dry bed of a mountain torrent, surrounded by dense jungle and steep rocks. It was indeed admirably situated for defensive purposes, and, with a few resolute troops, might have been held against vastly superior numbers.

4. The videttes of the enemy were posted in the village, and their announcement of our arrival was the signal for the whole of the rebels turning out to defend their position ; a number rushed up the steep slopes in my front and right, and commenced a heavy musketry fire on my party, from behind rocks and jungle within eighty yards, which induced me to retire my men about fifty yards, to place them under a slight shelter which there offered itself, until the arrival of the infantry.

5. Lieutenant Johnstone, 1st Madras Native Infantry, whom I had left in command of the infantry, on hearing the firing, brought up the column at the double, and, on its arrival, I directed the grenadiers, 3rd Madras European Regiment, to form up in skirmishing order, and subsequently reinforced them by the two companies of the 1st Madras Native Infantry. The whole of this formation took place under a sharp fire from the enemy. After two well-directed rounds from the Enfield rifles of the grenadiers, I caused the whole of the troops to advance to the attack, a movement which the enemy no sooner perceived than

10. The blow thus struck at the rebels will show them at all events that, neither in dense jungles nor in steep rocks, are they safe from the attack of British troops. The effect of it on the minds of the people in this neighbourhood is certainly that of instilling confidence, for, whereas before the action I could gain but little or no information of the movements of the rebels, this is now volunteered on all sides.

11. The conduct of the whole of the troops during the action was admirable.

The eager and rapid advance of the grenadiers of the 3rd Madras European Regiment to the attack was perhaps the first thing to strike dismay into the enemy's ranks. The bearing of the men of this fine company was most praiseworthy.

The two companies of the 1st Madras Native Infantry emulated the excellent example set them by their European comrades in their eagerness to encounter the enemy.

The men of the 2nd Sikh Irregular Cavalry also did their duty most gallantly, galloping over rocks and through dense thorny jungle, that few under ordinary circumstances would have ventured at a walk. In all parts of the field they engaged the enemy in desperate hand-to-hand conflicts, and suffered none to escape who once came within their reach.

12. I am exceedingly indebted to the whole of the officers of the detachment for their efficient support.

Lieutenant Johnstone, 1st Madras Native Infantry, my second in command, ably commanded the infantry column, whenever my presence was elsewhere required.

Lieutenant Hunt, 3rd Madras European Regiment, in command of his grenadiers, showed himself a most efficient officer and was foremost when leading his men to the attack.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Saturday, August 13, 1859.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by Her Majesty to release you from further attendance in Parliament and at the same time to convey to you Her Majesty's acknowledgments for the zeal and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the performance of your important duties during the session of Parliament now about to close.

Various circumstances which occasioned interruptions in the usual course of business, prevented the completion of important measures which Her Majesty pointed out to the attention of Her Parliament in the beginning of the present year; but Her Majesty trusts that those matters will be taken into your earnest consideration at an early period of your next session.

The war which had broken out in Northern Italy having been brought to a close by the peace of Villafranca, overtures have been made to Her Majesty with a view to ascertain whether, if Conferences should be held by the Great Powers of Europe, for the purpose of settling arrangements connected with the present state and future condition of Italy, a Plenipotentiary would be sent by Her Majesty to assist at such Conferences; but

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Her Majesty commands us to convey to Her cordial thanks for the readiness and zeal which you have provided the necessary support for the service of the year.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty commands us to express to Her heartfelt gratification at witnessing the general wellbeing and contentment which prevail throughout Her Dominions: the happiness of Her Majesty's people is the object dearest to Her heart.

In returning to your respective counties you will have duties to perform intimately connected with the attainment of this great end; and Her Majesty fervently prays that the blessing of Almighty God may attend your exertions in the performance of those duties, for the common good of all classes of Her Majesty's subjects.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

By virtue of Her Majesty's Commission, under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in Her Majesty's name, in obedience to Her commands, prorogue the Parliament to Thursday the twenty-seventh of October next, to be then here holden; and the Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the twenty-seventh day of October next.

Fort William, June 3, 1859.
No. 805.

THE subjoined notification is to be substituted for that published in the Gazette Extraordinary under date the 22nd of April, 1859.

No. 573.—The 2nd Battalion Military Artillery is under orders for immediate embarkation for England.

The career in India of this Corps has been short, but brilliant, and eminently serviceable to its country.

Upon arriving at the presidency, it was at once converted into a cavalry force, and sent untrammelled into the field.

Throughout the glorious campaign in Central India the Military Train bore a part which would reflect credit upon the oldest and most experienced cavalry soldiers.

It has served with distinction in various campaigns under Lieutenant-General Sir James Outram, and in the capture of Lucknow, in the operations of the Returning speedily I advanced a line of skirmishers consisting of four companies, with the same strength in support: the rebels were firing during this interval when the skirmishers pressed forward, cleared the jungle and drove the rebels across the river, which was knee deep at that part, which they had made for, with the object of crossing. The evening being now far advanced, and darkness gradually commencing I retired my skirmishers without any man being touched. Withdrawing to the road, I threw out a chain of sentries and picquets to protect the guns and supports on their return along the Fyzabad Road towards Gonda.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that I marched with the detachments, as per margin,* in obedience to your orders, to outflank the rebels at Rumwarpore.

I followed the Fyzabad Road for a mile and a half after leaving your force, and then turned my right through a very dense jungle. I placed the Punjaub Rifles in front of the guns, owing to the darkness, which was fast coming on, and the excessive badness of the road, I made slow progress. After proceeding about three quarters of a mile the ground became more open, through the plain was surrounded by jungles on all sides.

At 6½ P.M., I saw a rebel vidette on the top of the hill, and had just ordered the Punjaub Rifle form company, when the rebels opened fire on us from the bushes on the top of the hill at a distance of 40 yards.

Upon the first shot being fired, the Oude Cavalry turned round and ran away, carrying

*Dated Camp Bhurtpore,
April 27, 1859.*

On the honour to report, for the information of the Government-General Sir Hope Grant, K.C.B., of the Oude Division, that having received information of the movement of a body of rebels of 2000 and 3000 in number to the north with a view to cross the Kowreealla River the Khyryghur jungles, I assembled the force named in the margin,* at Nanpa and proceeded to endeavour to prevent the enemy from carrying out his intentions.

I had previously ascertained that all the boats on the Kowreealla had been withdrawn by the police on the right bank of that river, and was therefore aware, that from its depth and width, time was not given the rebels to construct rafts, so they could not cross.

My object being to prevent the enemy from breaking to the southward, I marched to the Gurwa River (between which and the Kowree River the rebels were reported to be) in a north-westwardly direction, leaving Pudnaha on my right; this led me through a track of dense forest and over very difficult ground; but with the assistance of bildars to prepare the way for the guns, all obstacles were overcome, and I succeeded in reaching the left bank of the Gurwa River on the 25th instant at 8 A.M., having left my last encampment at 3 A.M.

I here ascertained that the enemy, in perfect ignorance of our approach, were assembled between the Gurwa and Kowreealla Rivers, and my object, as I have previously stated, was to prevent them from breaking to the southward, I detached a body of cavalry to the only ford in that direction by which they could cross, and passed the Gurwa with my force, and so disposed it as to cover as much ground as possible with the purpose of driving the enemy into the apex of the triangle formed by the two rivers.

The main body of the cavalry were moved com-patrolling between this and Khulkaloo Ghat on the right bank of the Raptée, we heard of a party of rebels (said to be 200 in number), located about eight miles to the west of my camp. On receiving this information, about 12 noon, a party, 100 of Her Majesty's 53rd, 200 1st Sikh Regiment of Seikhs, and the cavalry present in the neighbourhood were at once got ready, and we went in pursuit. We came upon them on the edge of the Naugahat jungle, when in the course of a pursuit of about five miles, 14 of the rebels were overtaken and shot.

My party entered the jungle in skirmish order, but from its denseness, and the difficulty of passing through it, owing to the great quantity of thorny underwood, the skirmishers soon broke up into detached and independent parties.

I am informed by Mr. R. M. King, of the Civil Service, that these rebels, who are straggling parties of Gujadar Sing's Force, have made a retreat toward the westward. Another party of some 250 went off last night from near Khulkaloo Ghat to the Chitral jungles.

I am much indebted to Mr. King for the information he has given with regard to the movements of the rebels, and his personal assistance in accompanying me during my recent tours.

My best thanks are due to all who accompanied me, (the fatigues of the day being great, and the distance marched not less than 17 or 18 miles), but more especially to Captain Cox, Lieutenant Eyre, my Detachment Staff, and Ensign Hill of Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, and also Subadar Mirza Hydur Ally, of the 1st Regiment Sikh Infantry, on whom the brunt of the pursuit fell.

Camp Balapore Tal,

SIR,

May 5, 1859

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Brigadier A. Horsford, C.B., that having heard on the 2nd instant from Mr. Assistant Commissioner King, that a body of rebels were in the jungle, east of Bhinga, I crossed Raptee, at Kukra Ghat, on the following morning and proceeded through the jungle, in the direction of Musha, encamping about four miles south-west of that place at 11 A.M.

Here, while pitching my camp, I was informed that some of the enemy's videttes had been seen on the edge of the jungle. I immediately sent spies to bring correct information of their position, but the men did not return till between four and five o'clock, P.M., and their only information was, that they had all gone westward through the jungle. On learning this, I directed Captain Grant, Commandant 1st Regiment Hodson's Horse, to send out a small patrol, and to follow him with the rest of the cavalry, and watch the movement of the enemy during the night.

Lieutenant Anderson (Brigade-Major to Hodson's Horse), the officer in command of the patrol, came upon the rebels, 300 in number, about five miles from the camp, and was received by a volley of musketry. As the patrol had no fire-arms, and were a small party, they returned to camp. On the morning of the 4th I started in pursuit, and followed them with the column as far as Balapore Tal, where I was informed they had taken to

I have to thank Captain Walter, commanding the left wing, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, who accompanied me on this occasion, leading the column in the latter part of the evening. Lieutenant Bell and Dr. Ashton, of the 53rd, and Lieutenant Unwin, 1st Sikh Infantry, also accompanied me.

I beg especially to bring to the notice of the Brigadier commanding, the services of Captain Grant.

This officer, though already having been sixteen hours in the saddle, volunteered to serve on this expedition, and point out the position of the rebels whom he had traced on the previous day to the foot of the pass.

Also Lieutenant Eyre, Her Majesty's 53rd Regiment, my Detachment Staff, whose exertions on this occasion were most praiseworthy.

I have again to thank Mr. R. M. King, Assistant Commissioner, who was forward in the business, and acted as my extra orderly. Amongst the native force, I beg particularly mention Lall Singh, 1st Sepoy, Grenadier Company, and Mahomed Ally Havildar, and Buksh Sepoy, both of Light Company. These three men, all of 1st Sikh Infantry, were first to attack and attacked the picket.

Having sent directions for provisions to be forwarded to the foot of the range of hills, I marched on the following morning by the same route which I had traversed the previous day to my camp at Balapoor, which I reached at 10 A.M.

It being moon pitch dark, and none of us being in the acquainted with the country, I decided on asking where I was until daylight, and so express off to you at once, acquainting you with the intelligence I had received concerning the position of the enemy. During the night picquets captured all who approached. Most of them were villagers running away from the enemy, and these I discharged in the morning, one man however confessed himself to belong to the rebel ranks, and as he had a British officer's regulation sword in his possession I directed him to be disposed of at once.

At the dawn of day, we started at once, and found traces of the enemy at Balapoor. Advancing rapidly at a trot, we must have entered the jungle in our front shortly after the sun was done so. Here, however, as we afterwards ascertained, they had turned off to the north-eastwards Kalapoorwah, whilst we crossed the plain and proceeded straight on Bhojpoor; my intention being to get to the end of the jungles before they did, and either to prevent them advancing on the plain or to cut them up if they did so. At Bhojpoor, where both belts of jungle meet, and at the end, we could hear no accounts of the enemy, but seeing a very suspicious looking body of men, consisting of about 30 sowars and 140 foot on the plain, they retreated precipitately at our approach, we then gave chase and pursued them to Muttea before we discovered that they were a body of Jezailchees, or police sowars who had been invited to co-operate with us from Kulkulla.

Taking our new friends with us, and having run the scent of our proper enemies, through the north-east belt of jungle, close as we could to the foot of the mountain, passed two tracks leading towards Koronia Sota, at both of which I left a picquet at length on arriving near Gigelee, the rebels, whose numbers were varied from 1000 to 2000, had unblocked the road to the Sonar Valley, and the Dundua Mountain by the Pass of Koronia, the main path towards which we travelled nearly at the back (or north-west) of the village of Gigelee. With this information I ordered to camp, then moved to Chik-ke, leaving the picquets I had placed still at Bhojpoor, and one at each of two passes leading to the Pass of Koronia Sota.

In so doing the 8th took five guns, down the gunners, the Ranees of Jhansi lost her life in the melée. All this took place under heavy fire from the guns of the fort, and several field guns in position round the town from which was opened a converging fire on the squadron.

During the charge, Colonel Raines, of Majesty's 95th Regiment, brought up a portion of his regiment and took up a position on the flank of Lieutenant LeCocq's division of guns, having sent him an order to that effect by Goldsworthy, 8th Hussars.

I shall next record the statement of Captain Heneage who commanded the squadron, and some evidences collected by him as to the particulars and details."

Statement and evidences collected by Captain Heneage.

Captain Heneage's squadron of 8th Hussars was ordered by Brigadier Smith to attack about 200 or 300 of the enemy's cavalry who were firing our guns. They advanced out of the town in file and formed line at a gallop. After firing some 300 yards they were ordered to charge which they did and were upon the enemy at the moment, many of whom were cut down, and the rest fled towards the town; the ground here was very rough and intersected with small stones, about one-third of the squadron was obliged to diverge to the right, under Lieutenant Heneage, the remainder, under Captain Heneage, with Captain Poore and Lieutenant Reiley, going straight to the left, and continuing the attack came t of the enemy's camp, where they cutting down the gunners, and coming to the camp of the enemy's troops, and firing from the guns of the fort, and guns on the right and left. After passing the camp, and crossing the road to Moorar, the squadron came upon the enemy's cavalry and infantry, a large mass, who were trying to escape into the fort. Many of them made a stand, but the 8th never slackened their pace, and, in the midst of them, cut them down. The Ranee of Jhansi being amongst the slain were taken here.

The ground over which the fighting had been made being now completely cleared of the enemy, Captain Heneage withdrew at an easy pace, and was shortly followed by a detachment under Lieutenant Hardcastle, who had charged through the right of the 8th, cutting down many of the enemy's gunners, and had taken 4 guns. Lieutenant Hardcastle was shot at by a dismounted sowar, who was killed, but the shot struck his charger in the side, and completely destroyed it. He was attacked and killed by two of the enemy's infantry, who were also shot down and killed.

Captain Heneage, then halted and reformed his regiment in front of the supports of artillery, and the infantry, which had meanwhile come up. He then ordered by Brigadier Smith, to form in single rank in order to show a

The squadron of the 8th being then formed in line on the right flank of artillery and the squadron of lancers in second line were ordered in order to secure the enemy's flank, so that Captain Heneage was obliged to relinquish the command of the squadron, in sequence of the heat of the sun and great exertion. Captain Poore assumed the command, remained with the squadron until the guns were brought away.

Colonel Hicks, of the Bombay Artillery, charged with the squadron through the ca. Lieutenant Reily upon the return of the squadron from the charge, was obliged to dismount from his horse and died almost immediately from the effects of the sun and exhaustion. Assistant-Surgeon Sherlock charged with the squadron, was wounded by a musket ball in the shoulder, he was nevertheless active in affording his assistance when required.

Cornet Goldsworthy was on my left, and in front of the squadron, when preparing to charge and was about to charge with them, when I in consequence of the very great necessity of having support up quick, ordered him to go back and bring up the horse artillery and infantry, to a point which I had pointed out to him, which he did; this officer gave me much assistance, both on the 18th and 19th, in carrying my orders and other matters.

Several of the enemy's guns remained in our possession after the charge, but from want of horses and exhaustion of men, only two could be got away, and it was only through the exertions and skill of Lieutenant Le Cocq, and the men of his division (the right division of the 3rd brigade under the personal superintendence of Lieutenant Colonel Blake) that this could be effected.

One of the enemy's guns had a limber and a pair of wheel horses. The broken harness was lashed up in the best way circumstances would admit of, and a leading pair of our own horses hooked to the gun was sent to the rear; the wheel horses were got to move with great difficulty, being completely done up, and one severely wounded.

While the infantry skirmishers were feeling their way through the Pass leading to Gwalior, the progress was checked for a time by the fire of one or three guns, which the enemy had brought into the Pass. Lieutenant-Colonel Blake then proposed taking a division of his guns on the heights on our right, which was accordingly done, and the result was most successful; by firing at a low elevation, round shot and shrapnel were dropped on the enemy's guns near, obliging them to retire precipitately to another position, and thus advancing and coming into action on the occasion of their making a stand, they were at length fairly driven out of the Pass, which was thus made clear for the advance of our forces.

These preliminary arrangements were speedily effected, and we at once moved over the brow of the rise to the attack.

The enemy gave us a heavy volley of musketry as we showed ourselves over the intervening ridge, and then, not liking the confident rush nor the wild joyous shouts of our men, they commenced a rapid retreat, but at first in good order, towards Sonar.

The pursuit was at once pressed with all speed, and many of the rebels soon sought protection in the intricate nullahs to the right and left. They were, however, everywhere followed up by parties of our infantry and destroyed in all directions. In one small ravine on the right no less than 100 rebels were killed. At the same time the central pursuit was carried on with unremitting vigour, all ranks vying with each other to overtake the flying enemy. On this central path alone were counted 44 dead rebels, and the slaughter was very heavy on our left.

After continuing the pursuit for three miles over the most difficult ground, I found that the enemy was utterly dispersed; and, as the heat and their exertions were telling on our men, and we were getting farther and farther from water, I stopped the pursuit. You will be glad to know that our losses consisted of but 1 man killed and 2 wounded, while I can safely put down the enemy's loss at certainly over 80, and the general impression is that this would be nearer the mark.

After giving the men a short rest in the wania Sotz, I marched back to Khoodawah, where the men ate their dinners.

I HAVE the honour to transmit, for submission to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, accompanying report, dated Camp Bhanpore, 27th ultimo, from Major J. Murray, commanding Jât Horse, and the troops at Doomureeagunge, the River Raptée.

2. From the information I had received, I apprehensive that the rebels would push from the borders of Oude, eastward, between Doomureeagunge and Bhanpore Thannah. I therefore immediately ordered Major Murray, with a detachment from Lotun, to move and take post at Doomureeagunge, where he arrived on the 24th April, and I reinforced him with a party of 100 men of the 9th and 20th Punjaub Infantry from Bussorah and on the 26th idem Major Murray came across the body of rebels, some 1,500 strong, still called the Nusseerabad Brigade, and though they were v in numbers, he immediately most gallantly attacked them, defeating and routing them with considerable loss, driving them westward, to the west of Oude, over the Koanee river, as stated in his report.

I would beg to recommend to the particular notice of his Excellency Lord Clyde, the zeal, courage and steadiness of the officers and men who were under the immediate command of Major J. J. Murray.

I now moved on to Durriapore, where I was fortunately reinforced with the detachments as per margin,* from Bustee. Here I intended halting until I could learn something of Captain Rennell's movements.

At 1 o'clock, my videttes reported that rebels had crossed the Khoanee Nuddee, and were marching down in great numbers on my camp. I at once advanced and found them drawn up in a very formidable position, their centre division in the village, supported by a column of infantry in rear at least 1000 strong, with divisions of cavalry and infantry about 300 yards on either flank, and a dense jungle immediately in their rear and flank. The whole under the command of Gunga Singh and Dabee Deen. The infantry were dressed in Khakee, and manœuvred with much precision, throwing out skirmishers, &c.

After reconnoitring, I feigned a retreat, in the hope of drawing them away from the jungle, to enable my cavalry to act, but this movement not having the desired effect, I determined upon an attack, and formed the infantry into two divisions covered by a line of skirmishers, with cavalry on either flank and 25 sabres in reserve.

The enemy opened a heavy fire from their three divisions as I advanced, and at the same time made a bold attempt to turn my right flank, which was promptly checked by the cavalry under Ensign Hennessy. When within 50 yards of the village the skirmishers, gallantly led by Lieutenant Sadli of the 20th Punjab Infantry, carried the place with a rush, on which a panic seized the main body, who fled precipitately into the jungle. Their right division was at the same time dispersed by the cavalry and a company of infantry on our left.

No. 849 of 1859.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General and Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Brigadier Rowcroft, commanding the troops in the Goruckpore District, forwarding a report from Major Murray on a gallant and successful action with a party of rebels near Doomureeagunge, on the 29th May 1859.

No. 37.

Brigadier F. Rowcroft, Commanding Goruckpore District, to Major H. W. Norman, Officiating Adjutant-General of the Army, Army Headquarters.

Goruckpore, May 14, 1859.

SIR,

No. 307.

I HAVE the honour to transmit, for submission to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the accompanying report, dated Camp Doomureeagunge, the 3rd instant, from Major J. J. Murray, commanding the troops at that post, relating to a gallant and successful skirmish with a party of rebels.

Subadar Narain Singh and 50 men of Military Sikh Police Battalion, and four of the Regiment of Jât Horse, on the 29th near Doomureeagunge.

I beg respectfully to bring to the particular notice of his Excellency Lord Clyde, the strong recommendation of Major Murray, of the zealous and good conduct of Subadar Narain Singh, of the Military Police Battalion, and Sowar Kullian Singh, of the Regiment of Jât Horse, and also of Havildar Nadan of the Military Police Battalion, for such consideration and favour as his Excellency may consider proper to be conferred on them.

No. 44.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Brigadier Rowcroft, C.B., that, on the 29th inst., when my force was encamped at Doomureeagunge, Subadar Narain Singh, commanding the Military Police at this place, received information that a party of rebels were crossing the river at Gowra Ghat, six miles east of this. I at once started with 50 Military Police (all Sikhs) and 4 sowars of my regiment, and went on ahead with the sowars caught up the rebels in number, mostly armed with muskets, for the Sunkurpore jungle. The Subadar followed, and, in a measure, kept them in with the sowars, when, fortunately, the in came up, and a skirmish ensued, which re in the death of 10 rebels. The rest man escape into the jungle.

A Sikh had his arm fractured with a shot, and a sowar, Kullian Singh by name, 4th troop of my regiment, who was on duty near the jungle, on seeing the rebels charged them single-handed, and, I regret was shot in the head, his horse being also wounded. He is in a very precarious state, but, having so long, may possibly recover. I feel it my to bring him to the Brigadier's notice, as su act of bravery appears to me to be deserving the Order of Merit. The Subadar also r favourably of Nadan Sing Naick, who killed men. The Subadar deserves much praise. I believe this is not the first occasion of his distinguished himself since he came here. frequently called upon the rebels to throw their arms and be pardoned, but they replied "they would sooner die."

They had come from the neighbourhood of Towleewa, intending to join the Nusseer Brigade.

Nana, Bala Rao, and Mummoo Khan from the north-east of Oude, I broke

I there received information that the Nan Bala Rao, with 2 guns and 2000 men were at the mouth of the Pass; and Mummoo Khan with 500 followers a little to the west, on the level ground where I met Bala Rao's force on the 1st of January last.

I therefore ordered the cavalry and artillery to encamp, and sent Colonel Brasyer with the 1st of the regiment of Ferozepore against Mummoo Khan's party, whilst I myself moved on to the Jerwah Pass, with the 7th Punjaub Infantry. The rebel infantry I found occupying the summit of the mountain stretching into the jungle, on the left side of the mouth of the Pass, whilst their guns, which were thus completely protected, opened fire from the gorge of the Pass.

I therefore sent a company of the Sikhs, under Lieutenants Gordon and Lewes, to climb the hills to the left, and drive away their infantry from their right flank; this detachment advanced accordingly, driving back the rebels until they reached the summit of the ridge.

The remainder of the regiment, under Colonel Stafford, cleared the right, but owing to the extreme heat, and the troops having marched about 20 miles, we were unable to inflict

THE ENGLISH force halted at Goonah, waiting the final instructions of Brigadier-General Sir Robert Na-K.C.B., regarding my return to Agra, and the honour to report, for the information of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, that I received reliable information that a party of under Feroze Shah and three local chiefs, in the village of Patun, about fifty miles moved off with my force at 4 P.M. the same day, and reached Kuchnar Serace, thirty miles the next morning. During the afternoon the intelligence I had previously received of the position of the rebels was confirmed. I divided my force into three columns.

The first column, under Lieutenant-Colonel Custance, C.B., 6th Dragoon Guards, was directed to move on to Billaikhera, a village in the jungle, and one of the strongholds of the rebels.

The second, under Lieutenant-Colonel Sawyer, 6th Dragoon Guards, with the camp and baggage, remained at Billaikhera.

I went myself with the third, the force in the margin,* to Patun.

The village is situated at the foot of a range of hills, and on three sides is surrounded by it.

Strength of the rebels: 1 sergeant, 1 corporal, 12 privates, 6th Dragoon Guards;
1 squadron 4th Sikh Cavalry. Camel Corps.—2 field
2 subalterns, 80 rank and file, Rifle Brigade;
1000 men, 20 sepoys, Sikh.

Gurhpara is about five miles to the south and Billakhera six miles to the west. On going to Patun I found the rebels had left. One man belonging to the village informed me that they had gone to Muthanuh, three miles distant and situated deeper in the jungles. As the inhabitants of Patun were known to be in favor of the rebels, I rejected his intelligence, but I remained on remaining at the village to make enquiries.

4. I had directed the men to carry only cooked provisions in their haversacks; I had planned, if I should find the rebels at Patun, to drive them on to my columns at Gurhpara and Billakhera, and expected to rest at night at the latter place. I had therefore neither been cooking things with me, and the rebels, who were really at Muthanuh, thinking from the appearance of an encampment, my force was a party of Gwalior troops, assembled on one of the hills to attack us.

5. The men were well dressed, and they moved down in skirmishing order with so much regularity that I was at first doubtful whether they did not belong to another British force who had mistaken us for rebels.

6. When I was satisfied they were rebels, I directed a party, under Brevet-Major Nixon, of the Rifle Brigade, Camel Corps, to move forward through a gorge in the hills, and then to turn up and attack them. At the same time a party of the 4th Sikh Cavalry, under Lieutenant-Colonel commanding that corps, was ordered to move round the hill to take the rebels in rear, and a party, under Major Nixon, should have been sent to drive them back.

7. As it was possible the rebels' skirmish might have been supported by a strong force behind the hill, I directed Lieutenant-of the Rifle Brigade, commanding the Camel Corps to proceed, with the remainder of his men, in support of Major Nixon, while I went, with the rest of the cavalry, up the brow of the hill, to the north, in the hope of coming up with a party of the rebels who had disappeared in that direction. Major Nixon, however, with his riflemen and Camel Corps, did his work so rapidly, that nothing was left for the supports to do. On my reaching the top of the hill not a rebel was in sight. They had disappeared among the thick jungle, and left no signs by which I could judge of the direction they had taken. I was therefore obliged to give up the pursuit and wait for further information.

I beg to enclose copies of the reports of Major Nixon, Camel Corps, and Lieutenant Fane, commanding 4th Sikh Cavalry; and I have to express my admiration for the activity and perseverance with which the attack was made, and the pursuit kept up by these officers, and the officers and men under their command. I have also to bring to the notice of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief the alacrity and steadiness with which all my little force moved forward in the pursuit of coming up with the rebels.

I have, &c.,

Commanding Agra and Muttra Districts.

Camp Utaikhera,

April 18, 1859.

On the 16th instant Brigadier Showers, having detached me with a troop of my regiment, to beat up the jungles at the foot of the hills which the enemy were posted, near Patun, the honour to report that, having no guides I had got half a mile from the village, the jungle and scrub so impeded my advance I turned to the left and advanced up the spur of the hill on which the enemy were first seen.

By this time Captain Nixon, with the 1st Battalion, had crowned the heights on my left, driving the skirmishers across the valley below, and the horsemen of the party were seen going off to gallop on the opposite side of a deep nullah.

I followed immediately, but on account of the dense jungle, only succeeded in capturing six ponies, and seven camp followers, (one of whom was said to be a Sepoy). The main body afterwards heard had broken into two parts, the mounted men flying along the foot of the hills and the footmen up the ravine to the left.

The whole country was a mass of heavy jungle, but Kote Duffadar Hurree Sing, whom I had attached with four Sowars, to beat up a party, came across two of the fugitives, sabred one and shot the other. As one of the captured camp followers reported to me that the rebels had camped the night before at a village called Chame, I went there and found traces of them having been there very recently. In fact, from the marks, I should say they left only to attack at Patun.

They retreated very through the jungle to the south-east, when to the exceeding thickness of the jungle, sight of them, but continued to advance with skirmishers so as to support Captain Fane was pursuing with the 4th Sikh Cavalry, my assistance should be required.

After proceeding at a fast pace for three I came up with Captain Fane's force; and enemy having disappeared, and there being traces through the jungle by which they be pursued, I returned with the skirmish camp. The supports coming in half an afterwards.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of SEPTEMBER 1859.

Admiralty, September 16, 1859.

A DESPATCH, of which the following copy, has been received by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty from Rear-Admiral

B., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's and Vessels on the East India and China

Chesapeake, Gulf of Pechili,
July 5, 1859.

QUEST you will inform the Lords Com-rs of the Admiralty, that having on the imo, arrived off the Island of Sha-lui-tien, Gulf of Pechili, where I reported in my
No. 66, of the 11th ultimo, the squadron n directed to rendezvous, I proceeded on owing day to the mouth of the Pei-Ho with the object of intimating to the local ies the intended arrival of the Honourable ek Bruce, Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary vay Extraordinary, and Monsieur de alon, Minister of His Imperial Majesty the r of the French, and of reconnoitring the state of the defences of the river.
ese last appeared to consist principally of struction, in earth, and in an improved the works destroyed last year, strengthened tional ditches and abattis, as well as an d number of booms of a very much more ble nature, a description of all of which found on the annexed plan, furnished by Fisher of the Royal Engineers. Very few ere seen, but a considerable number of ures were masked with matting, evidently view of concealing others.
aving sent an officer on shore to communi-th the authorities, he was met by a guard, tly of country people, who prevented him nding, informed him that there were no nearer than Tient-sin, and on his acquaint-m with my wish that the obstructions at outh of the river should be removed, in o enable the ministers to proceed to Tient-

sin, a promise was given that a commencement should be made for this purpose within the next forty-eight hours.

On the following day I moved the whole of the squadron up to the anchorage off the mouth of the river, placing the gun-boats inside the bar. I proceeded to examine the entrance, on the 20th, and finding that nothing had been done towards removing the obstructions before referred to, I addressed a letter to the Tantai, at Tient-sin, acquainting him with the object of my arrival, and requesting free communication with the shore. To this an evasive answer was received two days subsequently.

On the 21st I received a letter from Mr. Bruce acquainting me that M. de Bourboulon and himself had come to the conclusion to place the matter in my hands, and requesting me to take such measures I might deem expedient for clearing away the obstructions in the river, so as to allow them to proceed at once to Tient-sin; in consequence of which I acquainted the Tantai, that the Minister, having arrived, and the obstructions still existing at the mouth of the river, I should proceed to remove them, using force if necessary, the responsibility of the consequences resting with those to whom I might be opposed. To this communication no reply was received, and consequently, on the 24th I took the force inside the bar to prepare for operations, and gave further intimation that after eight o'clock in the evening, if I received no satisfactory reply I should feel myself at liberty to take my own course.

6. On the same night the parties named in the margin, * under the direction of Captain G.

* Chesapeake.—Lieutenant J. C. Wilson, Mr. S. Broom, gunner, and 6 seamen. Magicienne—Mr. F. Egerton, acting mate, and 6 seamen. Cruiser—Mr. Hartland, boatswain, and 6 seamen.

, cut one of the cables of the boom, marked the plan, and blew two away with powder. Last, however, were found re-united on the following day, the supporting logs of wood to which were cross-lashed being probably moored head and stern. Captain Willes availed himself of the opportunity to examine closely the construction of the inner boom (plan E), and he found it consisted of large baulks, well cross-lashed together, forming a mass of timber not less than 120 feet long and about 3 feet in depth. The opening in the plan might have admitted of the passage of a gun-boat, but the strength of the construction would, at any time, have rendered such a passage a matter of exceeding difficulty and doubt. Under these circumstances it was clear that no other mode of attack was left open to me, except an assault on the front of the works, and a subsequent endeavour to carry them by storm, should I succeed in silencing their fire.

The morning of the 25th was occupied in bringing the vessels in position (see plan), the Janus, Janus, Plover (Flag) Cormorant, Lee, Porpoise, and Banterer, being on a line parallel to the works on the South Fort, and the Nimrod in rear of the line, with her fire bearing on the North Fort. The Opossum, under Captain Willes, was placed in advance, close up to the Stakes and Forester, and Haughty in reserve, in rear of the line, the former having directions to move up to the Plover's position, should that vessel advance in support of the Opossum.

The vessels on the right were under the direction of Captain C. F. A. Shadwell; those on the left under Captain N. Vansittart. The strength of the position and the narrowness of the channel (about 100 yards) had rendered it a matter of extreme difficulty to take up the position above detailed; and the Banterer and Starling, the vessels on the extreme right and left of the line, had both taken the ground, the former, however, in a good position, the latter in one which incapacitated her from taking much share in the action.

At 2 P.M., I directed the Opossum to open a passage through the first barrier, which being effected by 2.30, she moved up to the second barrier, supported by the Plover, closely followed by the Lee and Haughty, which vessels I ordered in for that purpose.

On the arrival of the Opossum at the second barrier, the forts opened a simultaneous fire not less than between thirty and forty guns, calibres from 32-pounders to 8-inch, on which I directed the ships to engage. The Plover took up a position close to the barrier. The Opossum, Lee, and Haughty, in succession, astern of her.

At 3 P.M.,* finding that the ships inside the barrier, especially the Plover and Opossum, were becoming disabled by the enemy's fire, they were dropped out into fresh positions outside of it where, having received assistance in men, they renewed the action.

In consequence of the Plover's disabled state I shifted my flag to the Cormorant; and at 4.20 a severe wound I had received about an hour previously compelled me to call Captain Shadwell on board the Cormorant, and entrust to him the more immediate command of the squadron.

At 5.40 the Kestrel sunk in her position; and it became necessary to put the Lee on the ground to avoid the like result.

At 6.30 the fire from the north forts ceased altogether, and half an hour later that on the south.

* At this time, Lieutenant Rason, of the Plover, was killed, and I placed Lieutenant George A. Douglas, up Flag Lieutenant, in temporary command of her.

was silenced, with the exception of that pointing from one gun in the outer or south bastion in the curtain on each side of it, and one on the flank of the centre bastion, also one in the ditch fort to the south.

At 7.20 a landing was effected opposite the bastion of the south fort, the portion which was most injured by the fire of the squadron, where the attack could be best supported by the guns of the vessels. The force consisted of a detachment of Sappers and Miners, under Major G. R. Royal Engineers; a brigade of Marines, under Colonel Thomas Lemon; a division of Infantry, under Captain Vansittart, assisted by Commanders John E. Commerell and W. A. J. G. J., the whole under Captain Shadwell's command, accompanied by a small detachment of Royal Marines, under the command of Commandant Tricault.

They were encountered by a heavy fire pointing from those guns I have already named as completely silenced, as well as from gingalls and rifles; but notwithstanding these and other obstacles presented by the character of the ground to be crossed, and the nature of the opposition, 150 officers and men having reached the ditch, and about 50 having arrived close to the walls, had the opposition they expected been that usual in Chinese warfare, there is no doubt that the place would have been successfully carried at the point of the bayonet.

Captains Shadwell and Vansittart and Colonel G. R., R.M., having been disabled in the advance, command in front devolved on Commander Commerell, who, after consultation with Majors G. R. E., and Richard Parke, R.M., and Commandant Tricault, having reported to Captain Shadwell that they could hold their present position, but that it was impossible to stop without reinforcements, received from that office the order to retire.

17. This operation was effected with a deliberation and coolness equal to the gallantry of the advance, under cover of the night, which had not closed in, the force being sent down to the boats by detachments, carrying the wounded with them, and eventually the whole were brought off by 1-2 A.M., of the 26th, Commanders Commerell and Heath being the last on shore.

18. I have already stated that the Lee and Kestrel had sunk in their positions from the effect of the enemy's fire; and I regret to add, that proceeding down the river after the termination of the action, the Plover was grounded within range of the forts, and the Cormorant in endeavouring to remove, was also found to have taken the ground. Under these circumstances desired the officers and men to be removed from them for the time, in order to obviate the loss which might occur, should the enemy be enabled to reopen their fire.

19. The Kestrel, I am happy to say, has since been recovered; but notwithstanding every exertion which was subsequently made, under the direction of Captain Willes, to recover the three other vessels, the Plover and Lee proved to be so hopelessly aground, that it was impossible to move them; while the Cormorant, which remained afloat comparatively uninjured on the night of the 27th, was again unfortunately grounded, within range of the forts, on moving down; and on the following day such a heavy fire was opened upon her, that although again afloat, she sank at her anchors, and the officers and men employed in removing her were withdrawn as she went down.

20. The fire of the enemy being remarkable directed and sustained, occasioned the dron considerable loss, amounting to 25 ers and men killed, and 93 wounded, of which re slight. Among the former I have to regret loss of Lieutenant W. H. Rason, commanding Plover, a very promising young officer, and ain Theo. M'Kenna of the 1st Royals, who attached to me by the Major-General com-ding the Forces in China.

. In the subsequent attack on shore 64
 ers and men were killed, and 252 wounded, hich 90 are slight. Amongst the former I e to regret the loss of Lieutenant A. Graves of Assistance, Lieutenant C. H. Clutterbuck,
 Mr. T. H. Herbert, Midshipman, both of this
 ; of Lieutenant Hamilton Wolrige of the al Marine Brigade, and Lieutenant H. L. T. ia, Royal Marines, of the Highflyer, attached

ain Shadwell, C.B., of Her Majesty's ship ighflyer.

ain Vansittart, C.B., of Her Majesty's ship agicienne.

ng Lieutenant C. E. Buckle, of Her Majesty's ip Magicienne.

A. J. Burniston, Master of the Banterer.

N. B. Smith Acting Mate of the Chesapeake.

A. Powlett, Midshipman of the Fury.

George Armytage, Midshipman of Cruiser.

W. Ryan, Gunner of the Plover.

tenant George Longley, Royal Engineers.

nel Lemon, Royal Marines.

 Majesty's ship Chesapeake.

tenant J. C. Crawford, Royal Marine Artil-

H. Huleatt, Chaplain to the Forces.

22. The loss on the part of the K amounted to 4 men killed and 10 wounded, including 2 officers, one of the latter, I regret to state, being Commandant Tricault.

23. My warmest thanks are due to Surgeon Walter Dickson (b), of this ship, Dr. Little of the Royal Marine Brigade, and the medical officers of the force generally, to whose unwearied exertions I have to attribute the present satisfactory state of our wounded, and I avail myself of this opportunity of bringing under their Lordships' special notice the very high terms in which Colonel Lemon speaks of the services of Dr. W. J. Dickson, senior Assistant-Surgeon of the Brigade.

24. It is a more grateful duty to request that I will bring under their Lordships' notice the valuable assistance I received from Captain Shadwell and Vansittart, in command of the respective divisions of gun-boats. Lieutenant John Jenkins is highly recommended by Captain Shadwell for the way in which he fought the Banterer.

Captain Vansittart speaks highly of Lieutenant Commander R. J. Wynniatt of the Nimrod, Lieutenant A. J. Innes of the Forester, Lieutenant J. D. Bevan of the Kestrel, and Lieutenant H. Jones of the Lee, whose able conduct in directing the landing, after he had been obliged to run his vessel on the ground to prevent her sinking, had also attracted my notice.

To Commander A. Wodehouse of the Commodore, Lieutenant C. J. Balfour of the Opal, Lieutenant J. D. Broad of the Haughty, and H. P. Broad of the Janus, my thanks are also due for the manner in which their vessels were fought and handled.

My thanks are also due to Major Fisher, Major Engineers, whose men being distributed as the gun-vessels and gun-boats, was himself on board the Plover.

Nozagavy, French gun-boat, not being in a manner which enabled her to share in the attack, Monsieur Tricault, Commandant of the Plover, did me the honour to attach himself to the Plover from the commencement of the action until the end.

J. W. M. Ashby, my Secretary, besides his duty with me, took charge of the signal when my Flag Lieutenant took command of the Plover.

Commander J. E. Commerell and W. A. J. for their conduct during the operations on the 1st of May, my warmest acknowledgments are due. Under Commander Commerell brings under my notice Messrs. George Parsons and John C. Wilson, Chesapeake, and C. E. Buckle, Acting, of the Plover, Messrs. George S. Peard, John and Viscount Kilcoursie, Mates, and George Armytage and C. L. Oxley, Gunners.

Colonel Lemon my warmest acknowledgments are also due for the way in which he led the Plover. That officer strongly recommends Mr. Clarke, who commanded the First, and Captain Masters, who commanded the Second Battalion, and brings under my notice the assistance, received from Captain P. M. C. Croker, Serjeant-Major, Lieutenant L. Rokeby, acting as Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenants and Adjutants Messrs. Hawkey and H. L. Evans, and Lieutenant John Straghan. The conspicuous gallantry of Serjeant-Major Woon and Quarter-Serjeant Halling also attracted his notice. Mr. Fisher, Royal Engineers, speaks highly of the gallantry of Lieutenant J. N. Maitland,

R.E., in endeavouring to get the scaling-lad up, a service in which Lieutenant Longley, R.N., was also engaged and unfortunately wounded.

To Captain J. O. Willes my warmest thanks are due for his exertions in re-embarking the force when it became evident that the attack failed, on which service he remained till Commander Commerell reported to him that the man was re-embarked.

He speaks highly of Lieutenant J. C. Wilson and M. John St. John Wagstaffe, Assistant-Engineer, on that occasion (the latter of whom accompanied him throughout the day). Captain Willes also devolved the arduous duty of directing the gallant attempts which were subsequently made to recover the Plover, Lee, and Cormorant, and when that became hopeless, to effect their destruction, and to his unwearied labours. I am indebted for carrying out the repairs of the gun-boats, all of which have been placed on shore for that purpose.

He speaks highly of all the officers and men employed on this service, and especially of the gallantry of Lieutenant N. P. Knevitt, of the Jamaica, in laying out an anchor for the recovery of the Cormorant, under a heavy fire, and of that of Oscar Samson, Second Master of the Star of the West, who recovered that vessel under a sharp fire from the enemy, on her floating; of the efforts made by Lieutenant Wilson and Mr. S. R. Broome, Gunner of the Chesapeake, to destroy the vessels which were no longer recoverable; and of the energy displayed by Mr. W. D. Strong, Master of the Cruiser, in raising the Haughty, which had sunk.

He further calls my attention to the exertions of the carpenters of the Assistance, Cruiser, and Magicienne, under the direction of Mr. R. Pickers ship, who in effecting the repairs of the ats, with the artificers of the squadron, had difficulties to surmount.

on what has preceded their lordships will l able to appreciate the devoted gallantry ed by the officers and men on this occasion ; hough it has not pleased God to crown our in the execution of our duty with success, eel entire confidence that those efforts will from their Lordships that full measure of ation they have so well deserved.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) J. HOPE,

Rear-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

Secretary of the Admiralty.

FROM THE
 1859.

India Office, September 26, 1859.

THE Secretary of State for India in Council has received the following papers :

No. 1.

Extract of a Military Letter from the Commandant of India to the Secretary of State for India.

No. 114, dated August 8, 1859.

Paragraph 14. We have the honour to forward for your Lordship's information, the accompanying copy of a letter from the officer commanding the Saugor Field Force, submitting the report of an encounter on the 2nd of January, 1859, with the rebels at Kurrereah, by a Field Detachment under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Gottreux of the 1st Madras Native Infantry.

No. 2.

Major-General G. C. Whitlock, commanding the Saugor Field Division, to the Chief of the Staff.

*Dated, Camp Kerwie,

SIR,

No. 49.

THE accompanying report which has just reached me of an encounter with the rebels by a Field Detachment under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Gottreux, of the 1st Madras

y, I have the honour to submit for the tion of the Right Honourable the Com-
 -in-chief, and am gratified to find that all ted themselves so much to the satisfaction commander on the occasion ; and I beg to he names of the officers mentioned by Lieu-Colonel Gottreux to the favourable notice Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief; ant Osborne, Political Agent of Rewah, Deputy, Mr. Coles, have by their inforof the position of the rebels, materially uted to their defeat.

pecial report will be made by me without on the gallant conduct of Private Addison, Majesty's 43rd Regiment.

I have, &c.

G. C. WHITLOCK.

No. 3.

ant-Colonel F. Gottreux, commanding Field chment, to the Assistant Adjutant-General, or Field Division.

*Dated, Camp near Kerwie,
 January 15, 1859.*

DER instructions received when in camp ghuttee, on the 1st instant, to proceed in ad of a party to look up a body of muti-ho were in the hills, near the village of ngah, I have the honour to report for the tion of Major-General Whitlock, com-g Sangor Field Division, that I left camp ter past five P.M., on that day, with ops detailed in the margin* for that al Artillery, 2 mortars, 11 men ; H.M.'s 43rd Light 30 men ; 1st Madras Native Infantry, 50 men ; wars, 10 men ; Rewah Sowars, 17 men ; Nagoda 3 men ; Rewah Infantry, 10 men ; Nagoda Match-men ; total 226.

2. Having marched until half an hour after midnight, we reached an open plateau in the hills situated about three miles from Surbhunga where we bivouacked for the remainder of the night. A spy of Mr. Cole's came up, and reported that the fellows we were in search of had shifted their camp, and were then about three miles from us, in some dense jungle in the neighbourhood of Kurrereah; the head man of that village arrived shortly afterwards, confirming the report, and as he was acquainted with the enemy's locality, he was detained to be our guide in the morning. The baggage and all followers, were left in this place under an escort, with instructions to follow Kurrereah in a couple of hours. We started at half-past five for the rebel camp, and shortly afterwards came in sight of their fires. On our being observed, the enemy opened a sharp fire on us and commenced their retreat, leaving their baggage ponies in their rear.

3. Lieutenant and Adjutant Gompertz, Acting Staff-Officer, was detached with the cavalry, a little in advance of the main body, and intercepting the enemy's retreat, came into close conflict with them, during which many were killed. The main body moved on as fast as the nature of the ground would allow, for about two miles, many detached small parties of the artillery and infantry having hand to hand encounters with similar parties of the enemy, who were found, as we progressed, hiding in the ravines and jungles. Lieutenant Osborne, Political Agent of Rewa, was wounded by a sword cut on the right hand. He was at the time he was attacked, closely followed by three men of the 43rd Light Infantry, two men of the artillery being a few paces in front of him. Private Henry Addison, of the 43rd Light Infantry, seeing him attacked and on the ground, rushed forward to defend and cover him in a most gallant manner. In doing this, much regret having to record, that he received two very severe sword cuts, one on the left leg which rendered immediate amputation of the limb above the knee necessary, and another causing compound fracture of the left fore-arm. The heroism displayed by Private Addison in thus placing himself between Lieutenant Osborne and his assailant at the critical juncture he did, thereby saving that officer's life, may, I hope, be deemed worthy of the Victoria Cross, for which honour I earnestly beg to recommend him.

4. Finding that the rebels had all fled, and that any further pursuit would be fruitless, I recalled my party, and we retraced our steps to the village, breakfasted, and reached our camping ground at Mursingpore, at half-past four P.M., having gone over some thirty miles in twenty-four hours, exclusive of the ground covered in the pursuit. Having given the men a good night's rest here, we proceeded after breakfast to Kothee, and arrived there at six P.M., on the 3rd instant.

5. The party of rebels whose defeat I have described, appeared to be all trained soldiers, and should say numbered from 250 to 270, of whom 50 to 50 were killed, but exact numbers could not be ascertained, as the fighting ground covered an extensive space. Their wounded it is impossible to give any account of; three prisoners were taken, two of whom were fully armed. One was said in the Maharajah's Contingent, and the other a relative of a sepoy, killed at Punghuttee September last. The third prisoner was a mere lad. The two former were hung, and the latter brought on, as also a woman and two children, who were found near the rebels' camp; several articles of clothing belonging to the late Bengal army, percussion arms and pouches, with Delhi arsenal stamps on them, were found.

6. In bringing this report to a close, it gives me gratification to bear testimony to the able conduct of the troops, Europeans and Indians, and to the efficient and cheerful manner in which both officers and men did their duty ; my acknowledgments are due to Captain Palmer, Royal Artillery, in command of the party of that arm ; to Lieutenant Gompertz, Staff Officer, I am much indebted for the assistance he afforded me, and for the efficient way in which he managed his detachment of cavalry : the service of Mr. Abbott attached to the Rewah agency, the officer who accompanied the expedition, his commendation, for the attention and care bestowed on the wounded ; the gallant Jemadar Mahomed Khan, in charge of the Sowars, and of Sikh Sowar Khan Singh, who received a gun shot wound in the right shoulder, have been brought to my notice, for favouring this report by Lieutenant Gompertz, and I have much pleasure in doing so ; I cannot omit to mention in this report, the name of an old and most valiant native officer Subadar Purwarish Khan, 1st Madras Native Infantry, who was in command of the men of the regiment, he is a most zealous and very superior officer of good family, and his honest recommendation should prove the means of his obtaining any reward I shall have much pleasure in feeling that I was instrumental to.

7. I have now only to place on record the valuable services of Mr. Coles, Political Agent at Rewah, who was most indefatigable in promoting the success of the expedition ; Lieutenant Gompertz and Mr. Coles, both present with the expedition throughout, for their hearty co-operation and support have my sincere thanks.

g to forward a nominal roll of officers
a casualty roll, and a return of arms

I have, &c.,

FRED. GOTTREUX.

Bounties, so far as they relate to Able and Ordinary Seamen, was, by Order in Council of the eleventh day of June last, prolonged and extended from the said fifteenth of June to the thirty-first day of July last ; whereas by another Order in Council, of the twenty-ninth day of July last, the said Bounties to Able and Ordinary Seamen were reduced to eight pounds and four pounds respectively, the time limited for the payment of the same was prolonged and extended from the said thirty-first day of July last to the thirtieth day of September instant ; and it being judged expedient for Her Majesty's Service that Bounties should, so long as they relate to able Seamen and Ordinary Seamen, be continued to be paid for some time longer, that the same should be further reduced to Six Pounds in respect of Able Seamen, and to Three Pounds in respect of Ordinary Seamen ; Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council doth therefore order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, that the time limited for payment of the said further reduced Bounties of Six Pounds to Able Seamen, and of Three Pounds to Ordinary Seamen, be prolonged and extended from the first day of October next to the thirtieth day of November next, inclusive ; Wherein all persons concerned are to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

At the Court at Balmoral, the 23rd day of September, 1859.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty's Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyard and burial-ground be postponed as follows; viz.:

In St. John's Churchyard, in St. Mary's addition to the churchyard, in the Cemetery, in Ebenezer Zion Burial-grounds, and in the Tabernacle Bethany Burial-grounds, all in the borough of CARDIFF, from the first of October to the first of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine; in the parish churchyard of Holy Trinity Church, Salem Chapel, Chapel, St. James's Church, and Hanover Chapel, all in Halifax, from the first of September instant to the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; in the new part of Saint's Churchyard HASTINGS, from the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty to the first of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, provided that, with the exception of family vaults and graves, only one body be buried in each grave, that, with the same exception, no grave be reopened, and that the only bodies interred be those of parishioners of All Saints; in the churchyard of Kington Herefordshire, from the first of October to the first of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; in the old churchyard of LUDLOW, from the first of September instant, to the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty; in the churchyard of MELBOURN Derbyshire, in the Friends' Burial-ground, and in the New Jerusalem Chapel Burial-ground the Baptist Chapel Burial-ground, in the parish, from the first of September, to the first of October, one thousand eight hundred and ninety; in the churchyard of SOWERBY GATE, in the parish of Halifax, from the first of October next, to the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

And whereas by a supplemental Order in Council of the thirteenth of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, varying a former Order, burials were directed to be discontinued, with certain exceptions, in St. Mark's churchyard, in the parish of Lyncombe and Widcombe, BATH, on the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and it appeared that the operation of the said Order be varied; Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the operation of the said Order of the thirteenth November be postponed until the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, on condition that the precautions referred to in such Order be observed in the meantime.

And whereas by a supplemental Order in Council of the twenty-third of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, varying a former Order, the use of family vaults and graves in the Trinity churchyard, BROMPTON, which had been in existence on the eighteenth of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, was prohibited, subject to certain conditions, and it appeared that the said Order be varied; Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the words "or made in ground before buried in, for the burial of coffins removed from beneath the church," be inserted immediately before the words "mitted" in the eleventh line from the end of the Order of the twenty-third of April last.

And whereas by an Order in Council the twenty-first of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued from and after the first of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, in the parish churchyard of GAINSBOROUGH, and the said Order has been varied by subsequent Order of the thirtieth of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, and of the third of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, it seems fit that the said Order be again varied; and therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the portion of the said churchyard added in one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and containing one rood and seven perches, may be reopened for burials, provided it be underdrained to such a depth as to prevent water remaining in any grave, and that no coffin be buried in any unwallowed grave within four feet of the ordinary level of the churchyard, measuring from the top of the coffin; and with the exception of family vaults and tombs, only one body be buried in each grave.

And whereas by an Order in Council the thirteenth of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed to be discontinued, as therein mentioned, in certain church grounds in HOLYHEAD, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied; Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, in lieu thereof, that burials be wholly discontinued in the parish-church of Holyhead, and the churchyard and Baptist burial-ground

d, except in walled graves now completed to surface, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal, and separately entombed in an airtight manner; and that burials be also discontinued in the cemetery or additional churchyard far as may be requisite for the observance of Official Regulations for New Burial Grounds. And whereas by an Order in Council of the twentieth of September, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, burials were directed to be continued in the churchyard of St. Bartholomew, SYDENHAM, Kent; from and after the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered that the use of family vaults and other graves, in the said churchyard, which were in existence on the twentieth of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, be performed on the following conditions: that no human remains be disturbed, and that each coffin be imbedded in a layer of powdered charcoal, four inches thick, and be separately entombed in an airtight manner.

And whereas by an Order in Council of the fifth of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, burials were directed to be discontinued, with certain exceptions, in Holy Trinity churchyard, and in the Independent and Baptist burial-grounds in TEWKESBURY, and it seems fit that the said Order be varied; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the words "brothers or sisters" be inserted immediately after the words "or unmarried children," in the eighth line from the end of the said Order. And whereas by an Order in Council of the 9.

twenty-first of November, one thousand hundred and fifty-five, burials were directed discontinued, as therein mentioned, in the and churchyard of Saint Andrew, Whittlesey, and it seems fit that the said Order be now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with advice aforesaid, is pleased to order, and hereby ordered, in lieu thereof, that burials forthwith discontinued in the said churchyard of St. Andrew, Whittlesey; and also in the churchyard, except in family vaults and walled chapels which were in existence on the first of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, which shall be opened without disturbing soil that has been buried in, in which each coffin shall be interred in a layer of powdered charcoal, four inches in thickness, and be separately entombed in a stone work, properly cemented.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Notice is given, in this Gazette, by the Right Honourable Sir G. C. Lewis, Her Majesty's

Secretary of State for the Home Department, the Local Government Act, 1858, has adopted by the Town Council of Bridport, county of Dorset.—Dated the 23rd day of September, 1859.

FROM THE
1859.

India Office, September 27, 1859.

No. 1.

No. 1039 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following letter from Brigadier-General Sir R. Napier, K.C.B., Commander of the Gwalior Division, forwarding a report of a successful action against the rebels under Adahomed Khan, in the Basoda District, by a detachment under Lieutenant Roome, 10th Buffs, Native Infantry.

His Excellency in Council desires to record his appreciation of the spirit and gallantry on the occasion of Lieutenant Roome, who commanded the detachment, and of Lieutenant Bradford, of Mayne's Buffs, and his approval of the conduct of all concerned in this affair.

Adjutant-General Sir R. Napier, K.C.B., Commanding Gwalior Division, to the Chief of the Staff.

Morar, June 15, 1859.*

No. 395.

HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, a report of a success gained over the rebels, under Adil Mahomed Khan, in the Basoda district, by Lieutenant Roome, of the 10th Bombardment Native Infantry, whom I had sent out in command of a small column.

I beg to recommend Lieutenant Roome to his Excellency's favourable notice, as a most promising officer, of much spirit and intelligence. His exertions in the field were continued when he should have been in sick quarters, and I regret to learn he has suffered severely in consequence.

Lieutenant Bradford, in charge of the Detachment of Mayne's Horse, has, on several previous occasions, been very favourably reported to me. I have called on Lieutenant Roome for a more particular report of the services of the native troops, with a view to bring them to his Lordship's notice.

Although the regiment has been so lately raised, they have never lost an opportunity of distinguishing themselves.

I have, &c.,
R. NAPIER.

*Lieutenant F. Roome, 10th Regiment B
Native Infantry, Commanding Field
Basoda District, to Major Todd, Adj General, Gwalior Division.*

SIR,

May 16, 18

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of General Sir R. Napier, K.C.B., commanding Gwalior Division, that having heard Adil Mahomed Khan was collecting a force in this neighbourhood for the purpose of attacking Basoda, I left Mungrowlie for this place with a force as per margin.*

To deceive the enemy as to my intentions I had already ordered supplies, &c., to be collected at Natarran and Aijdah, giving out that I was going that way.

I started yesterday at 1 A.M., halting during the heat of the day at Bhoraso, which I left at 4 P.M.

Adil Mahomed Khan having influential friends in the Koorwae District, it was necessary to take a circuitous route to avoid villages supposed to be friendly to him. On the same account we had to refrain from crossing the Betwa till we reached Bhairkairie. This lengthened our route so considerably that we did not reach this place till about half an hour after daybreak, when we found that the enemy had left a few hours before.

Not being able to get any information from the villagers I divided the cavalry into three parties to seek for the enemy's tracks. The party with which I accompanied, consisting of forty of Major

e proceeded along this road at a canter, and as we had gone about four miles, came suddenly upon a strong body of the enemy's cavalry, which we at once charged, cutting up many. They fled in the Daumurrie direction. We pursued some miles, killing some thirty-five and taking two or four prisoners. The remainder, only about twenty, then dispersed in the jungles in every direction, and our horses being too tired to go further, we returned to this place. They were well mounted and well dressed (some in the scarlet of late Gwalior Contingent) and armed with percussion carbines and pistols.

Our prisoners report that Adil Mahomed Khan, Sher Khan, and other chiefs of note were with the party, I very much fear, however, that the latter effected his escape as a personage of apparently some importance managed to get away in spite of our endeavours to prevent him. He was exceedingly well mounted, yet I am confident that had our horses been a little fresher, we would have succeeded in catching him.

I cannot speak too highly of the behaviour of the 1st Horse. These men had marched, since yesterday morning, a distance of sixty-four miles before coming upon the enemy, and yet they could have charged with greater dash had their horses been fresh from the stables; this may only be accounted for by the gallant manner in which they were led by Lieutenant Bradford, of whose excellent soldier-like qualities the General is doubtless aware, and whom I beg to bring again to his favourable notice. The following native warriors particularly distinguished themselves by their gallantry in hand-to-hand conflicts. Ressadar Indur Sing, Jemadar Gujur Sing, and Dar Luximon Sing. Gujur Sing was wounded by a carbine bullet in the breast, but, not daunted, cut down the man who fired at him. I am happy to say the wound is slight and is doing well.

I regret exceedingly that circumstances prevented me from bringing into action and rewarding the men of the 10th Regiment Native Infantry for the fatigues and privations they have undergone. I cannot say too much in favor of the cheerfulness with which they, and indeed the whole force, bore every hardship, marching day and night, till the object for which we set out was accomplished.

The valuable services rendered to Government during this mutiny by Sir Soobah Ram Chut Bahjee Row are well known to the General. Not only were his exertions on this occasion untiring as ever, but his gallantry in action was most conspicuous, he having been closely engaged several times.

Wamand Row Mhadow, Tehsildar of Bahadurpore, deserves great credit for the accuracy of the information he procured.

I enclose a casualty list, which, I am happy to say is very small.

I have, &c.,

1043 of 1859.—The term of service for the Members of the Bengal Yeomanry engaged being about to expire, and a proposition having expressed a wish to be merged, the Corps was ordered to Sultanpore, to be broken up.

The disbandment of the regiment is now in the process of being carried into effect.

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council, cannot allow the soldiers and men of this corps to separate, without issuing in General Orders his acknowledgements of the excellent services they have rendered, his admiration of their endurance, and of their gallant bearing on the many occasions in which they have come in contact with the

The Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, formed at Calcutta in the summer of 1857, on the formation of a Volunteer Corps receiving pay, was in the month of October of that year, moved towards the scene of the disturbances, reaching RaneeGUNGE, and proceeded in pursuit of mutineers to GYA, and then marched to Patna, and crossed into Tirhoot, in which district it was employed watching for and suppressing rebels. Early in 1858, the regiment was sent to the Goruckpore District, and took up, at first, a bold position at Ahmora, distant only a few miles from an overwhelming rebel force, and with themselves only two hundred in number; and they were held for the greater part of that year, with the Goruckpore Field Force, important posts were, during that time, repeatedly engaged and the enemy.

In the cold season of 1858-59, the regiment was employed in the operations in the Bareilly District, in Oude, and finally it was engaged recently, against the rebels on the Nepaul frontier.

The Gazettes of the 23rd March, 27th April, 11th May, 6th and 13th July, 13th August, 1858, and 19th October, 23rd November, 1858, 11th and 18th January, and 9th March, 1859, testify that the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry has borne a distinguished part in the several operations therein recounted.

Long marches, exposure, fatigue, and hard patrol and picket duties have from the first been the lot of this young corps, and they have borne the whole in a truly soldier-like spirit.

The Governor-General in Council desires to convey to Major Richardson, C.B., and the Officers and Men of the Bengal Yeomanry Cavalry, a regiment of which all who have longed to it may be proud, his best thanks for service they have rendered to the State, and disbanding the corps which, from the 27th inst, will cease to belong to the Bengal Army, wishes the members of it a hearty farewell.

PORTION of the rebels under Baboo Perling, attacked by me on the 14th instant, at gra-ka-naka, found themselves cut off from road to Deokurh by the rapid advance of the British troops, and saved themselves by quitting road and hiding in the dense forest to the west

These fugitives were joined by the Akonah's people on the flight of the latter before in Cleveland's detachment, and by a fresh from Deokurh, and the whole under the leaders as per margin,* located themselves in Sunputtree Pass, which is about 10 miles from the Khungra Pass, and the same distance from Musha. I heard of this assembly whilst encamped at Musha, with the troops, as per margin,† immediately arranged an attack for the following morning, 18th June.

2. The Sunputtree Pass leads like the Khungra Pass, from the Trans-Raptee country into the Kurh (Nepaul), but it is accounted a very difficult one, and is only used by the cowherds of the district, who pasture their cattle according to the season, either on the Nepaul or British side of the mountains. It is approached through about 10 miles of the densest Terye Forest, and is situated on the bed of a mountain torrent, paved with boulder stones. A few resolute men could hold it against an army. The rebel encampment was in a small open clearing on the edge of the forest, about four miles from the commencement of the forest.

3. The troops marched from Musha at two o'clock in the strictest silence, and entered the forest without being challenged, soon after daybreak. After proceeding about three miles into the forest, the advance guard was seen by a picquet of the enemy, but concealment being no longer an object, the troops were urged forward in view to allow the rebels as little notice of our approach as possible.

4. The rebel encampment was found deserted, and here I left the cavalry, their services being no longer required, owing to the nature of the country. With the infantry I pushed on in pursuit as far as possible. The tracks left by the rebels showed cavalry and infantry, and numbers of the were soon overtaken and slain, but I felt the real prize was the cavalry, and, as the difficulties of the road increased at each step, made it difficult of eventually overtaking them. Finding we were gained upon them, they attempted to elude us by turning up the bed of a ravine to the right of the road, ignorant that there was no exit at the end. Here they were overtaken, and every man slain, upwards of 25 horses, and 30 ponies with baggage, falling into the hands of the Punjab Rifles.

The pursuit was continued in all directions for fully five miles beyond the rebel encampment, a great slaughter made. I am confident that upwards of one hundred rebels must have fallen. The troops were utterly exhausted by the fatiguing effects of distance, heat, and the suffocating atmosphere of the Terye Forest, after heavy fighting the pursuit ceased, and the troops marched to the camp at Musha, which they reached at three P.M.

The behaviour of the men of the 5th Punjab Rifles was beyond all praise, and it was emulated by that of a small party of the Oude Police (Hutt's Jezzailchees), which happened to be at the camp on a special service, and which I took with me to stop a road by which I thought it probable the rebels would try to escape. I beg to solicit the award of the Class of the Order of Merit for Havildar Ram Khan, of the 5th Punjab Rifles, who particularly distinguished himself in this affair, and for Subadar Nehall Sing, of the same regiment, who, in my presence, slew three of the rebels in single combat.

I have no casualties to report.

In conclusion, I venture to hope that the results now reported, in conjunction with that of the Khungra Pass on the 14th instant, will prove to the remaining rebels the utter hopelessness of their longed resistance. inasmuch as they have seen the British troops can and will attack the their selected fastnesses of the frontier range of hills, undeterred alike by dread of the rainy season and of the deadly Terye Forest.

obedience to the instructions of Colonel Vaughan, C.B., Commanding Trans Gogra, dated 15th instant, directing me to expel from the British territory a body of rebels believed to be near Musha, I marched on the night of the instant from Sidonia Ghaut to that place, thirty miles, with the troops as per margin,* and there joined by Captain Cleveland, commanding a field detachment at Bhinga, with a portion of the force, as per margin.†

2. The body of rebels against whom I was to operate proved to be eighteen or twenty miles east of Musha, in the neighbourhood of Khungra-ka-Naka, as it is called, a well-known pass through the first range of hills into the Deokurk Valley (Nepaul). Accordingly I marched on the night of the 13th June, to Bunhonee, a large police post, fourteen miles, and leaving the baggage at that village, made the following arrangements consequent on information there received.

3. Captain Cleveland, with three companies of Moradabad Levy and fifty men of Hodson's Horse, was directed to attack the Rajah of Akonah, who was encamped, with two hundred followers, at Peeprah, on the edge of the forest, at the foot of the hills, three miles north of Bunhonee, whilst with the remainder of the force, should attack the main body of rebels, under one Purgun Singh, at the village of Bunkutta, where the Khungra-ka-Naka, which it is to be understood is the bed of a torrent dry, except after heavy rain, emerges from the forest.

4. A separate report of Captain Cleveland's proceedings, which were very satisfactory, is annexed.

5. The force under my personal command marched under cover of the forest, at the foot of the hills.

at four miles north-east of Bunhonee, and here the cavalry, with orders to halt until I should open fire, and then press on, by the best way they could find, to Bunkutta. With the company and twenty men 1st Punjaub Cavalry marched, under cover of the forest and parallel to the hills in view, to cut off the rebels from their retreat to Deokurk; and fall upon their rear; but the picquets had seen us before we entered the forest, and thus my intentions were to a certain extent frustrated, the main body of the rebels being in retreat, covered by a strong rear guard, when we reached their encampment. The Punjab Cavalry, however, supported by the Moradabad Cavalry and the party of the 1st Punjaub Cavalry, overtook the rebels with the greatest spirit, and inflicted considerable loss upon them, driving them in confusion through the pass for upwards of five miles. The pursuit never slackened for a moment whilst the rebels held together in a body, when they broke and dispersed in the dense forest, they were followed in all directions by small parties of the Punjaub Rifles and Moradabad Levies, some of which did not rejoin for many days afterwards.

I make no attempt to estimate the number of rebels slain, the immense extent of ground gone over by the troops in pursuit, the dense jungle, the ravines with which it was intersected, making like accuracy impossible.

The troops rested for a few hours in the existing camp, constructed by the rebels at Banah, previous to burning it, and then marched to Bunhonee, six miles.

The exertions made by the troops of both divisions have been most meritorious, and I trust they will meet with the approbation of superior authorities.

The Punjaub Rifles marched upwards of sixty miles between the evening of the 12th noon of the 14th instant, besides pursuing enemy for some miles at the double,

9. I wish to bring to particular notice the gallant and daring conduct of Subadar Hub Khan, of the 5th Punjaub Rifles, who was foremost in the pursuit, and was several times engaged hand-to-hand. I consider him most deserving of the 3rd Class of the Order of Merit.

10. Captain Cleveland, 98th Regiment, who conducted the separate attack upon the Rajah Akownah's party, rendered valuable service, and I have to thank him for the cordial assistance I have received from him during the present service. My thanks are also due to Lieutenants Grey and Ensign Gill, who directed the Punjaub Rifles and Moradabad Levy, respectively, in the attack under my personal command.

11. I am not aware of any rebels being now in the British territory, between Serdonia Ghaut and Toolsepore, and I therefore trust that the service entrusted to me will be considered to have been satisfactorily carried out.

12. I enclose a casualty return.

SIR,

AGREEABLY with your instructions I proceeded yesterday in command of a detachment length as per margin,* from the village of Wdree Dea towards Tipra, bearing due north where Moona Sing, the Rajah of Akonah, 200 'Tilungas, were reported to be huddled, living in comfort. I made a circuitous route through the jungle, avoiding the footpath leading to the enemy's position, with a view of driving eastward, towards your force, according to arrangements.

Soon after penetrating the jungle, which was consisting more than brushwood, the enemy's picket, a company, was discovered at a distance off, and a party of cavalry galloped to the front in full hopes of catching it off, when, unfortunately, it was pulled back by a deep ravine, the other side of which the enemy's picket had been posted.

On moving on to Pipree, to the enemy's encampment, I found it deserted; and it was evident that a quantity of things, arms, accoutrements, and large supplies of rice and flour, strewn about the ground, that he had been alarmed, and had made a hasty departure. On being assured by a man, that the Rajah, mounted on an elephant, with the majority of his force, had gone eastward, I pressed on the cavalry, who, however, could make no way, owing to the dense part of the jungle and a serpentine ravine impeding progress; while the enemy, concealed, opened fire on them.

I brought up my infantry in front, and driving everything before it, accounted for all stragglers.
 The enemy's fire soon ceased; and pressing onwards, we came across arms, accoutrements, and utensils, that had been flung away; and continuing for five miles, we captured the Rajah's elephant, palanquin, and two camels heavily laden with Cavalry, 3rd Hodson's Horse; 130 Rank and File, and a dabsad Levy.

with all his property, consisting of shawls, mu clothing apparel, and cooking utensils. enemy having been entirely dispersed, and track of the elephant having been lost, I coll my force and retired through the jungle, m for Pipree. On destroying the enemy's hu well as everything found there about, and a fastened by a chain near the Rajah's dwelli moved off, and reached camp at 1-30 P.M.

The enemy's loss was about fifteen men, would have been certainly greater, but fo dense jungle and the knowledge of it, which ticularly favoured it. I am happy to say only one horse wounded.

In conclusion, I have the gratification o stowing much credit due to the infantry cavalry, and I would make known the leng time they were under arms, thirteen hours, d which time they could not have gone less thirty miles.

SIR,

Lahar, June 28, 1858.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the officer commanding at Calpee, the following particulars of a skirmish with the rebels under Dowlut Sing, at the village of Indhoorkhee. Having received intelligence that the rebels to the number of 500 were occupying Indhoorkhee, and that in consequence the Dāk to Gwalior was closed, I determined to make an attempt to re-open the road.

Accordingly I left Lahar, on the morning of the 27th, with troops as per margin,* reaching Indhoorkhee about eight in the morning.

The enemy on our appearance manned the walls, as if with the intention of making a stand there. They however precipitately abandoned them, as we drew nearer, and fearing lest we should slip altogether out of our hands, I advanced with the cavalry at a gallop.

The village was deserted, but on entering the ravines a smart fire was opened on us from the flanks, and I observed the enemy in considerable force, occupying the steep sides of the ravines.

The ground being utterly unsuited for cavalry, I retired out of fire, and the infantry which by this time arrived, advanced to the attack under the able guidance of Lieutenant Cock. They drove the enemy from one position to another, pursuing them from the distance of nearly a mile and a ending from the nature of the ground that effectual skirmishing might be interminably continued, and having achieved the object intended, I returned to Indhoorkhee, and from thence rode back to Jatepora.

I had no means of ascertaining the loss sustained by the enemy, but know from reliable information that they have made no attempt to re-occupy Indhoorkhee.

Lieutenant T. H. Lewin, Commanding Detachment District Field Force, to the Adjutant-General, the 31st Regiment of Native Light Infantry.

Camp Jeitpore, July 7, 1855.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Officer commanding the regiment, sequence of information received from Mr. Assistant-Magistrate Wigram, that a body of rebels were in the jungle, north-east of Jheejun, I moved thither at 11 o'clock P.M., on the night of the 11th, with the force as per margin.* After marching eight miles we arrived at the outskirts of the jungle, in which the rebels were said to be concealed, and I here halted for a short time to rest both men and horses.

Learning that the position which was held by the enemy was totally impracticable for cavalry, having further ascertained the jungle was open to the east and west, I despatched the force in two detachments, as per margin,† one to the left flank, with orders to be on the alert, along the edge of the jungle, and to cut up fugitives that might attempt to escape in those directions. Proceeding about five miles further into the jungle of so dense and thorny a nature as was with great difficulty that we made any progress at all, we came upon their advanced picquet and drove it in without loss on either side; pushing on with every possible despatch we surprised a camp situated on a very rocky and difficult well-known as one of their favourite resorts; a short stand made at a wall of rocks, about 10 feet in height, which they had raised across the path, they fled precipitately through the jungle in every direction; owing to the early hour at which this took place (viz., about an hour before sunrise) and the notorious denseness of the Jheejun jungle, I was unable to pursue them as efficiently as I could have wished, but many I were shot down and wounded during their flight. My own casualties were 1 sepoy, Madras Doobay, of the 5th Company, 31st Regiment Madras Native Light Infantry, killed. The complete effect of the surprise may be imagined, as more than 100 pairs of shoes, together with bedding of various descriptions, were left scattered over the ground near their late camp, the paths of the jungle on either side were strewn with clothes and weapons which they abandoned in their flight. Part of the rebels attempted to escape on the east of the jungle, but were attacked by the Rissaldar of the 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, whom I had detached to that point ; three were killed, and the rest effected their escape into the jungle, where it was impossible for our cavalry to pursue.

The main body of the rebels retreated in the direction of Jheejhun, where they ought to have been met by Captain Scott, of the 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, with his detachment, but owing to some mistake as to procuring intelligence, I regret to say, that their retreat in that direction was unmolested.

On re-assembling my men on the hill of Paharee, where the enemy's camp had been, I found a small force of about fifty men as well as a detachment of the 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, judge, for they were more than a mile off, and were moving towards the hill from the north-east ; from the regularity of their movements, as well as from the glittering of their fixed bayonets, I supposed it to be the detachment of the 17th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, although coming from a different direction to that in which we expected them ; the next morning a letter from Captain Scott stating that, owing to the reasons stated above, he did not move from his original position at Pipera. I can therefore only conjecture, that it was the party

s who are said to accompany Desput in all wanderings. I consider that the effect produced on the rebels by this affair will be most special, as showing them that the densest jungle most favourable position, affords them but more shelter than the open plain.

their numbers, I am informed, were from 400 men, and it is supposed under the command Desput himself, as papers directed to him and bearing his signature, together with one or two articles which were identified as belonging to them were found in their camp.

They are said to have carried some wounded men with them in their retreat.

Best thanks are due to Mr. P. Wigram, who was to the front during the whole affair, and who rendered me every assistance.

I have, &c.,

1859.

CORRESPONDENCE WITH THE HONOURABLE F. W.
A. BRUCE, C.B., HER MAJESTY'S ENVOY EXTRAORDINARY AND MINISTER PLENIPOTENTIARY IN CHINA.

No. 1.

The Earl of Malmesbury to Mr. Bruce.

(Extract.) Foreign-Office, March 1, 1859.
THE Queen having been pleased to appoint u to be Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary

and Minister Plenipotentiary in China in that capacity to exchange, at Peking, Her Majesty's ratification of the Treaty of Tien-tsin, the ratification of that compact by the Emperor of China, I have now to furnish you with general instructions as may serve for your guidance in the important mission entrusted to you by Her Majesty.

Her Majesty's Government had hoped that the Earl of Elgin would have returned to this country previously to your departure, that so your instructions might have been framed after personal communication with his Excellency. But it seems that the interesting excursion up the Yangtze-keang river, which he so judiciously determined to undertake, has occupied more time than he anticipated, and any further delay in his departure might possibly prevent you from changing the ratifications within the period specified in the Treaty, namely, before the 20th of June.

Arrangements have been made for your passage for yourself and the members of the Mission in the contract steam-vessels which convey the British mails of the 10th of March from Marseilles to Alexandria, and from Suez to Singapore and Hong Kong, in case you should not at Suez Her Majesty's ship "Furious" wait to receive you, or at Singapore some other mail-ship war appointed to convey you to China.

On your arrival at Hong Kong, you will, in virtue of the Commission as Chief Superintendent of British Trade with which you are provided, relieve Sir John Bowring of his duties in connection with this office, and you will make arrangements for transferring the general direction of British affairs in China to Shanghai, at which port it is to be carried on until such time as stances shall admit of its being permanently established at Peking.

You will not remain at Hong Kong longer than absolutely necessary, but proceed to Shanghai on your way to the Peiho.

Her Majesty's Government were fully prepared once to carry out the provision of the Treaty of Tientsin, which admits of the permanent residence of a British Ambassador at Peking; but the observations on this point, which Lord Elgin has so ably laid before them, coupled with the fact that the French Government, on considering Baron Gros's reports, have arrived at the same conclusion, have determined Her Majesty's Government, for the present at least, to fix at Shanghai the residence of the British Mission, and only to require that it should be received occasionally at Peking. But you will be careful to make the Chinese authorities at the capital and at Shanghai distinctly understand that Her Majesty's Government do not renounce the right of permanent residence, and, on the contrary, will instantly exercise it, if at any time difficulties are thrown in the way of communications between Her Majesty's Minister and the Central Government at Peking, or any disposition shown to evade or defeat the objects of the Treaty.

Her Majesty's Government are prepared to expect that all the arts at which the Chinese are so much adepts, will be put in practice to dissuade you from repairing to the capital, even for the purpose of exchanging the ratifications of the Treaty; but it will be your duty firmly, but temperately, to resist any propositions to that effect, and to admit of no excuses; and you will say that the effect of any persistence on the part of the Chinese Government in throwing obstacles in the way of your arrival at Peking, and of the presentation of your credentials to the Emperor in person, will be. Her Majesty's Government will insist on the fulfilment of the Treaty, and establish the Mi permanently at Peking.

You will probably find it advisable, before departure from Shanghai, to send an intimation to Peking of your approach, and to request that suitable arrangements may be made for your honorable reception at the mouth of the Peiho, and Tien-tsin, and for your journey from that place to Peking. The Admiral in command of Her Majesty's naval forces in China has been directed to send up with you to the mouth of the Peiho a sufficient naval force, and unless any unforeseen circumstances should appear to make another arrangement more advisable, it would seem desirable that you should reach Tien-tsin in a British ship or war.

It is impossible for Her Majesty's Government to lay down, and, indeed, it would not be wise to lay down, definite rules to be rigidly adhered to, in regard to your approach to, and your communication with, the Chinese Court. The acquaintance which you possess with the Chinese character, will enable you to judge when you may give way and when you must stand firm, bearing in mind that the treatment on your first visit to Peking will always be appealed to on the occasion of future visits, in establishing a precedent not to be departed from.

You will, of course, refuse compliance with any ceremony, or form of reception, which can in any way be construed into an admission of inferiority on the part of Her Majesty in regard to the Emperor of China, and perhaps the best method of putting a stop to any attempt to impose upon you in this respect, will be that you should distinctly declare that you will withdraw at once, even if Presence Chamber of the Sovereign, on the slightest appearance of a disposition to treat you, and the office that you hold, with disrespect.

If any objection should be raised on the score of your credentials being those of Envoy and not of an Ambassador, you will say that the reason of their being so, is to admit of the wish of the Chinese Government, that for the present the British Mission should not be permanently resident in the capital being complied with; but that if, on that ground, the Chinese Government seek to make any distinction in your reception and treatment, new credentials as Ambassador will immediately be sent to you, and, in that case, the Mission will be forthwith and permanently established at Peking.

You will, moreover, take care that the treatment awarded to you is in no degree less honourable than that awarded to the Representative of any other Power whatever. That it should be consistent with European usages, it must doubtless be more honourable than that by which Embassies from countries over whose Chiefs the Emperor assumes superiority are received; but must be in no degree inferior to that accorded to the Representatives of other Christian nations. Although you will insist upon your being received at Peking, and will refuse to exchange residences at any other place, and will further decline to make any compromise in regard to the mode of your stay in the Chinese capital, or the frequency of your visits to it; Her Majesty's Government are willing to leave to your discretion the duration of your stay on the first occasion. Your primary object, after the exchange of the residences, will be to come to such an understanding with the Government as may ensure prompt attention being paid by proper authorities in the capital to any representations that you see occasion to address to it ; and you will particularly insist upon your right to employ messengers of your own, whether European or Chinese, for the conveyance of your communications, upon due facilities for the performance of your journeys being secured for such messengers.

Your general language will be that Her Majesty's Government are most anxious that increased intercourse with the Chinese Empire, under the Treaty of Tien-tsin, may contribute to the mutual advantage of both countries ; that it is Her Majesty's firm intention, while scrupulously observing the engagements which she has herself contracted, to require on the part of the Emperor of China a corresponding observance on his own ; that Her Majesty's officers in the different ports of China will be directed to prevent, as far as in them lies, any disturbance of the public peace, and any disorderly conduct on the part of British subjects ; and that, on the other hand, Her Majesty expects that the Chinese authorities, both at the ports and in the interior of the country, will be required to act up to the Treaty obligations contracted by their Sovereign, and to treat with kindness and consideration the subjects of Her Majesty who may be brought into contact with them.

Without waiving or compromising, in any degree, the right of Her Majesty's Mission to reside at the capital, you may let it be understood that the frequency of its visits to Peking, if not its permanent residence there, must in a great degree depend on the manner in which the provisions of the Treaty are carried out. If no occasion is given for controversy by attempts on the part of the Chinese local authorities to evade the terms of the Treaty, and more particularly if no disposition own by the Government at the capital to treat with disrespect any representations Her Majesty's Minister may address to it from Shanghai, the necessity for such visits to the capital will be rare;

when they are made they will be rather commentary than for the transaction of business.
You will say that as between the Powers of Europe direct diplomatic intercourse, and the permanent residence of Ministers at the residence of Sovereigns to whom they are accredited, are always looked upon as an indication of friendship between States, so Her Majesty's Government think that the day is not far distant when not only the presence of a British Minister at Peking viewed with satisfaction, but a Representative of the Emperor of China be accredited to Her Majesty's Court, where you will say he will be received both by Her Majesty and her Government, and treated with the same distinction and consideration as the Representatives of Her Majesty's nearest allies.

Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(Received July 5.)

Victoria, Hong Kong, May 4, 1859.

LORD,
THERE is little reliable information to be obtained here as to the reception Her Majesty's Commission is likely to meet with at Peking, and the views of the Commissioners Kweiliang and Hwas-ang remaining at Soochow, near Shanghai, though Mr. Lay has urged them to return to Peking, to be on the spot when the foreign Missionaries arrive there, would seem to indicate a hope on their part that some incident may enable them to avert the visit to Peking; and this view is strengthened by the rumours, more or less true, of the repair of the old forts at the mouth of the Peiho, and the construction of fresh defences along its course.

At the same time it is reported, and, in all main, no doubt truly, that a Russian Mission of some pretensions has arrived at Peking; the members walk about the streets, in European costume, unmolested; and that discussions have taken place between its chief and the Chinese Government on matters of etiquette, in which it is reported that the Russian has receded from his demand. The reports from Peking are sent by native Roman Catholic catechists to their Bishops, and embody probably, the gossip which circulates in the streets of Peking on these subjects. Your Lordship is likely to be better informed from St. Petersburg than we are on the coast of China, of the route and character of this Russian Agent.

It became necessary for me to decide, in a state of uncertainty as to the intentions of the Chinese Government, on the force which should accompany me to the Peiho, it being desired that it should proceed without delay to the river. By a note received from M. Bourboulon, my French colleague, I see he does not expect that Admiral Rigault will spare from the operations in Annam more than two vessels, of which one, I hope, will be able to ascend the river as far as Tien-tsin. I therefore requested Admiral Seymour and Sir Charles van Straubenzee to confer with me on this point. As your Lordship will see in the inclosed minute, I stated to them that the objects of my mission were—the exchange of ratifications at Peking, the delivery of my credentials to the Emperor of China in person, and my arrival, as far as Tien-tsin, in a British ship of war. They agreed in the opinion that it would be safe to assume that the Chinese would these points, and enter seriously on the consideration of the measures required to bring the duty into full operation, unless I were accompanied with an imposing force, and they agreed it should be as nearly as possible of the same length as that which formed the expedition of the year. I hope by the demonstration to render active employment of the force unnecessary. In the meantime I have requested Mr. Wade to inform Mr. Lay confidentially at Shanghai of the objects and scope of the Mission, leaving it to his discretion, in which I have full reliance, to communicate it, as from himself, to the Chinese Commissioners. We may thus obtain some knowledge of their intentions on our arrival at Shanghai, which would be important as a guide for our future proceedings.

I have not decided on the terms of my communications to the Chinese Government on the point which it is to be sent. I propose discussing the points with M. Bourboulon, and with the American Minister.

I proceed to Canton as soon as the mail leaves England; and on my return I shall visit Shanghai, where I hope to find my colleagues.

I have, &c.

Inclosure in No. 2.

Minute of a Conference held at the Government Offices at Hong Kong, on Friday, April 28, 1859.

Present :

Sir Charles van Straubenzee, K.C.B.

Rear-Admiral Hope, C.B.

R. BRUCE stated that the instructions of His Majesty's Government were to the effect that he was to proceed, if possible, to Tien-tsin by British man-of-war, and thence to Peking, the exchange of the ratifications was to be effected, and where he was to present his letters of credence to the Emperor of China in person, insisting on such a reception as was befitting his character as the Representative of a nation on an equal footing with that of China.

He further stated that we were not in possession of any reliable information as to the steps which the Chinese Government were prepared to receive this first attempt to establish direct relations on a footing of equality with the Government of Peking. That we must be guided, therefore, by the general experience we had acquired of the Chinese character, and that we might infer from the result of our past experience that the objects of this mission were most likely to be satisfactorily and peacefully attained, if the British Mission were supported by a powerful demonstration of force at the mouth of the Peiho river.

Sir Charles van Straubenzee and Rear-Admiral Hope concurred in this view, the latter stating that his instructions contemplated the Mission being escorted with an imposing force.

It was unanimously agreed that the expedition should, if possible, be as strong as that which accompanied the Ambassadors of England and France to the Peiho last year, and with this view Sir Charles van Straubenzee intimated his intention to be prepared, consistently with the security of the British position at Canton, to place a battalion of Marines and a company of Engineers at the disposal of Rear-Admiral Hope. This addition to the force would compensate for the absence of French forces in Cochin China.

HER Majesty's Government approve the arrangements, as reported in your despatch of 4th of May, which you have adopted, in concert with Sir Charles van Straubenzee and Admiral Hope, for the purpose of proceeding to the Peiho on your way to Peking, backed by an adequate naval and military force.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) J. RUSSELL.

No. 4.

Mr. Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(Received July 16.)Victoria, Hong Kong, May 21, 1859.

LORD,

HAVE the honour to inclose copy of the I have addressed to the Chinese Chief Secretary of State, Kweiliang, informing him of my position in China, of the diplomatic character I occupy, and of the course I intend to pursue. M. de Bourquenette has also sent a note to him couched in diplomatic terms.

In my previous despatches, I have informed your Lordship that we can ascertain nothing as to the intentions of this Government with respect to the visit of foreign Envoys to Peking; but the Imperial Commissioners, on hearing of my arrival in China, have proceeded from Soo-chow to Shanghai, a fact of some significance, and which gives colour to the opinion that they hope to raise negotiations or begin negotiations at that point, and which, if wise they would have returned ere this to Pekin, for the purpose of making preparation for our reception.

It seems to me important that I should, at the commencement, assume the new position and status which I bear as a Minister accredited to the Emperor of China.

With this view I have put forward, in a prominent and intelligible shape, the character of my mission and the necessity of my proceeding directly to Pekin, to present to the Emperor my credentials in accordance with established usage, and to qualify myself for the discharge of my functions as Envoy to the Court of Pekin. For this reason I have addressed Kweiliang as Chief Secretary of State—not as Imperial Commissioner. I wish to avoid any act that may be construed into an acceptance of an Imperial Commissioner at Shanghae. My language on that point was that my acceptance of such a functionary is contingent on a proper reception at Pekin, and arrangements being made which will secure access and unreserved communication with Imperial Ministers at the capital, on all matters on which I think they ought to be informed.

I hope, in this way, to compel the Chinese Government to declare itself upon those points which we know are the most unpalatable, and if there exists, on its part, a disposition to evade its obligations, to thrust us back, as before, on the seaboard, and refuse the reception which we cannot waive without lowering our national dignity, I trust we shall be in possession of their views when we arrive at the mouth of the Pehio, and not be left to discover them gradually at Pekin. If, as is most probable, the Chinese Government at Pekin is wavering, anxious to evade, but unwilling to risk a rupture, I trust that identical views among the foreign Representatives, age, and an imposing demonstration of force, secure the observance by it of the recent treaties, and incline it to listen to moderate and prudent advisers.

Closing this despatch, I beg to draw your Majesty's attention to a letter I addressed to His Majesty the Emperor of China, on a proposal by the Lords of the Council to reduce further the force on this frontier—a measure much to be regretted should it be carried into operation before the visit to Peking is successfully accomplished.

I have, &c.

Inclosure 1 in No. 4.

Mr. Bruce to Commissioner Kweiliang.

The undersigned, &c., &c., has the honour to inform His Excellency Kweiliang, Senior Secretary of State, that Her Majesty the Queen, &c., &c., is much pleased, in furtherance of the intimate and friendly relations happily established between Great Britain and China by the Treaty of Tien-tsin, to appoint the undersigned to the honourable post of Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the Emperor of China. In that capacity he is the bearer of an autograph letter from Her Majesty the Queen to His Majesty the Emperor of China, which it will be his duty to present to His Majesty in accordance with the established usage among civilized nations, and in order that he may be properly qualified to undertake the duties of his office as Her Majesty's Representative to the Court of Peking.

The undersigned has further to add that he is acquainted with the counterpart of the Treaty of Tien-tsin, duly ratified by Her Most Gracious Majesty, and that he will be prepared to execute it at Peking, as agreed on in the Treaty, and one equally ratified by His Majesty the Emperor of China, that relations of peace and of good may be thus mutually confirmed and placed on a sure and permanent basis.

The Undersigned takes this opportunity of informing his Excellency Kweiliang, that, in accordance with the above instructions of his Sovereign, he is about to proceed without delay, by Shanghai, to Tien-tsin. He trusts that the necessary arrangements will be given for the conveyance of himself and his suite from thence to Peking, and for the provision of suitable accommodation for him during his residence in the capital itself in a manner becoming the dignity of the nation he represents.

The Undersigned, &c.,

WITH reference to the despatch from the Admiralty proposing a reduction of force on this station, I beg to observe the facts which have come to my knowledge since my arrival in China confirm me as to the propriety of the conclusion come to, in concert with you and Sir Charles van Straubenzee, viz., "The force which is to accompany me to the station ought to be as strong as that which accompanied the Allied High Commissioners last year to Tien-tsin."

The task of supplying the deficiency caused by the diversion of the French force to Cochinchina

no person can pretend to speak positively as to the intentions of the Chinese ; but we know that we have secured the modification of one clause in the Convention on the ground that it was extorted by duress and that there was no opportunity for discussion afforded at Tien-tsin. The same argument would hold good for the elimination of every article which may be disagreeable to us, and as I see that the Imperial Commissioners, instead of going to Peking to prepare for the reception of the foreign Envoys, have returned to Shanghai, I do not doubt that they are prepared to propose further modifications of the Convention, and to raise difficulties as to my reception at Peking, unless they find us determined and able to carry our point.

I HAVE to acquaint you that Her Majesty's Government approve the note which you addressed to the Chief Secretary of State, Kweiliang, of which a copy is enclosed in your despatch of the 1st of May, and in which you announced your arrival in China, as Her Majesty's Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Emperor of China.

Mr. Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(1 July 31).

Victoria, Hong Kong, May 30,

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to inclose a report of a conversation between the Interpreter, Mr. [unclear] at Canton, and a Chinese who has just returned from Peking, representing the disposition of the Emperor as most hostile. A rumour is current here, that the Russians established at Peking capital have been massacred.

On the other hand, it appears that a Mr. Ta-ki, a Chinese merchant at Shanghai, who deals largely with foreigners, and who, from his intimacy with the Intendant at that place, has a connection with the North, is generally well informed, states that the Chinese Government do not offer any opposition to our visit to Peking.

I do not consider that my plans ought to be influenced in any degree by these reports. No inference is to be drawn from them that there is a strong party opposed to the coming of foreigners, and a party resigned to their coming as inevitable; that the triumph of the one or the other is possible, and will depend on the effect produced by the cordial union of the European powers, and on the fear of a fresh collision with China by the demonstration of an imposing force in support of our demands.

I have, &c.,

Memorandum.

YESTERDAY evening a Cantonese, seen-sang, who has for several years been of lending money to expectant officials, he accompanies when appointed to any place called on me. He had just returned from Peking, via Shanghai, having left the place on the 22nd March. He told me that at the time of his departure from Peking, the expected return of the British Ambassador to Tien-tsin, and the possibility of moving the capital, were subjects freely canvassed in every quarter; that the Emperor was reported to be highly displeased with some of the provisions contained in the Tien-tsin Treaty; that he was entirely averse to the Ambassador's occupying his quarters in the capital, and that he resolved not to grant him an audience on any pretext; that military preparations were going on at Peking and Tien-tsin; that the Russians had offered the Emperor 10,000 muskets, but that His Majesty has declined to accept the present, fearing the muskets in question might be brought to bear by an equal number of Russians; that the arrangement of all matters connected with the position of the British at Tien-tsin, and the preparation of any visit to Peking, had been confided to Sung-wang-yay, a Ta-tsze-wang, son-in-law of the late Emperor; that Sung-wang-yay was at Tien-tsin with 50,000 troops, Manchoo and Chinese; that the batteries at Tien-tsin had been strengthened, and the river staked in such a way as to render it impossible for foreign vessels to reach the city; that 30,000 "so-lo" troops, men never sent out except in cases of the greatest emergency, were under orders to hold themselves in readiness to join Sung-wang-yay if called for; that Sung-wang-yay's orders were to receive the British at Tien-tsin with all civility, but at the same time to prevent any nearer approach to Peking; that Sung-wang-yay was very desirous of gaining military renown, and that the Ambassador be unable to reach P'ekin without having recourse to arms ; that, according to the opinion of the Ambassador, accompanied by a few men, might possibly reach Peking without bloodshed ; that a fight would certainly ensue if more than a hundred men were landed ; that the country between Tien-tsin and Peking being flat, and the Chinese troops being so much more numerous than any number of men the British could bring, it was the general belief that the British could be surrounded and cut to pieces before the completion of one-half the journey.

Seu-seen-sang further informed me that the Russian Ambassador had visited Peking on the 2nd March ; that the Russians in the capital were more than a hundred in number, roamed about as they pleased, much to the grief of the Emperor and the anti-foreign party ; and that it was the general belief of the British, if they once effected an entrance, they would take an ell for every inch the Russians arrogated to themselves ; that at Yung-chow large quantities of grain had been bought up by the Russians, but that the Emperor having been alarmed had forbidden the traffic.

Mr. Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(Received July 31.)

(Extract.) Victoria, Hong Kong,

June 1,

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship that M. de Bourboulon arrived at Hong Kong on the 26th ultimo from Macao, where he had

d by the non-arrival of the corvette and steamer destined to convey him to Tien-tsin. al Rigault had taken all the stores, etc., out of the corvette when at Turon, and she has not completed her provisions, but I trust she will be ready to-morrow, on which day I likewise propose to go to Shanghai direct. I have waited for M. de Bourboulon, as I thought it advisable that the first step we take in the Pekin expedition should be taken by us in concert; and as I do not wish to have any communication with the Imperial Commissioners, should they be still at Shanghai, until my French colleague arrives.

No. 8.

Letter to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(Received August 11.)

My Lord,
I have just received your letter of the 14th inst. regarding my departure from Hong Kong as the French corvette "Duchayla" was ordered to proceed. Foreseeing that I should find on my arrival here questions of considerable importance, which it would be desirable to discuss in concert with M. de Bourboulon, I did not think it advisable to precede him, and thereby place myself in the position either of acting in his stead, or of giving as a reason for delay that I was waiting for him. I reached Shanghai on the evening of June 6, and M. de Bourboulon arrived the following morning.

I have received three letters from the Imperial Commissioners, proposing that, instead of proceeding north to effect the exchange of the ratification, I should remain here and commence discussion on various details connected with carrying the treaty into operation, alleging as their reason for remaining at Shanghai, that the Earl of Elgin, on proceeding to the south, had left some of the details unfinished. On reading, however, Elgin's letter of March 3, 1859, addressed to me on his leaving China, I saw that there was no need to justify their delay ; that they were informed therein of my being the bearer of important documents to be delivered at Peking, and that they were warned that a strict adherence to the time was the only method by which peaceful relations could be preserved. One of the Articles of the Convention describes the exchange of the ratifications at Peking within a year, and I know, from what passed in the year, that it is not, in the eyes of the Chinese, one of the least important of its stipulations.

I am unable to state whether the Commissioners were acting under instructions from their Government to use every effort to prevent our proceeding to the north, or whether they adopted this expedient for the purpose of being out of the way when the visit to the capital, so unpalatable to the pride of the Chinese Government, is to take place. But that their object was to gain time for the favourite policy of this Government, in the hope that something, they know not what, might turn up and relieve them from this visit, I could not doubt ; neither could I doubt, independent of the precise nature of my instructions, that anything which looked like hesitation or irresolution on my part, would encourage the Chinese in putting obstacles in my way, and render the objects of my mission more difficult to accomplish without a fresh appeal to force.

I accordingly addressed to the Secretaries of State, Kweiliang, the inclosed note, declaring that my resolution to proceed was inflexible ; refusing to enter into any discussion of details until after the exchange of ratifications ; declining to grant them an interview at this place, and holding responsible for any consequences that might ensue from the want of due preparation at Peking for my mission.

de Bourboulon, who shares my opinion on the subject, transmitted a note to the same effect. I further sent a short note, pointing out that, by employing one of the steamers lying here, they might still, if they liked, reach Tien-tsin in the meantime the squadron sailed to rendezvous at some islands a short distance off the Peiho, and Admiral Hope left on the 11th, having agreed to inform the officers in charge of the forts at Tientsin that the Ministers of England and France were coming, and to direct them, if they had received no instructions on the subject, to communicate the intelligence to Peking, and obtain a reply within a fixed number of days. On the occasion of the Admiral's departure, I addressed to him a letter copy of which is herewith inclosed. At this time the reports that reached us were encouraging, and I learned from the best authority that a high Chinese official had declared that he would not go to the North, as there would be trouble, and that we should be obliged to give the Chinese Government another lesson at Tientsin before the Emperor would be brought to reason, and before pacific counsels would obtain ascendancy. This tallied with other accounts, with the fact that the war party acquired so much influence at Peking last winter, and sent the most extravagant instructions to the Commissioners, that Ho wrote back that, if affairs were managed in that spirit, the Emperor had named his uncle and the other heads of the war party as Commissioners, as he would not undertake the task of bringing matters to a peaceful conclusion on such terms. To this unusual act of independence, the Emperor appended mark, "his (Ho's) obstinacy will involve calamity." The paper to which I refer retained by Mr. Parkes, and a précis of it forwarded to the Foreign Office in the month of January.

It is clear, therefore, that a war party and that the probability of resistance is a agency not to be lost sight of; and Admiral before leaving, addressed a letter to Sir van Straubenzee, requesting him to send second battalion of Marines to be at hand active operations become necessary.

These steps seem to have alarmed the Commissioners, for, on the 13th, I received the reply from them, which, in its explicit and style, contrasts favourably with the vague puerile tone of their former letters. As the correspondence has been forwarded to Peking, that, there as well as here, it will produce conviction that we are not to be trifled with.

Your Lordship will observe, that though the reply is satisfactory as to the disposition of the Chinese Government, and its readiness to change ratifications, it makes no allusion to the interview with the Emperor, and to the presentation of the letter of credence to him. I infer from this omission that the Emperor has not instructed them on this material point; and the question of ceremonial ought, in my opinion, to be settled before we leave Tien-tsin for Peking. It is clear that it could not have been discussed, involving as it does the necessity of taking the pleasure of the Emperor upon it, without the risk of losing the season altogether for the purpose of Peking.

I must observe, my Lord, that in order to the presentation in person of my credentials to the Emperor, and to deter the Chinese from erto invariable practice of subjecting foreign boys to petty slights and insults, which lower and the Governments they represent in the of the people, I must succeed in inspiring the eror and his Counsellors with a conviction what I have once demanded I will exact, and a wholesome dread of my readiness and power sort to force, if my demands are not complied

 . The notes I have addressed to the Com-ioners, as well as my general bearing, are, I certain, faithfully reported to the Emperor, with this conviction I have purposely assumed attitude and tone best calculated to induce him submit quietly to very unpalatable proposals, by pressing upon him that these concessions are itable, unless he is prepared to draw the d.

he considerable force collected by the Admiral tend to strengthen this impression, and it is more necessary at this time, as the Chinese are e of the absence of any French force from

throughout many generations of our intercourse China we postponed considerations of national ity to our commercial interests and the state-"that the barbarians care for nothing but e," appears again and again in their official rs, as the key to our character, and the prinby acting on which we are to be "soothed controlled." It is essential in dealing on this sion with those questions of forms and cerey so important to the Chinese mind, that we ld disabuse them of this notion, and I believe tenacity and firmness on these points will, by ating our national character in the estimation he people and of the Government, and by ing their respect, if not their goodwill, faciligreatly hereafter our relations with China.

For this reason, when the Commissioner the other day conveyed indirectly to me that they were ready to arrange to my satisfaction the question of the Canton indemnity, I took no notice of the overture.

I ought to add that Mr. Ward, the Minister of the United States, has insisted on exchanging ratifications of his Treaty at Peking, and that he is prepared to accompany us to the North. He has, moreover, advanced the same claim for an interview with the Emperor. Of the intentions of the Russian Envoy, I have learned nothing yet.

It only remains for me to add, that I am leaving this to-morrow morning for the Peiho, my French and American colleagues following me the next day.

KWEILIANG, &c., Hwashana, &c., Her Imperial Commissioners, &c., make a communication.

It appears from the records, that on the 12th day of the 12th moon of last year (January 1859), a despatch was received by the Commissioners from the late British Minister, Lord Elgin, in which there are the following words:—
Undersigned has determined on proceeding to Canton to take certain steps (or to act); his business accomplished, in the course of some five or six weeks, he will name a time for his arrival.

Shanghai, there to settle with the Commissioners questions as still remain to be discussed."*
 At due course of time, on the 26th day of the 1st moon of the present year (March 3, 1859), the Commissioners received a second letter, dated 29th of the 1st moon (March 3), to the effect (Her Britannic Majesty) had appointed the honourable Mr. Bruce to be her Representative, and that he would arrive in China shortly ; her stating that "the Undersigned, now on point of leaving China, must take leave, on his last opportunity of addressing them, earnestly to impress (upon the Commissioners) the one essential to a continuance of friendly relations is the faithful observance of the Treaty," the Commissioners, in consequence of Lord Elgin's earlier letter, in which he engaged to return to Shanghai for a conference with them, had been waiting for him without moving (literally, persistently).

Lord Elgin has returned home, but Mr. Bruce, having received the commands of Her Majesty to succeed him in the administration of all things relating to the Treaty, and now occupying, to the great satisfaction of the Commissioners, a position identical with that of Lord Elgin, his predecessor, the same course to be pursued is, doubtless, to wait a day for a Conference.

A faithful compliance with the engagement already entered into, and as the period appointed for the exchange of the Treaties is very near at hand, it is, of course, most expedient that all business which has to be considered should become KWEI, &c., Hwa, &c., Ho, &c., Two Imperial Commissioners, make a communication.

It appears from the records that on the day of the 12th moon of last year (16th Jan. 1859), the Commissioners received from the British Minister, Lord Elgin, a communication to the effect that he was proceeding to Canton on business, and would return to Shanghai in six weeks, to consider and dispose of all matters on which discussion was still pending.

Firmly persuaded of the good faith of Lord Elgin's words, the Commissioners have been waiting for him several months. His Lordship has now returned home, but as Mr. Bruce has been commanded by Her (Britannic) Majesty to replace him there with Plenipotentiary powers, his position is identical with that of his predecessor Lord Elgin.

With Mr. Bruce's permission the Commissioners will state the questions which have been discussed with Lord Elgin, and decided, as well as those which still remain to be discussed.

As regards admission into Peking, the Commissioners will state the questions which have been discussed with Lord Elgin, and decided, as well as those which still remain to be discussed.

ies is exceptional : when it is over there is no permanent residence in the capital ; some place is to be chosen (for the Minister) to reside at. These are the words of Lord Elgin's speech, the approval of which, by Her Britannic Majesty, when Lord Elgin had the honour to deliver it, was duly reported to His Imperial Majesty by the Commissioners.

As regards the navigation of the river (Yang-tze), Lord Elgin has been himself to Hankow to see the place for once. For the time to come it will be safe and satisfactory that all arrangements be made, as of course they must be, in accordance with the Treaty.*

As regards circulation in the interior, this, without doubt, on the principle laid down by Lord Elgin, viz., that any British subject of respectability and good conduct should receive a passport from the local authorities under which to travel, this is perfectly fair. But inasmuch as China has no means of knowing what British subjects are respectable, it is still necessary that some good adequate means be devised (to this end), that there may be no misgivings on either side.

As regards the city of Canton, Lord Elgin endeavoured to go further into this question when he was to return to Shanghae ; but as his Lordship has since returned to England, it has not been possible to consider it with him. The time for the exchange of the Treaties draws near : the Treaties will be exchanged, the relations between the two countries will be more friendly than ever. As to this, as Imperial Commissioner for the management of the five ports, His Majesty the Emperor has already substituted the Governor-General Ho, one of the Commissioners, for his

 time should be lost in arriving at a satisfactory decision regarding it.

On the 25th instant (27th May) the Commissioners received Mr. Bruce's despatch of Britannic Majesty had done him the honour appoint him her Envoy Extraordinary and telligence. They are of opinion, however, in an affair of so grave importance to both as an exchange of Treaties cannot with any safety be hurried over. The Commissioners, having the fullest confidence in his predecessor, Lord Elgin, when he engaged them to remain at Peking to consider all matters not disposed of, and unable to return to Peking; and if Mr. Bruce should proceed direct to Tien-tsin, the Commissioners, having to travel by land, cannot reckon on arriving there so soon. Indeed, taking into consideration the hindrance to be expected from delay rather on their land journey, this will certainly occupy two months and more, as Mr. Bruce, I imagine, must be well aware.

As to the preparation of vessels, vehicles, &c., at Tien-tsin,* to which the letter under acknowledgment refers, and the selection of a building for Mr. Bruce to reside in, with the understanding now subsisting between the two nations, the arrangement will be, of course, as liberal as it is suggested they should be.† The Commissioners cannot arrive in so short a time, nor can any of these things be done at a moment's notice.

There is another consideration: not only will there be no one to receive Mr. Bruce at Tien-tsin, but it is impossible for the Commissioners to be absent against his arrival, but (there will be no time either to exchange the ratifications): the exchange of the Treaties must be effected by the hands of the Commissioners, and by their hands alone no one can act as their substitutes; and the suitable means of transmission spoken of in Mr. Bruce's letter of the 16th of May.

It is certainly proper that, according to this, or any other fashion (China should be) liberal. There is a great amount of patronage in the expression, the very outset of a Mission sent by His Britannic Majesty as evidence of her desire for peaceful relations, that he is met, not as he has a right to expect, with a cordial and frank reception to the capital, but with delays and hesitations ill-calculated to cement a good understanding. The Undersigned will not, however, swerve in the least from the course he has laid down in his letter of the 18th ultimo. He is resolved to proceed forthwith to Peking, there to exchange ratifications of the Treaty, and to deliver personally the letter intrusted to his charge to His gracious Sovereign to His Imperial Majesty, to whom it is addressed, nor will he quit the city until satisfied that effect will be given, in full reserve, to every provision of the Treaty of Tientsin.

The Undersigned intends no discourtesy to Imperial Commissioners, but he must, under the present circumstances, positively decline any interview with them at this place.

His resolution to proceed to Peking without delay is inflexible.

It is at the same time his duty to warn the Chinese Intendancy Kweiliang that he is prepared to insure a reception befitting the dignity of the nation which he represents, and that any failure in this respect will be attended with the most serious consequences to the Imperial Government.

Mr. Bruce to Commissioner Kweiliang

THE Undersigned, &c., had the honor to receive and address a letter to the Chief Secretary of the Shanghai, upon the 8th instant. He has received reply to this, and he observes that neither his Excellency nor his colleagues the Imperial Commissioners, who have informed him that it is enough their hands alone that the ratifications of the Treaty can pass, are, to all appearance, making any effort to reach Peking by the day on which it by the Treaty agreed the ratifications shall be expedited. He begs, therefore, to point out to them that there are lying in this harbour several steamers, one or two of them flying the Chinese flag, by the employment of which it is perfectly in their power to accomplish their journey at the appointed time.

Admiral Hope, the Naval Commander-in-Chief, has started for the mouth of the Peiho with his squadron, charged to advise the local authorities of the immediate approach of the Undersigned and his colleague M. de Bourboulon, the Minister of France.

The Undersigned, before leaving Shanghai, sought again to impress upon his Excellency Kweiling that his proceeding is in strict accordance with the Treaty provision, and he throws upon the Chinese Government the entire responsibility for any consequences that may arise from its action.

THE communications I have received from the Imperial Commissioners do not, I regret to say, justify me in assuming that the Chinese Government has resolved to receive my visit to Peking with a conciliatory spirit. There is manifestly a determination to treat this visit, not as the exercise of our undoubted privilege under Treaty, but as an exceptional case, the various steps of which are minutely arranged at this place before we can be permitted to proceed to the North; and dissatisfied with the interminable discussions to which such a course would necessarily lead, the Commissioners propose further to enter upon the discussions necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of the Treaty. Their letters breathe throughout an old spirit of jealousy and isolation.

It is not consistent with my instructions, and with the express stipulations of the Treaty, that I should agree to such proposals, nor do I see how it would be possible, within any reasonable time, to settle, at this distance from Peking, questions of ceremonial which affect the Emperor personally, and on which his pleasure will have to be taken.

I am satisfied, on looking over the correspondence, and particularly by a reference to the letter of Elgin's last letter to the Commissioners leaving China, that they cannot allege, without show of reason, that they have prolonged their stay here at his request; and however much I regret the difficulties that may arise out of my absence from the capital at this conjuncture, I do not think that I could depart from the programme contained in my first letter to them, without involving myself later in more serious complications, and without reviving hopes in the mind of the Chinese Government, that by procrastination and discussions they may succeed ultimately in giving to this visit to Peking a character, in the eyes of the Chinese people, at variance with those Kwei, &c., Hwa, &c., Ho, &c., Twau, &c., Imperial Commissioners, make a communication reply.

On receipt of Mr. Bruce's letter of the instant, acquainting the Commissioners that determination to proceed forthwith to Peking to exchange the ratifications of the Treaty unalterable, the Commissioners feeling that it would not be correct that the day appointed for that purpose, which was near at hand, should be passed, after due deliberation decided that the course open to them was to represent the matter fully to His Majesty the Emperor, and to request him to be pleased specially to select some officer who might proceed to Tien-tsin to make arrangements for Mr. Bruce's reception. This memorial was sent forward at the rate of 60 (200 miles) a day,* and would arrive at the capital in some eight or nine days at Peking, so that it might be assumed that when Mr. Bruce and the Ministers of France and America reached Tien-tsin, the Imperial Commissioners could not fail to have arrived as well, and so the exchange of Treaties in Peking would be effected by the time fixed for the purpose.

The Commissioners were in the act of adding to Mr. Bruce to the above effect, when they received his second letter dated the 11th inst. expressing a wish that they should proceed by steamer. They were not unaware that a steamer would be a most expeditious (means of conveyance).

* This is the form of words for the fastest rate of despatch, but one.

they have not received His Majesty's commands (to avail themselves of it), and they could no account presume so to proceed on their own motion. Were they now to make the proposition subject of a memorial (so far from any advantageous result from such a course), there would be, on the contrary, time lost in the marching and countermarching. It behoves them, therefore, in obedience to His Majesty's commands, to return post-haste to the capital. As they have obeyed His Majesty to detach a high officer to act agent in the matter, Mr. Bruce will be certainly enabled to arrive at his destination by the time appointed. With the peaceful relations now established between the two nations, nothing certainly could be done that is not in conformity with the provisions of the Treaty, and the Commissioners, accordingly, pray Mr. Bruce at once to put away all misgiving on the subject. There is no need for him to feel any anxiety. They would wish that on his arrival at the mouth of the Tien-tsin river (the Peiho), he should anchor his vessels of war beside the bar, and then, without much baggage and with a moderate retinue, proceed to the capital for the exchange of the Treaties. His mission being a pacific one (or, as he comes speaking peace), his treatment by the Government of China should not fail to be in every way most courteous; and it is the sincere wish of the Commissioners that relations of friendship may be from this time forth consolidated, and that on each side confidence may be felt in the good faith and justice of the other.

A necessary communication, addressed to the honourable F. Bruce, C.B., &c., &c.

(Received June 13, 8 A.M.)

Mr. Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(Received September 13.)

Off the Peiho River,

MY LORD, July 5, 1860

I HAVE the honour to state that four days after the receipt of his Excellency Kweiliang's letter, I left Woosung for the north, taking the Coromandel in tow, in order to have an unarmed vessel which to ascend the river.

On arriving at the Islands of Sha-loo-tien, the rendezvous agreed on with the Admiral, I found the squadron no longer there, and proceeded to the mouth of the Peiho on the 20th June, when the ships were assembled, the Admiral having sent the gun-boats over the bar, on account of the heavy sea running outside.

Admiral Hope reached the Islands of Sha-loo-tien on the 16th, and on the 17th he landed at anchorage in the Fury, attended by two gun-boats to announce the coming of the Ministers of Great Britain and France to the authorities at the mouth of the river. The Fury and gun-boats anchored outside the bar, and Commander Commerell, Mr. Mongan, the interpreter, went over the bar in the Fury's gig, to deliver the message. The rebels were not allowed to land by the armed rabble on the bank, and when Captain Commerell asked for an interview with the authorities, they declared that there was no authority, civil or military, at the spot; that the barriers in the river had been made by the people at their own expense, and against us, but against the rebels; and that the garrison consisted of militia only. The English spokesman, who called himself an engineer, the Clerk of the Works, however, offered to take the message to Tientsin, and bring back an answer.

On receiving the report of what had passed, Admiral Hope sent Captain Commerell in again to inform them of the arrival of the Ministers, and to request that a passage should be opened within five days to allow of their proceeding by the river to Tien-tsin.

To this they replied that they had dispatched a messenger to Tien-tsin to notify our arrival, and that a passage should be opened within the required time. Admiral Hope then returned to Peking-loo-tien.

On the 18th the squadron left for the Peiho, and the gun-boats anchored inside the bar on account of the heavy sea running outside; and on the 20th, the day of my arrival, Admiral Hope proceeded to the forts to see whether steps had been taken to open a passage for us, and to deliver the letter he had addressed to the Intendant of Tien-tsin, stating that the squadron would remain at the anchorage during our visit to Peking, and requesting that a market should be opened for the purchase of fresh provisions, and arrangements made for the landing of officers and men in such numbers as might not be inconvenient to the inhabitants of Peking-loo.

The same rabble came down to the bank, and opposed the landing, one of them threatening Mr. Goss with a drawn sword when he jumped on shore. They again denied the presence of any authority, and asserted that they were militia, acting on their own responsibility. Instead of removing the obstacles, they had further closed the passages, and when taxed with this breach of their promise, denied that they had ever offered to remove the barriers.

To give more colour to their assertions of the absence of any authority, they hoisted no flags on the forts, and no soldier was visible during the time the squadron was lying there.

It is not difficult to understand the motive of the Chinese Government in thus holding us contrary to their usual custom, from all communication with the squadron and foreign Ministers. We know from the Peking gazettes that during the last eight months they have been steadily adding to their defences along this coast, and Sungko-lin-sin, a Mongol Prince, the head of a war party, and distinguished by his successful defence of Tien-tsin against the rebels in 1852, has been appointed Commander-in-chief of the district. It is evident that the Government was preparing for our arrival, and had instructed the garrison to represent themselves as a military force, and to deny the presence of any constituted authority, by which arrangement they hoped to assume an attitude which would enable them to take advantage of his success, if he were able to drive us out of the river, or to disavow his proceedings if he failed in his efforts to do so.

After a long and anxious consultation with Bourboulon and I decided that we ought to adhere strictly to the course laid down in our letter to Kweiliang at Shanghae, and that we should do as much for the sake of our future communications with Peking as for the successful accomplishment of the mission now confided to us, on the right of the river as the natural highway to the capital. If, in accordance with Kweiliang's memorandum, a high officer had been deputed to meet us at this place, bearing a friendly invitation from the Emperor, and satisfactory assurances as to the personal reception by him, we were quite prepared to have proceeded as far as Tien-tsin with such vessels as were required for the accom-of ourselves and suite, for I do not think that in any case we ought to have allowed our right to choose the only expeditious and commodious route to the capital to be questioned. But on considering the late proceedings of the Chinese Government, the persistency of Kweiliang and his colleagues in remaining in the south instead of returning to Peking, the proposal to effect the ratifications at Shanghai, the attempts to delay our progress to the north by raising fresh discussions in the Treaty, and finally, the hostile and discourteous reception we have met with here, we were forced to conclude that the difficult task lay before us of carrying the Treaties into full operation, and of ensuring a reception at Peking on terms to the last degree mortifying to Chinese arrogance, while the Emperor is in the hands of a party averse to concession and relying on their preparations to resist us.

Every incident corroborated the information we obtained at Shanghai from a Chinese authority, reported to your Lordship in my despatch of the 4th ultimo, that the Emperor would not accede to what we were instructed to demand except under the pressure of fear.

The question, then, for consideration was, how were we to work sufficiently on the fears of the Emperor to induce him to give way? The experience of last year showed that the presence of a squadron in the gulf was not enough to effect that object, while it equally showed that the opening of Peking would follow on the accessibility of Tien-tsin to our ships being established. We could hardly be mistaken in inferring from the studied manner in which the Chinese officials held aloof from all communication with us, and from the repeated assertion of no authority being present at the forts, that the Government was prepared to disavow these hostile proceedings succeeded in clearing a passage up the river.

We were equally justified by our past experience, and by the reluctance of the Chinese Government to allow us to proceed up the river, assuming that they considered they would derive great advantage by keeping the vessels at anchor, and by reducing us to negotiating in the interior, deprived of the moral support which should have been acquired from the presence of our fleet at Tien-tsin. Our desisting from claiming the right to go up in our own ships would have been attributed to inability to force their defences, and our ascendancy would thus have been secured in the war-party in the Emperor's councils. My intention is, that in that case we must have abandoned all hope of a proper reception at Peking on that occasion, and that we should have found it impossible to establish unrestricted access to the Central Government in future, or work for the practice the clauses of the Treaty providing for free circulation in the interior, and the imposition of regular duties instead of arbitrary exactions and impositions which can always be evaded, and which we can have no other guarantee than the Emperor's dread of giving us offence.

On the 21st of June, I accordingly addressed a letter to Admiral Hope (copy inclosed), requesting him in the joint names of M. de Bourboulon and myself, to take such steps as he might deem expedient to clear away the obstacles in the river, and as to admit of our proceeding at once to Tien-tsin. Nothing was done until the 24th, the Admiral being meanwhile engaged in notifying the Chinese that the passage up the river had not been opened, and should proceed to open it himself, and Mr. Lay, the American Minister, having signified his intention of proceeding on the 24th in his amer to the forts, and requiring a free passage the river, in which application he was, like myself, unsuccessful. During that night, however, Admiral Hope caused part of the obstacles to be blown up without loss, and the attempt to pass the barriers and proceed up the river was completed for the morning of the following day.

About 9 A.M. on the 25th a junk came alongside Her Majesty's ship Magicienne anchored about five miles from the forts, and a petty mandarin came on board with a letter addressed to me by the Governor-General of Pecheleo, translation of which I herewith inclose. It announced that the Governor-General had been ordered to proceed to Peh-tang-ho, an inlet or small mouth of the river, about ten miles to the northward of this anchorage, and thence to offer his services to Her Majesty's Minister. That Kweiliang and Hwasan had been summoned back to Peking, as the persons authorized to exchange ratifications, and convey the Minister to the capital. I was requested, therefore, to await their arrival, and to allow time for the withdrawal of the troops, quarantined at Peh-tang-ho, after which the Governor-General would come in a vessel to convey me to the landing-place, whence I should proceed to Peking by land.

This letter was dated the 23rd, and only reached me on the 25th,—a delay which is inexcusable, if it had been intended to reach me in time. As, in the body of the letter, the name of Her Majesty was not put on the same level with that of the Emperor of China, thereby violating the principle of equality established by the Treaty, it was returned by Mr. Wade for correction, with the intimation that I was about to proceed to Peking-tsin.

As the attempt to pass up the river was made at 10 A.M., it would have been difficult for me, at that late hour, to have communicated with the Admiral, who was at a distance of nine miles and already engaged in his operations. It should not have been deterred by the information alluded to above, had the contents of the letter been satisfactory. It will be seen, however, by comparing it with Kweiliang's last letter to me at Shanghae, that the proposal differs somewhat from the course recommended by the Commissioners, as to confirm the impression in my mind that the pacific party had lost their influence with the Emperor. Kweiliang had acknowledged the propriety of exchanging the ratifications within the stipulated period, and had proposed that a person should be named to meet me at Shanghai and conduct me at once to Peking; thus admitting that the Treaty was to be accepted as final without further discussion.

The Governor-General of Pechilee proposes the same course which is substantially a repetition of the attempts made to detain me at Shanghai, and to postpone indefinitely the exchange of ratifications, thereby giving room for re-opening discussion on those points which are particularly objectionable to the Chinese Government. In both letters, however, it is remarked that a demand for a personal interview is passed over in silence; and in neither did I inform that the Imperial Government had refused to our making use of the river-route to Tientsin.

Apart, therefore, from the considerations specified above, for believing that the admission of the right to go up the river would be detrimental to the success of the Mission, and would establish a precedent which would put it in the power of the Chinese Government to throw difficulties in the way of our future intercourse with them.

Admiral Hope having notified to me that the force under his command was unable to clear the passage up the river, M. de Bourboulon and myself agreed that we must consider the mission to Peking at an end for the present, and that we should retire to Shanghae. I accordingly addressed the inclosed letter to the Admiral, requesting him to dispose of the force in the manner best calculated to preserve tranquillity at the ports open to trade. I thought it expedient not to address any communication to the Chinese Government upon these events, in order not to interfere in any way with the decision of Her Majesty's Government, and to keep the Chinese Government as long as possible in suspense as to its ulterior intentions.

HAVING arrived here with a considerable squadron, in company with the Honourable Frederick Bruce, the Minister empowered by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain to exchange the ratifications of the Treaty concluded last year with His Majesty the Emperor of China, and it being my intention that the squadron shall remain here during Mr. Bruce's absence at Peking, I request that proper directions may be given that I may be permitted to purchase such supplies of fresh provisions and other articles as I require; and that the officers and men may have free communication with and access to the shore in such numbers as may not be inconvenient to the inhabitants of Takoo.

DE BOURBOULON and myself having considered the position of affairs, we come to the conclusion that it would not be consistent with the course hitherto adopted by us, to further our attempts to reach Peking within the time specified by the Treaty for the exchange of ratifications. The Chinese Government, by the Article of the Treaty itself, is before us in possession of the correspondence that has passed at Shanghai with the Commissioners, and, if they wished to do so, could have sent orders to retard our progress up the river. As you are aware of the course their officers at Ta-koo are pursuing, it bears every mark of a fixed determination to prevent our proceeding to Tien-tsin. Their officers in charge of the forts keep out of the way to avoid making any specific declaration of their intentions until their preparations for our arrival are completed, and their subordinates do not hesitate at positive falsehood for the purpose.

There is considerable reason to believe that the Mongol Prince in charge of the works the object of the war-party repose, and that if he is successful in his attempt to keep us out of the river, his counsels will prevail with the Emperor, and there is little chance of any satisfactory result while their confidence in him is unabated. The visit to the capital will be effected in such a manner as to impress the Chinese with a sense of our national power and equality. We have therefore resolved to place the matter in your hands, and to request you to take any measures you may deem expedient for clearing away the obstructions in the river, so as to allow us to proceed at once to Tien-tsin.

I have also to beg that you will act in M. de Bourboulou's name as well as in mine.

Governor Hang to Mr. Bruce.

(Translation.)

HANG, Governor-General of Chili, &c, &c., &c., makes a communication.

In obedience to the commands of His Imperial Majesty, the Governor-General has come to Peh-tang-Ho, a port (or harbour) to the northward of Ta-koo, to be of any service (or to do the honours to) Her Britannic Majesty's Envoy.

As the negotiations of the Treaty made last year, His Majesty the Emperor has issued a Decree commanding the Chief Secretary of State, Kweiliang, and the President of the Board of Civil Office, Hwashana, to return from Shanghai to Peking, and they may arrive any day. If the Envoy of Her Britannic Majesty will have the goodness to wait until the Chief Secretary Kweiliang and his colleagues reach the capital, they will thereupon receive him at once, and he will enter the capital to exchange the Treaties (or will exchange the Treaties in the capital).

At Peh-tang-Ho itself there has always been a military station and a battery for the defence of the coast. Orders have been issued to remove the troops and guns to the rear, and, as soon as this shall be effected, a vessel (or vessels) will be prepared for the Governor-General to proceed with outside the bar to welcome Her Britannic Ma-

's Envoy to Peh-tang-Ho, whence he can be sent by land to Peking.

SIR,

July 2, 1859.

I REGRET that in consequence of a resistance which our previous experience of Chinese warfare could not have led us to anticipate, the means at your disposal have proved insufficient to remove the obstacles to my progress up the Peiho.

Allow me at the same time, whilst offering you my profound sympathy for the loss sustained by the squadron, to express my sincere admiration of the decision and gallantry shown in the operation undertaken for that object.

As you inform me that in the face of this formidable resistance, further operations cannot lead to a successful result, I beg to state that I have for the present abandoned all attempts to reach Peking, and have resolved to refer home for instructions as to the course to be adopted. With this view Mr. Rumbold proceeds by the next mail to England to furnish Her Majesty's Government with full particulars respecting what has occurred.

Under these circumstances, I agree with you that the return of the Marines and Sappers to Hong Kong is desirable, and that the ships should be employed in the manner most conducive to the security of Her Majesty's subjects and to the protection of their interests at the several ports.

In accordance with your request, I have communicated to M. de Bourboulon a copy of your letter.

No. 10.

Mr. Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury. — (Received September 13.)

MR LORD, Shanghai, July 13, 1859.

I PROPOSE in this despatch to give a succinct account of the course I have adopted, and of the grounds on which it is based. It is necessary to allude briefly to the maxims of China in regard to intercourse with foreign nations, as they afford the key to what has taken place.

In China international relations have been always studiously ignored by the Government, and in no single instance has a foreign Minister succeeded in obtaining admission to the capital, except on performance of the "kotow," or ceremony of vassalage, or in the character of tribute-bearer. The subjects of foreign nations residing in China are represented as belonging to barbarous tribes, and living by trade, of all occupations the one least in repute among the Chinese, as devoid of civilization, and ignorant of the rules of reason, and by all means to be confined to the outskirts of the country.

According to the maxims of the Government they are entitled to no rights beyond those accorded by the favour of the Emperor, and though circumstances and the weakness of the Government have led it to acquiesce in the concession of considerable privileges to foreigners in distant sea-ports, it is remarkable, as proving how tenaciously it holds to its traditions, that it always classifies as acts of rebellion the measures of coercion adopted by foreign Governments to obtain redress for wrongs done to their subjects.

Now the British Treaty of Tien-tsin (which is much more complete in this respect than the Treaties signed at that place by the other Powers) asserts principles which are diametrically opposed to these traditional pretensions of the Chinese Government. According to it the British Minister is to be accredited as a Representative of an independent equal Power, and the Chinese Government, in its treatment of him, is called upon finally to abandon the assumption of superiority which it asserted uncompromisingly during Lord Amherst's Embassy, and so lately as three years ago, when Count Poutiatine first proposed to visit Peking. He is to be allowed free and unrestricted communication with the capital, not only as specified in the French and American Treaties, when he has business to transact, but whenever he wishes to visit it. His diplomatic intercourse is to be conducted according to the usages of Western nations, and he is not to be called on to perform any ceremony of a nature derogatory to his character as representing an equal and independent nation. In future, access to the capital is to be recognized as a right the Minister can insist on, instead of its being begged for as a favour, and either refused or conceded on such terms as the Chinese might choose to impose for the sake of saving their own dignity at the expense of that of the foreign Envoy in the eyes of the Chinese population.

The clauses which permit British subjects to travel in the interior, and open the Yang-tze river to British shipping, are equally subversive of the established maxims of Chinese statesmen. To push us back on the sea-board, and confine us to as few sea-ports as possible, to keep us outside the walls of important cities, and vilify us to the people, in order to preserve a wall of separation between the races, is the policy which the Chinese Government, from its adherence to usage, and from its indifference, if not dread of all progress, which can only be attained through novelty, would gladly follow, if it dared to do so.

It is not surprising, therefore, when the allied squadrons left the Peiho river last year, and the panic produced by their presence began to subside; that ancient maxims and prejudices should have gradually resumed the ascendant at Peking, and that the Imperial Cabinet should have entertained hopes of recovering part of the ground it had lost. There is proof of its language and feeling with regard to foreigners having undergone no change in a Decree published in the "Peking Gazette," on the 25th July, one month after the signature of the Treaty, in which allusion is made to the "barbarians suddenly rushing up the river to Tien-tsin, and retiring moved by the commands of Kweiliang and his colleague, signified with affectionate earnestness." Sungko - lin - sin, a Mongol Prince, reputed to be their best General, was made Commander-in-chief of the Pechelee province, with a large force at his disposal; the forts at Takoo rebuilt and strengthened, and stakes and obstacles of different kinds placed across the river to efface the impression produced by the proceedings of last year, and by preventing foreign ships from arriving at Tien-tsin, to render Peking more inaccessible than ever.

While these preparations were going on, the departure of the High Officer of the Board of Revenue, who was to settle the Tariff at Shanghai, was delayed, in order that he might not reach Shanghai until the season for operations in the Gulf of Pechelee had passed, and when he started he was accompanied by the Imperial Commissioners Kweiliang and Hwashana. Subsequent events leave no doubt in my mind that the statement contained in the letter of which Mr. Parkes obtained possession, is substantially correct, and that they were instructed to obtain modifications in the principal Articles of the Treaty — the residence at Peking, the opening of the Yang-tze river, and circulation in the interior, to all of which the Emperor strongly objects.

In their first letter the Commissioners advanced the principle that the Treaty having been signed under pressure, its provisions had not been fully discussed. But the determination evinced by Lord Elgin not to allow the Treaty to be called in question, seems to have convinced the Commissioners that it was advisable to rest satisfied with the concession made as to permanent residence at the capital. It is clear, however, that their remonstrances against the policy, enjoined on them from Peking, were most unpalatable to the Emperor and his counsellors, who urged them to make further efforts; and the dissatisfaction with the conduct of Ho, who seems to have pointed out most strongly the inexpediency of the course proposed, is reported to have been expressed in the autograph rescript, that "his obstinacy would be the cause of calamity to him."

In the beginning of March, Lord Elgin, who had left Shanghae on account of the unsatisfactory state of Canton, wrote to the Commissioners, stating that Her Majesty's Government had agreed not to establish the Mission permanently at Peking, on condition of a proper reception being given to Her Majesty's Minister. He further informed them of his approaching departure from China, and of my appointment, charged with important documents to be delivered at the capital, and warned them solemnly that peaceful relations could only be maintained by a faithful observance of the Treaty. The Imperial Commissioners, in spite of this information, continued at Soo-chow, instead of returning to the capital to prepare for the reception of myself and the French Minister, and their motive in so doing was made sufficiently manifest by their attempts through a Chinese formerly in Mr. Wade's, but now in the Chinese service, to ascertain whether we would consent to exchange ratifications at Shanghai, or, at least, to be conducted from that point by land to Peking. This journey occupies two months, and I leave your Lordship to judge whether, had we adopted this route, we should not have abandoned, for all practical purposes, one great object of the Treaty, viz., free access to the Central Government.

It was only after my arrival at Hong Kong, that I heard of the Commissioners having remained in the south, and received Mr. Hart's memorandum (inclosed in my despatch of the 30th of May), describing the hostile feeling of the Court, and throwing considerable light on the motives of this inconvenient delay of the Commissioners. I felt at once that it became necessary either to throw overboard my instructions entirely, to abandon the visit to Peking and the attempt to establish, on a proper footing, once for all, our diplomatic relations with the Court of Peking, or to declare that I would insist on exchanging the ratifications at the capital within the period stipulated in the Treaty, and on a personal reception by the Emperor for the purpose of delivering to him Her Majesty's autograph letter. I could not doubt that the task of extorting a reception at Peking in a form implying a surrender on the part of the Emperor of his pretensions to national superiority, would be more difficult than obtaining a recognition of our equality on paper; and that the Chinese Government, in accordance with its usual policy, would endeavour, by prescribing the route I was to follow, by limiting the number of my attendants, and by bad arrangements during the journey, to put me in the degrading position hitherto occupied by foreign Envoys, and recover by this means the prestige it had lost by our successful coup de main of last year. To prevent such a result, and to receive free access to the capital in future on becoming terms, I decided, after mature reflection, on proceeding by the river, the natural highway to Tien-tsin, under the British flag, as its presence at that place would establish in the eyes of the Chinese that our visits to Peking are a matter of right, not of favour.

M. de Bourboulon, whom I consulted before deciding on the course to be pursued, entertained views similar to mine, and wrote a despatch to the Commissioners in the same sense.

I could not, however, in face of the unsatisfactory information I had received, hope that the Chinese Government would agree to such a complete revolution of its mode of dealing with foreigners, unless I was backed by a sufficient force to inspire it with alarm. I accordingly consulted with Admiral Hope and Sir Charles van Straubenzee on this point. Several gun-boats and part of the squadron had been dispatched by Sir Michael Seymour to Shanghai, previous to my arrival in China, to be ready to accompany me to the north. This measure had been adopted before unfavourable intelligence had been received from that quarter.

We agreed, on consultation, that the force dispatched was not large enough to produce the desired impression. It was accordingly strengthened, particularly in the class of vessels that can cross the bar, and brought up to an equality with that which accompanied the allied Ambassadors last year. The larger the force, the less likelihood, judging from our experience of the Chinese character, there would be of a collision.

On arriving at Shanghai, where I proceeded as soon as my French colleague was ready, I found, as I anticipated, the Commissioners armed with pretexts to detain me, and prevent my visit to the Peiho. Their letters, though moderate in tone, alluded to the three principal clauses of the Treaty, and proposed to re-open discussion upon them. Had I accepted this overture, and abandoned the course laid down in my letter of the 16th May, they would have inferred that I was to be "soothed and controlled," and would have postponed the ratifications, with the intention of obtaining my assent to conditions which would have deprived these clauses of their practical efficacy. This view is confirmed by the fact that they were not in possession of the ratified Treaties, the Chinese Government having thus confined them to the task of gaining time, if nothing else, by renewing negotiations, reserving meanwhile in its own hands the power of exchanging the ratifications or not, as it might seem expedient, after the result of the interviews had been communicated to it.

I think that the Commissioners themselves were acting rather in obedience to their instructions from Peking, than in the expectation that their attempts to detain us here would be successful. For as soon as they received my letter, stating that I would not enter into discussions until the ratifications were exchanged, and declining any interview with them at Shanghai, the twelve-month allowed by Treaty for the exchange having almost expired, they changed entirely their tone. They acknowledged the propriety of abiding by the terms of the Treaty, and stated that they had memorialised the Emperor to send down a high officer to Tien-tsin, whom we should find on our arrival ready to conduct us in time to the capital. Though they hinted at a journey by land from the river's mouth, and wished me to anchor the squadron outside the bar, they did not state that orders had been given to prevent us entering the river, and making use of it to reach the town of Tien-tsin.

Admiral Hope left a day before the reply of the Commissioners was received, being desirous of making the passage under sail. The place of rendezvous was fixed at the Sha-loo-tien Islands, whence he was to communicate to the authorities the approaching arrival of the Ministers of England and France, en route for Tien-tsin, and inquire whether orders had been given for our reception,

I announced his departure the next day to the Commissioners, and suggested the propriety of their proceeding to the Peiho on board one of the steam-ships, owned by Chinese, lying here, by which means they would be able to reach it in time to receive us. They declined doing so, on the ground that they could not adopt so unusual a method of travelling without the Emperor's permission. This may be so, but I am inclined to think they shared in the feeling expressed in confidence by the most enlightened of their assistants, that he would not go to the North, as there would be trouble, and that the Emperor and his counsellors were so unreasonable that they could not be brought to terms without another lesson.

M. de Bourboulon and I left Shanghai four days after the receipt of the letter of the Commissioner, in order to afford time for the memorial to reach the Emperor, and for the necessary orders to be given, should he be inclined to accord us a friendly reception, and carry out the recommendations it contained.

Mr. Ward, the American Minister, accompanied us at their express invitation, having claimed, under the most favoured nation clause; the right to exchange the ratifications at Peking and present his credentials to the Emperor.

My despatch of the 5th instant, which is forwarded by the present opportunity, gives in detail the events that took place at the Peiho. I have only to remark, in explanation of the course pursued, that we found ourselves off the mouth of the river, which forms the highway to Peking, within a few days of the expiration of the period fixed by the Treaty for the exchange of the ratifications. On requesting a passage to be opened for us, and explaining the peaceful objects of the mission, we were informed that there was no authority on the spot ; that the fort and barriers were not constructed by order of the Government, but by the people, who had built and garrisoned them for their protection against rebels, not to keep us out of the river. In proceeding to remove them we, therefore, violated no order of the Imperial Government, and, had we been successful, the Government could, and would, no doubt, have disavowed entirely the acts of those who opposed us. At the same time we were convinced that the repugnance of the Chinese Government to execute fully the Treaty, and to grant us the reception we were instructed to demand, could only be overcome by a sense of their inability to resist us. The preparations made since last year had given them confidence, and that feeling would have been increased had we, on coming in presence of them, receded from the demands we had made. Under such circumstances to have accepted the proposal of the Governor-General of Chili would have been to enter on a path which must have ended in disgrace and failure ; and nothing, in my opinion, would have justified us in consenting to it, unless the only competent authority to pronounce a judgment on such a question had expressed doubts as to the result of an attempt to force the passage of the river. But I can state positively that if Admiral Hope had expressed doubts on the subject they would not have been shared by the squadron, nor by those who have had most experience of warfare in China; and, if it be decided that the means at our command were insufficient to justify us in pursuing so bold a line of policy, it is but right that I should share that responsibility with him.

The Intendant of this place has received official notice of these events from Peking, with orders, as he states, not to molest the English. But the effect of this check must be prejudicial to our interests, as in this, more than in almost any country, we are respected and considered in proportion as we are feared, and whatever may be the ultimate decision of this Government with reference to the Treaty of Tien-tsin, I do not think that its provisions can be carried out until we recover our superiority in the eyes of the Chinese.

Mr. Wade has drawn up a full and explicit Memorandum on the proceedings of the Chinese Government within the last year, to which I beg to call your Lordship's attention.

I have, &c.

Inclosure 1 in No. 10.

Translation of a Paper forwarded to the Earl of Elgin in Mr. Parke's Despatch of January 15, 1859.

[Memorandum.—Two Chinese Clerks, perfectly unknown to each other, have suggested, the moment they read this paper, that it was the composition of a small official sent by Hwang-tsung-han to Shanghae, to watch the progress of affairs. The writer speaks of himself throughout as an official of much lower rank than the person he addresses, but I not think that this is Hwang. The words "Governor General" (of the Two Kwang) prefixed to Hwang's name, must have been elevated, had the letter been written to him direct.

It must have been sent to Canton after Lord Elgin's departure for Hankow, and before his return to Shanghae.—T. W.]

THE administrators-in-chief of barbarian business in the capital are the three Princes Hwui, Kung, and Ching (1).

When the four Imperial Commissioners (2) had their audience to take leave, His Majesty very positively signified to them that it was his pleasure not to allow peace to be made in this sort of way (3), and that the whole fifty-six Articles of the Treaty of Tien-tsin must be cancelled. Ho, Governor-General of the Two Kiang, received them at Chang-chow in the 8th moon (August, September), and stoutly maintained that there must be no mention whatever of change. They were consequently at issue until their arrival at Shanghae, when, owing to the strong support given by the Treasurer Wang to the representations of Ho, the Commissioners began to incline to a compromise. Several memorials were addressed to the Throne in the joint names of the whole five, in reply to which they continued to receive, in every case, His Majesty's peremptory injunctions (to persist in the course prescribed); until, in his last decree, His Majesty declared his pleasure to be, that if peace were made with the barbarians, four conditions must be insisted on.

Firstly, he would on no account allow trade from Hankow to Nankin.

(Secondly, this condition is omitted most likely by mistake, as the text below shows the question to have been the residence of a Minister at Pekin.)

Thirdly, he would not allow (foreigners) to circulate in the different provinces.

Fourthly, he would have the provincial city of Canton evacuated at an early date.

On receipt of His Majesty's commands as above, the Commissioners had several consultations with the barbarians. They, alas ! would give in on one point only, to wit, the evacuation of Canton ; in the other three they held out for what had been proposed at Tien-tsin.

The Commissioners and the Governor-General Ho accordingly made up (4) another Memorial, to the effect that the barbarians had promised to evacuate Canton ; that as regarded admission into Pekin, they would not be allowed to go and come in large bodies, nor to build churches there, but that the admission of four or five on any future occasion, when they might have business of importance to transact, need not be prohibited; that, as to circulation in the provinces, no one was to travel save with a passport, to be issued under the seals of the local authorities and the Consuls of the barbarians; no one would take on himself to go without one; so that, as it would still rest with the local authorities, when the time came, (5) to give or withhold a passport, this point might, in their opinion, also be conceded. There thus remained no question but that of the navigation of the river up to Hankow, whither it would really be difficult to prevent barbarians from proceeding.

To this representation they received for answer from the Emperor, "Try again with all your might, and you will succeed again."

The Commissioners and Ho, after receiving this, again put their seals to the Treaties, and exchanged copies of them as concluded; and it was agreed that in the third moon (April, May), the barbarians should go into the capital again to exchange national letters (letters between the Governments). Ho, the Governor-General, returned the same day to Soo-chow: the Treasurer Wang also returned on the 5th. The English leader Elgin had started up the Great River on the 3rd, with five steamers for Hankow. Just before his departure, he said: "Provided that the provincial authorities behave well to me, I shall not insist on ready money (or immediate payment) (6) at Shanghae, and I will write to Canton, and have the city evacuated at once; but if there is any more fighting (on my journey), I must postpone action (on these points)." The Commissioners answered: "We will write to prevent any one giving you matter of offence: at the same time there are several positions along your road in the hands of the rebels, and we are not responsible for any trouble these may occasion you; nor will it be our affair if your vessels come to harm by getting aground on any of the numerous shoals in the Great River." "It does not concern you, of course," said he, "I can take care of myself;" and so he started. The following day he got aground off Fu-shan, and after transshipping his guns, &c., to a smaller vessel, on the 5th, he got off by dint of great exertions on the 8th, and was reported to have passed Nankin on the 11th. It was also said that the long-haired men (the rebels) had fired upon him, though this is not certain. On the 10th, however, a number of devils were brought back, the barbarians said, ill of the small-pox, but the people have it, wounded by the rebels. Which is the truth I know not.

In conclusion, I may remark that everything relating to the barbarians is kept so quiet that it is hard to learn the facts. To give an instance : since the Commissioners arrived here every Conference they have had with the Chiefs to discuss business questions has been held either on board a steamer or in some out-of-the-way place, and, their measures agreed on (the conferring parties) have gone home to carry them out. This is for fear they might be overheard by the native servants of the different houses of business, who understand the devil-language.

The Emperor has been moved to abolish the restrictions on opium, and to admit it into port at 30 taels per picul import duty, and into the interior at 15 taels transit duty. The tariff is settled. All goods pay 5 per cent. ad valorem. This is proposed as the import duty. If barbarians go into the interior to sell merchandize, they are to pay $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. (as a transit duty), whether they pass eight barriers or ten. On tea and silk there are some augmentations and some diminutions. The rules are now in form, and, as soon as the seal has been put to them, a copy shall be submitted to you.

Touching the money payment to be made to the barbarians (to the English), 6,000,000 dollars, and to the Americans, 600,000 dollars, the latter, some time ago, expressed their readiness to the Commissioners to give up 100,000 dollars ; they would require only 500,000 dollars, namely, 100,000 to be paid at Shanghai, 100,000 at Foo-chow, and 300,000 at Canton, to be deducted, during three years, from the duties. The Commissioners had settled the form of instrument, so that the American question may be looked on as decided. A despatch to this effect must (soon) reach Canton. The English indemnity will, most likely, follow a like rule of apportionment, a quota being levied on the (customs of the) places aforesaid, or the whole may be laid on the Shanghai duties, in which case the people (of Canton) need feel no alarm. These barbarians are very anxious, nevertheless, to make Canton pay the largest share. This would delight them. Indeed, so deep-seated is the ill-will with which they regard the Canton officials, gentry, and people, that they actually talk of shutting up Canton as a port altogether, and never trading there again. They have several times pressed the Commissioners, with all their might, to denounce the Governor-General (Hwang), and the three gentlemen (Lo Lung, and Su), as a condition of peace (or, before they would treat of peace). This has not only been done by word of mouth, but there has been correspondence upon it, of which I enclose copies.

The Commissioners, I should humbly suppose, can hardly have been so stupid as to give in to everything in this way (7). They may be holding such language as a means of keeping (the barbarians) within range (8). It is impossible to say. Should they have moved the Emperor, as was suggested, His Sacred Majesty would not surely have accepted their view of the case. Never, since the world began, was there such a doctrine as that the official, instead of punishing the robber for his theft, is to conciliate him by doing whatever his malignity may dictate against the person he has robbed (9). (My remarks, I am sensible, are presumptuous.) How should an officer of my low estate and mean abilities venture on propositions at random? It is our duty to abide His Majesty's decision.

Another statement is that Ho is strongly urging an application to the Emperor to transfer the seal of High Commissioner for the Five Ports from Canton to Kiang-su, and that the Commissioners will very presently address the Emperor to that effect. After his return to Soo-choo, the Governor-General Ho addresses to the Emperor two memorials in succession, setting forth how difficult it was to negotiate peace; that after all his pains he had only got so far; that the barbarians when they had got a foot wanted ever an inch more; that they were quite ready to add something to the fifty-six Articles they now had, but would not abate a single letter. Further, he said that he knew it was in the hands of the three Princes that the direction-general lay, and if His Majesty would not agree (to what he, Ho, recommended), he must beg him to send the three Princes to manage the things for themselves. To this the Emperor in his autograph rescript (10), rejoined, "No luck, of a truth, can attend such perversity and opiniativeness" (11).

The Treasurer Wang was at the same time commanded to return with all speed to Soo-chow; the Emperor would not allow him to remain at Shanghae interfering in barbarian affairs.

It was subsequently asserted that the Governor-General Ho had been deprived of his button, and five Commissioners ordered to proceed from the capital to Tsing-kiang Pu (12), whether for this or some other matter it was not clear. But (these two last statements) are but a report, which as I have not seen the documents, I do not venture to affirm is true. I purpose, as soon as I have dispatched this letter (13) (lit., petition), going in person to Soo-chow to see the Treasurer Wang, and find out (14) the truth from him. I shall ask him for copies of some of the despatches, which I will forward in a separate cover.

The French were away last month at Japan and in Anam. They were not by when the English and the other nation were negotiating. Since their Chief's return to Shanghae he wanted to go to Peking to build churches there, a proposition which induced much discussion, without any satisfactory result (15). The tradespeople (or mercantile Chinese) say that no harm will come of this; they (the French) must talk in this fashion; and that when the English Chief returns (16), everything will be settled, all and sundry.

The Russians are not at Shanghae, and have taken no part (in what has passed).

The Commissioners themselves are entertaining every day, or sitting for their portraits (16A), or paying visits to the devils, taking their fill of enjoyment with nothing whatever to do.

Pwan Si-ching (Pontinqua) reached Hangchow on the 12th of the moon but has not yet arrived at this place. The man the Commissioners and the barbarians really want is Howqua (17). It is a matter of indifference to them whether Pontinqua comes or not; by the time he arrives, I imagine, there will be nothing for him to do.

Another rumour is that the Commander-in-chief Yang has retaken Nganking (18). The Prefect Wu says that he has written full particulars of all that has been reported in this letter to Chang, the Han-lin (19), and gives me to understand, consequently, that I need not trouble your ear with a repetition of them.

I have, therefore, the honour to transmit you this summary.

Observations.

(1.) The Prince Hwui is Mien Yü, only surviving brother of the late Emperor ; Kung is Yih Su, brother of the present Emperor ; Ching is a Prince of the 2nd Order of Imperial Nobility, whose I name cannot ascertain.

(2.) Kweiliang, Hwashana, Mingsheu, and Twau Ching-shih.

(3.) Lit., such a peace fashion, or such peace measures.

(4.) Made up, concocted ; a certain amount of fraud is implied.

(5.) When application is made.

(6.) Immediate payment, viz., of the indemnity.

(7.) Lit., a thousand consents, and a hundred compliances.

(8.) More literally employ this (language) for the purpose of tethering—a favourite word of Kiyng and others in relation to the government of foreigners.

(9.) The barbarian is the robber, Hwang, Governor-General of the Two Kwang, the master of the house, whom he has injured ; will Government forget itself so far as to make terms with the barbarian by persecuting Hwang ?

(10.) The despatches to the Emperor are returned to the high officers authorized to address them, with some slight observation written in red ink by the Emperor. If his answer is of great length, or requires deliberation, he writes merely, " Our placet will be given separately." In the latter case he sends down what we call an Imperial Decree to the Great Council for transmission to the officer or officers concerned.

(11.) Lit., where there is this determined bias and self-opinion there is indeed no such word as happiness (or fortune).

(12.) A place near the Yellow River, at which the Governor-General Ho was to have met the Commissioners as they came down. The rumour here alluded to is probably a revival of the above, which was in circulation in August and September.

(13.) The form in which the inferior addresses the superior official.

(14.) Rather, spy out.

(15.) Baron Gros did not sign the Tariff, &c., until some days after Lord Elgin's departure for Hankow. It was stated that some missionary question was under discussion between his Excellency and the Commissioners.

(16.) Returns, viz., from Hankow.

(16A.) The Commissioners sat more than once to the Honourable N. Jocelyn, who photographed them at the British Consulate.

(17.) Howqua, and some other ex-hongists had been expected at Soo-chow, to advise the Commissioners regarding the amendment of the tariff.

(18.) This report probably grew out of the collision of the Ngan-king rebels with the squadron escorting Lord Elgin, of whose approach, to judge from appearances, the Imperialist force endeavoured to make some use.

(19.) There are more than one doctor of the Han Lin in of this surname at Canton.

Inclosure 2 in No. 10.

Memorandum by Mr. Wade, intended to accompany the Translation of a Letter forwarded by Mr. Parkes, from Canton, to the Earl of Elgin, on the 15th January, 1859, précis of which was inclosed to the Foreign Office.

THE letter forwarded by Mr. Parkes, of the genuineness of which I see no reason to entertain any doubt, read by the light of the correspondence of the Imperial Commissioners and earlier proceedings of the Chinese Government, ever since negotiations fairly commenced at Tien-tsin, furnishes, to my mind, a clue deserving of attention to the course the Government has in this last instance pursued.

According to the writer, evidently an official who has access to good information, the Emperor determined, the moment our backs were turned, to cancel the whole Treaty extorted from him in June, 1858, and for this purpose sent Kweiliang and his colleagues south. This accords with a rumour current at Shanghai in August; Kweiliang was said to be in deep disgrace for his negotiations, the first public notice of which by the Chinese Government was in a decree of the 25th July, to the effect that the barbarians who "burst into the river" with their ships had retired in obedience to the affectionate commands of Kweiliang.

The use of the term "barbarian," as Lord Elgin complained in a letter to the Commissioners of the 7th September, was itself an infraction of Article LI of the Treaty, committed within one month of its signature.

The mission of Kweiliang and his colleagues, ostensibly to revise the Tariff, was remarkable as being so much more than what the Treaty required. It had been stipulated merely that a high officer of the Board of Revenue should repair to Shanghai. Two ex-Commissioners of the Canton Customs were indeed added to the Commission, but one of these was replaced by Twau Ching-shih, one of the Under-Secretaries most actively employed during the Treaty negotiations. His leave-taking memorial, also published in the Gazette, assured the Emperor, in stock phrase, that he would be zealous in "soothing the barbarians."

Rumour, as I have said, made the object of this mission anything but a revision. Nothing, however, very positive was stated, nor did the reports on the subject command general attention.

Meanwhile, as Kweiliang and his colleagues had promised at Tien-tsin, on the 4th July, to obtain from the Emperor, as soon as they returned to Peking, a decree appointing a Commissioner to revise the Tariff, which decree would reach Shanghai as soon as Lord Elgin, his Lordship, after ten days' delay at Shanghai, had written on the 21st July to complain that he was still without a line from Peking on the subject.

On the 27th he received a letter from Ho Kwei-tsing, announcing the appointment of the Commission, composed, with the addition of himself, of the members enumerated above, who, he said, would arrive about the 18th of August.

Lord Elgin visited Japan; and having made his Treaty there, hurried back to Shanghai, to learn, by a letter from the Commissioners themselves, that they could not be at Shanghai before the 6th of October.

It is, I repeat, quite clear that Kweiliang and Hwashana, the highest officers of the Civil establishment, were not coming to revise a Tariff. Indeed, another object of their mission was eventually stated in their own letter of the 22nd of October, to which we shall come in due time. Ho Kwei-tsing's assurance that they would be down by the 18th of August, was given, I imagine, to prevent the possibility of Lord Elgin's returning to the Peiho.

The decree he forwarded was dated the 15th of July. The prescribed time for an official journey of the distance is fifty-five days. This would have brought the Commissioners to Shanghai by the 10th of September. I presume Ho chose a middle term for safety's sake.

I attribute the Commissioners' delay of their departure from Peking, or their loitering by the way, to the one cause—the fears of the Government that, when the Commissioners had declared their errand, we might revisit the Peiho. We knew from the Gazettes that the forts were being rebuilt—this, of course, was in itself no matter of surprise ; that timber was purchased to stake the river, at which we could not either be astonished ; but, lastly, and this is noteworthy, that these operations were conducted under the special authority of Sung-ko-lin-sin, a Mongolian prince allied by marriage to the Imperial family, distinguished as the conqueror of the rebels on the occasion of the Tai-ping incursion into Chih-li, in 1853-54, and appointed during our stay at Tientsin, High Commissioner of War, and Commander-in-Chief of a force stationed at Tungchow to cover the capital should we advance upon it. It is also important that his labours had proceeded with such rapidity, that, by the 21st November, he was enabled to report the completion of the works on the Tien-tsin river ; for which service, by a decree of the above date, he was awarded a surcoat of honour.

My impression is confirmed, by all that has since occurred, that the arrival of the Commissioners was delayed purposely until the river defences were in a state of forwardness. For, once more, they were coming, not to revise the Tariff, but, as the Canton letter states, and their own correspondence presently shows, to discuss modification if not abrogation of three important privileges which distinguished our Treaty from any other ; to wit, the residence of a Minister at Pekin, circulation of British merchants in the interior, and the navigation of the great river; also to require the rendition of Canton.

Ho Kwei-tsing, as in duty bound, went to meet the senior Commissioners as they entered his jurisdiction; and the statement in the Canton letter that it was on the strength of his representations, supported by those of his provincial Treasurer Wang, that they were led to modify materially the course prescribed by their instructions, is borne out not only by the gossip of the period, but by a communication subsequently made by an indisputable authority, which I do not feel at liberty to name, that they had come down charged to make war rather than concede the permanent residence of a Minister. The words stated to have been used by Ho, when remonstrating against such policy, were "that war would be absolute madness." I confess that, with some faith in the narrator, I believed him, at the time he stated this, guilty of a simple exaggeration, à la Chinoise.

It must not be forgotten that, throughout the whole of this period, from June to October, affairs in the south were in a condition that augured ill for peace.

Long after the Treaty was signed, Hwang, and a committee of three Cantonese of high standing in the class we style "the gentry," who held an Imperial Commission for the enlistment and control of Militia, were persisting in acts of war. After the tactics of 1856 and 1857, when Yeh was in power, the native servants were called home from Hong Kong, and the supplies of that colony in effect cut off by semi-official Committees established in the adjacent districts. Soldiers of the Canton garrison were kidnapped and assassinated. A proclamation, under Hwang's seal, offered a high reward for Mr. Parkes's head.

Even so late as the 22nd August Hwang had supported the Special Committee in its war-taxation, on the ground that though a Treaty had been concluded at Tien-tsin, he knew not its conditions, and that it was as necessary as ever to be ready for banditti.

I see no reason to doubt, when we read the Emperor's Decree of the 21st October, in which he rejects the Commissioners' censure of Hwang and the Committee, that the Court was encouraging the latter to persevere in their attempt to expel the allies from Canton, where by Treaty they were to remain till the indemnity agreed to was paid.

The Commissioners arrived at last on the 6th October. They had been duly apprised of the dissatisfaction occasioned by the tardiness of their movements: and having first apologized, in a private note, for not visiting Lord Elgin until the ostensible business of their mission, the tariff revision, was en train, they dispatched an official letter, in a most conciliatory strain, to beg Lord Elgin to appoint deputies who might meet their own for the revision of the tariff. The officers they named were Wang, the Commissioner of Finance, chief civilian of the province, and Sieh, for the three years previous, Taoutae or Intendant at Shanghai, one of the few Chinese I have met who, notwithstanding much ignorance and prejudice still remaining, really appreciate the power and probity of the foreigner, or who appear soberly to contemplate, without abatement of pride in their own country, the possibility of utilising barbarian ability to her advantage. He had been named to the Commissioners by Lord Elgin at Tien-tsin.

Lord Elgin met their proposals by demanding, first, an acknowledgement of two letters, written early in September, complaining of proceedings in the south, and still unnoticed.

Their reply was pacific enough ; they excused Hwang's ignorance on the grounds of the distance from Peking ; his hostile attitude, as not being assured of our intention ; and volunteered to proclaim that peace had been negotiated with England, France, America, and Russia.

It does not appear for all that was promised on the subject, that even this meagre notice, which promulgated none of the conditions of the peace, was ever published elsewhere. At Canton, indeed, the High Committee's Militia continued to annoy the foreign garrison until January, when one of their positions at Shek-tsin was destroyed. The garrison were then made to patrol the neighbourhood, the result of which measure was a speedy restoration of order.

The Commissioners' overtures did not yet satisfy Lord Elgin. He took them to task for having allowed near four months to elapse without making known the existence of a Treaty ; and he demanded the removal of Hwang, and the dissolution of the Imperial Committee, before he could consent to go into the Tariff at all. This line of action, of course, greatly perplexed the Commissioners. As Chinese statesmen they would be slow to comprehend why the barbarian should postpone commercial considerations to any other, and they hastened to soothe him accordingly. They had already, they said, denounced Hwang, and would again denounce him, praying the Emperor, at the same time, to withdraw their powers from the Committee. Lord Elgin, on this, engaged if they would promise to communicate to him the Imperial rescript to their memorial, to commence the discussion of the Tariff, and this promise given, named Mr. Oliphant and myself as his deputies.

Up to this time they had not breathed a word regarding the real matter of their mission. They were doubtless in much embarrassment as to the mode of introducing it ; and the opinions of Ho, who drew his inspiration from Wang and Sieh, the two chiefs of his provincial staff, both able, and intimately liés, had, I feel satisfied, in no way diminished their difficulty in approaching the retraction of a Treaty concession.

At length, on the 22nd October, reassured by the favourable progress of the Tariff and its concomitants, they, with evident delicacy and diffidence, declared the true object of their coming. Moralising briefly on the end of negotiations, they pointed out that those at Tien-tain were conducted so completely under pressure of an armed force as to leave no place for deliberation ; the Emperor had, accordingly, specially commissioned them to come to Shanghai, "earnestly to press a matter which could be the common advantage of both parties." Among the conditions extorted there were some of real injury to China, which there had been no opportunity of explaining ; of these they name one only—the residence, in permanence, of a British Minister at Peking. As the Queen of England has an option, by Treaty, they beg Her Majesty may be prayed to decide that the Minister shall only visit Peking on occasion. They avow that this condition is most irksome to China, and, in Chinese fashion, they strive to show how irksome it will be to us. A rude and numerous Tartar soldiery ; the unacquaintance of metropolitan officials with foreign affairs ; the temper of the population—these are the dangers which should incline us to forego this one—to us useless, and, for the reasons enumerated perilous—privilege ; the more readily to forego it, as, on the other hand, we are gainers to a considerable extent in the many which we should still retain.

Looking back to the Tien-tain period, we call to mind that the Commissioners, although committed in their letter of the 11th June, 1858, to the declaration, that "to a Minister's permanent residence there was properly no objection," and to the proposition that, the recent collision considered, the Minister had better live at Tien-tsin—an official residence being assigned him at Pekin—had attempted on the 21st June to recede from these proposals.

They had, they said, received a Decree, desiring them to do their best to persuade Lord Elgin to give up this invidious privilege, "the north being cold, and excessively dusty;" also with it the right to open Chin-kiang, the right to circulate in the interior before the people should have been duly warned, the right to navigate the Great River, by which we should drive the Chinese out of the field.

On all these points they again made a fight at their conference with Mr. Bruce on the 24th June. On the evening of the 25th they made a last effort, through Count Poutiatine and Mr. Reed, to dissuade Lord Elgin from insisting on the residence of a Minister, and the right of British merchants to circulate in the interior, pleading that, unless his Lordship gave way on those points, their lives would be forfeited.

Lord Elgin standing firm, they urged, even on the morning of the 26th itself, a modification of the text, by which the Minister might be authorized to be constantly in residence at Pekin, instead of entitled to reside there, without moving, a change which, as liberty of his movements is secured in another Article, was adopted.

These, with the addition of the surrender of Canton, are the questions on which, according to the Canton letter, the Emperor instructed the Commissioners to stand out, and it is upon these I gather, from their letters of the 27th and 28th May, the Commissioners would have engaged Mr.

Bruce in discussion, had he accorded the interview they proposed. They had, withal, another end to gain.

Lord Elgin met their request of the 22nd October by an emphatic declaration that it lay not with him to abate one tittle of the Treaty. He pointed out the real object and advantages of diplomatic relations as established in Europe, and briefly advertng to past misunderstandings between our countries, expressed his doubt that the Imperial Government could provide guarantee for the maintaining of peace, equivalent to that supplied by the presence of a Minister at Peking.

The Commissioners, on the 28th October, admit that our Minister's right to permanent residence is incontestable, but the exercise of it will humiliate China in the eyes of her subjects. They therefore again pray Lord Elgin to move the Queen to use the option the Treaty leaves Her Majesty in their favour, and there is no satisfactory arrangement they are not ready to make.

Lord Elgin undertook to submit the correspondence to Her Majesty's Government, and to recommend that if Her Majesty's Minister were properly received next year, and full effect given to the Treaty in all other particulars, the Minister should be directed to choose a residence elsewhere, and to visit the capital either periodically or when business required it.

The Tariff negotiations were now brought to a close, and Lord Elgin announced his intention to proceed up the Yang-tze, to see what ports it would eventually be desirable to open.

The Commissioners acquiesced with a good grace, promised to send an officer to wait on his Lordship, and to advise the authorities of the provinces he would have to traverse of his approach.

This was partly in fulfilment of their undertaking to make any satisfactory arrangement, partly,

I feel sure, from words that fell from the Judge, in the hope that we should have a profitable collision with the insurgents at Nankin.

At Hankow we found a proclamation announcing that the English, French, and American nations were come to look at at the place, but not to trade, so the people need not be alarmed. There was not, it is scarce necessary to observe, any sign of alarm, except that produced by the official runners and such persons, who at first insisted on forming our escort, and in that capacity unnecessarily thrashed the crowds that assembled round us, and used every effort to prevent the tradespeople from taking our money. The people themselves were here, as throughout the whole 600 miles of our journey, civil, inoffensive, and eager for trade.

I regard the policy of the Government in this to have been the same it has long adopted at Canton—to promote an aversion to foreign intercourse among the people, and to impress on foreigners that the people are hostile and hard to control. The doctrine finds its place, as we have seen, among the arguments against a Minister's residence at Peking.

On his return to Shanghae in January, Lord Elgin found the news from Canton still far from satisfactory. Just as he was about to start for Hankow, the Commissioners had mooted the question of that city's rendition, and the payment of the indemnity, but had received no positive answer as to the course his Lordship proposed to take. They had also requested us, by letter, to adopt the same arrangement as the French. They had written, besides, a circular to the British, French, and American Ministers, regarding the future issue of passports, and various other points which would be raised under the new Treaties. Lastly, they prayed for some settlement of the duties owing under the provisional system adopted during the occupation of Shanghai by the rebels in 1853 and 1854.

These letters had been sent in but a day or two before Lord Elgin's departure, and he, consequently, had delayed replying to them until his return. On receipt of the Canton intelligence, he recommenced correspondence by an inquiry whether the promised decree removing Hwang had been obtained. The Commissioners sent him a decree of the 21st October, acknowledging their denunciation of Hwang, "for conduct calculated to produce mischief;" defending him, however, as having acted on the offensive only until the Treaty was concluded; defending the Committee as simply engaged in keeping the peace; and concluding with the observation that it would be for the Emperor himself to deal with Hwang should he have committed himself since the Treaty was signed.

The Commissioners must have received this rebuff before Lord Elgin left Shanghai, but were doubtless in no haste to show how their advice had been relished by their master.

Before their reply had reached him, Lord Elgin had answered their circular of the 7th November. I need notice but two items of his answer. He undertook most readily to guarantee that every precaution would be taken to prevent the abuse of the passport system by British subjects. At the close of his letter, he replied to their remark that their queries had been put by reason of their ignorance of foreign affairs, by observing that the most evident remedy of this defect would be, in sending a Chinese Legation to England.

The Commissioners rejoined at length, but noticeably about passports, which, they observed, the Consuls would have to apply for to the Chinese authorities, to whom they must be, in due time, surrendered to be cancelled.

This was on the 14th. On the same day, Lord Elgin had written to express his serious dissatisfaction at Hwang's continuance in office. He would now call on the Commissioners to settle the indemnity in strict accordance with the provisions of the Separate Article, or, as instructed by Her Majesty's Government, he would eject the Chinese authorities from Canton.

A very crest fallen answer followed from the Commissioners. They had done their best. The Emperor alone could decide. The Canton question they had not had time to settle since Lord Elgin's return.

On the 20th of January, Lord Elgin, having received news of the Shek-tsing affair, wrote again. He reviewed his correspondence with the Commissioners since their arrival in October. He was now convinced that Canton was to them a question ultra vires; he should, therefore, desire our executive there to act with vigour, and when the ratifications were exchanged, the Emperor should be asked whether things at Canton had been done with or without his authority.

The Commissioners wrote to assure him that Hwang should now certainly be removed and the Special Committee dissolved; but Lord Elgin, inclosing them a copy of the letter forwarded by Mr. Parkes, announced his intention to proceed himself to Canton. On his return to Shanghae in the course of six weeks, should he not find the Commissioners there, he would proceed to Peking.

The Commissioners wrote, roundly abusing Hwang and the Committee. The Emperor's decree must arrive in three weeks. In the interim all pending questions could be discussed. They were quite competent to deal with the Canton question. They prayed him to remain.

the Canton question, he wrote, 25th of January, were specified in the Treaty. Had the Emperor chosen that the Commissioners should close it, he would have given them the requisite powers. They had not kept faith about Canton. They had promised months before to effect an improvement there. None had been effected. He would himself enforce a better order of things. This done he would return to discuss whatever remained for consideration, peaceably or otherwise, as the Chinese Government might see fit.

Lord Elgin then departed, and on the 14th of February the Commissioners forwarded a decree, not, indeed, removing Hwang from the Governor-Generalship, but still transferring his seal of Imperial Commissioner for the Superintendence of Foreign Trade to Ho Kwei-tsing.

This decree was, doubtless, shaped so as to save the Imperial dignity. The Emperor would not disgrace the Governor-General (who has since been transferred to Sze-chuen), under pressure, and his choice of Ho, as Hwang's substitute, he had reason to believe would soothe us.

I have gone thus at length into this section of the correspondence, from October to January, to show with what reluctance the Chinese Government took a minimum of action against an officer notoriously corrupt, and flagrantly tyrannical in his jurisdiction, and denounced by the highest in the land for a course of foreign policy prejudicial to the interests of peace. My conviction is, that the Government, or, to take a hint from the opening clause of the Canton letter, that portion of it which had the credit of establishing the Special Committee, and authorizing its operations, never abandoned the notion of recovering Canton until their defeat at Shek-tsing, a village near Canton, and other movements of the allied force broke the spirit of the militia.

It is also my impression, however contradictory the statement may appear, that the strong language held to the Commissioners by Lord Elgin throughout this period, while it deterred them from attempting any of the changes I am persuaded they were sent southward to effect, enabled them at the same time to hold their own with the Emperor by representing the impossibility of retracting what he is assumed to have required from people so violent and determined.

His withdrawal of the seal from Hwang was probably balanced somewhat in the Emperor's mind by the opportunity afforded him of declaring in his Decree, that our accounts from Canton (of kidnapping, assassination, &c.) surprised him much, as, in the "soothing and bridling" of foreign nations, China had never been treacherous.

Lord Elgin acknowledged the receipt of their last letter on the 3rd of March. He therein told the Commissioners of the appointment of his successor, charged with the ratified copy of the Treaty, to be exchanged at Peking, and of his own immediate departure for England. He communicated to them the consent of Her Majesty's Government to make the British Minister's residence at Peking but occasional, on the conditions before recited; and, bidding them farewell, reminded them that peace was only to be kept unbroken by a strict observance of the Treaty—by a mutual recognition of the equality of nations, between whom, he took occasion to remark, there could be no such relation as that implied in the words "soothing and bridling."

The Commissioners received this on the 29th of March. They made no move north, notwithstanding; on the contrary, on learning Mr. Bruce's arrival, they moved from Soo-chow, where they had spent the new year, to Shanghai.

Mr. Bruce's despatch to Kweiliang, of the 16th May, announcing his arrival, and requesting that suitable preparations may be made for his reception at Tien-tsin, and his journey to Peking with the ratified Treaties and the autograph letter of Her Britannic Majesty, reached the Commissioners on the 27th, and their proceedings from this date are deserving of close attention.

Mr. Bruce found at Shanghai, on the 6th June, three despatches from the Commissioners, the first dated the 27th May, the day on which the second admits his letter of the 16th May had arrived; also admits that Lord Elgin's last letter, announcing his departure, had reached them on the 29th March. They had remained, nevertheless, because his Lordship had said he would return to discuss various questions, which they do not enumerate. His successor, who is, of course, equally competent with himself, is bound, they think, to take up the pending discussion with them, and with all speed, as the day named for the exchange of ratifications draws near.

The second, which is dated the 28th May, acknowledging Mr. Bruce's of the 16th, urges that an important affair like the exchange of ratifications cannot be hurried through as he proposes; repeats that Lord Elgin's letters had kept them at Shanghai, the journey from which place to Peking would take two months; none but they themselves could represent the Chinese Government in the matter; there was no one to receive Mr. Bruce at Tien-tsin, and nothing ready; they therefore propose that Mr. Bruce instead of waiting "up there," where he will find it very hot, should put off his departure, and grant them an interview. This is accompanied by another of the same date, in which, insisting again on Lord Elgin's engagement to return and discuss various questions, they beg to enumerate those of which he had disposed and those left unsettled.

He had agreed, they say :—

1st. That the coming visit to Peking was to be exceptional ; the Minister was not constantly to be at Peking.

2nd. That his visit to Hankow was exceptional ; our movements were henceforth to be in accordance with the Treaty stipulations.

3rd, That none but respectable persons were to obtain passports, for the issue of which regulations must be devised. The Canton question was not settled, and Lord Elgin had promised to go further into this.

To take the last first, Lord Elgin had expressly told the Commissioners that the Canton question must be settled, and promptly, according to the Separate Article, which prescribes payment at Canton to be arranged by the Canton authorities. Before he left the south, Mr. Bruce had ascertained in May that the Canton authorities had no knowledge of this stipulation, or, if they had, were without any instructions to give it effect.

The other three are the ever-recurring clauses of difficulty ; the original modification of the first being further modified by total omission of the conditions on which Her Majesty's Government, as the Commissioners had been duly apprised in Lord Elgin's last letter, would consent to modify it. The other two are stated as they stand, I can only suppose to draw from Mr. Bruce some such acquiescence in what it would have been literally hard for him to dispute, as might preclude the possibility of his suggesting any arrangement for the anticipation of the Treaty terms, the far receding extinction of the rebels, before which no British subject can by Treaty claim to enter the region they infest.

Recalling the pertinacity with which the Commissioners have revived their objection to our enjoyment of the privileges here adverted to, the statements in the Canton letter, and in other quarters, of the Emperor's violent opposition to the concession of them, when we see them now, we should have said needlessly, reproduced once more, we can only infer that some further limitations were contemplated.

A Chinese, last year my head clerk, but promoted, after the Treaty, for his supposed knowledge of foreign affairs to a mandarinship of the fifth grade, and now attached to Kweiliang, called twice on Mr. Lay in the spring, first to ascertain whether we would agree to exchange ratifications at Shanghai; secondly, if we would consent to proceed, overland, thence to Peking. The latter, be it observed, is the time-honoured form of introducing the periodical missions from Anam, Lewschew, and other dependent States, into Peking; the form which enables China to maintain before her subjects that show of surveillance and patronage by which she has ever sought to negative a barbarian State's assumption of equality with herself. The American Treaty enables China to give the United States' Minister such a reception. So long as he does not insist on an audience, no tradition will be violated. It does not practically secure him access to Peking for any diplomatic purpose.

The above proposal accepted, our circulation under passports would infallibly have been infected by the precedent. No one would have travelled except under an official protection, resembling that proposed years ago by Kiying for the neighbourhood of Canton—a protection so irksome and profitless to the few who availed themselves of it, that travelling, if it were to be under such auspices, was soon foregone altogether.

This is, of course, speculation; nor is it more when I declare my belief that the Commissioners rather hoped than expected that we should halt at Shanghai, as they proposed, within three weeks of the day we were by Treaty required to be at Peking. They were, I imagine, acting under orders to try everything that might prevent our visit to the capital.

On receiving Mr. Bruce's peremptory reply of the 8th of June, followed by his supplementary note of the 11th, the Commissioners laid down their arms. His letter of the 8th, they wrote, had been sent to the Emperor, who would receive it in some nine days. They had moved him to send a high officer to Tien-tsin to meet Mr. Bruce, whom they recommended to leave his ships of war outside the bar, and proceed in light marching order to Peking. They cannot themselves take steam as Mr. Bruce proposes, as the Emperor has not authorized them to do so, but in obedience to His Majesty's commands (when received does not appear), they will go north with all speed. The suggestions respecting the anchorage of his squadron, is brought in, as it were, casually: "The Commissioners would wish," &c. There is no hint that the route by the Tien-tsin River is condamnée, or that the attempt to ascend it will be opposed.

Yet they must have known that opposition was imminent. The high authority, cited before, assured my informant that so certain was he of a collision, that he should keep himself out of the way. The Court, he said, was not disabused of its invincibility, nor would it be without another defeat. It was for all that not too proud to be treacherous, as we have found to our cost. Admiral Hope had sailed before the Commissioners' last letter was received, but his first proceedings, it is worthy of observation, actually filled the measure of their requirement. He approached the bar on the 17th, with only one steamer and two gun-boats, and the officer sent in to communicate with the forts crossed the bar in a ship's gig.

On the 20th, finding that the people on the spot, who maintained, as on the former day, that they had closed the passage of the river without the orders of Government, had not, as they had promised, removed, but, on the contrary, had greatly multiplied the obstacles in the way of a free passage, he gave notice to the Intendent of Tien-tsin that his squadron would remain at the mouth of the river while Mr. Bruce was at Pekin; he, therefore, wishes his men to land to purchase supplies. The Intendent only opposes their landing lest they should lose themselves in winding paths, amongst the camps and field-works which, he says, abound along the way between Ta-koo and Tien-tsin. He says nothing of the Government's objection to leave the river open, and he does say that the defences he alludes to are not to our address.

All this while no official, the militia and peasantry on shore affirm, is near the spot. Mr. Ward, the American Minister, is told the same story by the same people on the evening of the 24th; the batteries appear deserted until the following forenoon, when, as the foremost gun boat, according to notice given the previous evening by Admiral Hope, attempts to pass the booms, they pour forth a fire from seventy guns, which for strength and direction is without precedent in our annals of Chinese warfare. Still no official appears at Taku. On the other hand, Hang, the Governor-General of the province, does send a letter to Mr. Bruce, from a point some ten miles up the coast. It is dated the 23rd, but does not reach him till the 25th.

Now Mr. Bruce's letter of the 9th, which had electrified the Commissioners, was to reach Peking in nine days—say before the 20th. We know, by experience, that communications between Taku and Peking do not take more than twenty-four hours. The Court, if it were prepared to disavow the hostile act of the Taku garrison, must have forgotten that it could hardly, under the circumstances, plead ignorance of the great danger of a collision between the large force it had placed, months before, at Taku, and a foreign squadron which had now been waiting since the 16th to have the river opened for the British Minister's admission. If it were bond fide intent on the preservation of peace, why should no official have presented himself to the Admiral at Taku? or why should the only move of the character of a pacific overture been made at the eleventh hour, by a circuitous route and with a want of alacrity at first sight inexplicable? For the despatch had been the best part of two days coming ten miles.

It invites Mr. Bruce to wait for the arrival of Kweiliang and his colleague, promising him that when he, Hang, shall have moved to the southward the garrison and armament of the position from which he writes, he will come out to welcome him to the place, Peh-tang-Ho by name, a port, if it deserve the designation, which the Americans found in a few days was doubtfully accessible even to a ship's boat.

I feel satisfied that, our object considered, the fulfilment of the Treaty, not in the letter but in the spirit, we should make a mistake in approaching the capital otherwise than by its recognised highway. I do not see that the Americans can refuse to proceed to Peking by Peh-tang-Ho, or by any less desirable route; Article V of their Treaty imposing on them almost all the restrictions which it is the very aim of our Articles III and IV to withstand. The American Minister may visit Pekin once a year, with 20 people for a suite ; he is to give intimation of his approach through the Board of Rites ; and is to complete his business without unnecessary delay ; he will be held, as I have before hinted, by the Government and people of China, at precisely the same value as a Lew-chewan or Siamese Envoy. This, some will say, is of little consequence. It is at least of this much, that little attention will be paid to the representations of an officer who takes so low a place, and it is only by insuring the attention which must be yielded when the question of equality is no longer in dispute, that we can hope for a peaceable settlement of misunderstanding with a people whose bigotry, arrogance, and insincerity are kept in check only by their fears.

To close observations which have greatly outrun their intended length, I am persuaded that its aversion to concede, even limited by the three privileges so often alluded to, is what has betrayed the Chinese Government into an act of war, which, with its usual pusillanimity, it was prepared to disavow had its forces suffered defeat. It has never accepted the changes forced upon it—the novelty, in the sense in which Western nations understand it. It was ready, more suo, to fend off those without fighting, and the Commissioners were, I make no doubt, to detain us at Shanghai under one pretext or another, until the year was so far spent that we might be induced, in our greed for commercial advantages, to accept an exchange of ratifications at Shanghai. Foreign relations, which in Chinese are simply synonymous with a Superintendence of Trade, would then have been handed over to Ho, whose “soothing and bridling” we are evidently assumed to prefer, and the great gain of the Treaty, the one means of preventing local misunderstandings, viz., the right of appeal to the Central Government gainst the acts of its subordinates, would, in default of precedent, have been as much in abeyance as though it had never been concluded.

Diplomacy failing, the Government still veiled its readiness for war—possibly from doubt in its powers, perhaps in the hope of taking us more completely unawares.

Mr. Hart's interesting memorandum on Sungko-lin-sin's temper and arrangements, together with Mr. Mongan's information on the same head, are more or less corroborated by the junkmen who lay off the Peiho, lamenting grievously the interruption of their trade.

It must be noted in qualification of Sungko-lin-sin's prowess, and of the Court's resolution, that his victory was not adopted by the Government for some four or five days : at the end of which time the forts first showed the flags of five out of the eight banners under which the Tartar force is enrolled.

Since my return to Shanghai I have learned that many Chinese ascribe the collision altogether to Sungko-lin-sin, and entirely acquit the Emperor. They represent him as unable to restrain the Mongol, who, on learning that the Emperor was decidedly opposed to overt hostility, declared that, at all events, he would not admit the barbarian by way of Tien-tsin. The statement is very possibly the truth ; it corresponds, more or less, with the report brought by M. Mouly from Peking. It would consist perfectly with the timid treachery of the Chinese Government that, having placed its responsibility, as it hoped, à couvert, by withdrawing its official presence from the scene, it should bide the issue of a course which, if unsuccessful, it was thus armed to condemn ; and with the short-sightedness which, in my opinion, distinguishes its policy, that it should overlook the more terrible consequence of a success such as that it has obtained.

No. 11.

Mr. Bruce to the Earl of Malmesbury.—(Received September 13.)

MY LORD, Shanghai, July 15, 1859.

YOUR Lordship has been informed in my previous despatches that the American Minister, Mr. Ward, had associated himself with us in our demands to exchange the ratifications of the Treaty at Peking, and had further stated to the Imperial Commissioners at Shanghai that he was instructed to deliver in person the letter of the President of the United States of America to the Emperor of China. He could only claim these privileges under the most favoured nation clause, and, therefore, awaited the results of the attempts made to detain us at Shanghai. When they failed, he expressed his intention of going to the Peiho, and received an invitation from the Commissioners to accompany us there.

On the 24th, he crossed the bar of the Peiho in a small steamer, with the intention of proceeding to the booms, and making the attempt to advance up the river, leaving it to the Chinese to fire on him if they chose to do so. His steamer, however, grounded before reaching them, and was with difficulty got off by the gun-boats, after considerable delay. He therefore contented himself with demanding a passage, and was met by a refusal on the part of the militia, who gave themselves out as the garrison of the forts. He remained at the mouth of the river during the attack, determined to push up had we opened a way through the barriers; and it is very gratifying to me to bear testimony to the friendly feeling and assistance we derived from himself and Flag Officer Tatnall on that day.

After we had decided on abandoning the attempt to reach Peking, Mr. Ward considered himself bound to effect, if possible, the exchange of ratifications under the provisions of the American Treaty. He had received no communication since his arrival from the Imperial Government, but he addressed a letter to the Governor-General, expressing his wish to proceed to Peking and exchange the ratifications there. This letter he dispatched in his steamer to Pe-tang-ho, with his secretary and interpreter. I inclose a memorandum, showing the nature of the approach to Pe-tang-ho, and its defences.

I have heard indirectly that when the boat from the steamer approached the shore, most of the villagers fled. With difficulty two men were found, to whom the object of the visit was explained and the letter delivered, on their undertaking to forward it to the Governor-General, whose place of residence they would not, however, divulge. They at the same time urged the bearers to return, without delay, to the boat, to avoid being attacked by the horsemen who were seen in the neighbourhood. It was fortunate that they did so; for they were chased by the cavalry, two of whom pursued them into the water.

Soon after a junk came off with provisions, and a message from the authority of the place to say that the letter had been forwarded, and that an answer would be shortly received. On the 5th of July, Mr. Ward informed me that the Governor-General had appointed Friday, the 8th, for an interview at Pe-tang-ho. Having left on the 6th, I do not, as yet, know the result.

I do not think that the Chinese will make difficulties about exchanging the ratifications of the American Treaty. The conditions under which the American Minister is alone entitled to visit the capital, contain nothing offensive to Chinese pride, or inconsistent with its claims of national superiority. The Treaty does not open the Yang-tze river, or any port to the north of Shanghai, nor does it give the right to travel in the interior of the country. It leaves also untouched the important question of transit duties. The true policy of the Chinese would be, therefore, to receive Mr. Ward in a friendly manner, in the hopes of inducing him to act as mediator.

Mr. Ward's position is one of considerable difficulty ; nor do I see, after our unsuccessful attempt at the Peiho, that any course was open save the one he has adopted. He has acted cordially and frankly in the spirit of his declarations to me at Hong Kong ; and it is a matter of satisfaction to me that his concert in our previous proceedings is a strong argument in favour of the line of conduct pursued by M. de Bourboulon and myself.

I have, &c.

Inclosure 1 in No. 11.

Memorandum.

THE "Toeywan" left this anchorage on Wednesday morning, 29th June about 11 o'clock, with the parties bearing a letter addressed by me to the Governor-General of this Province. After going north along the coast about six miles, they discovered junks' masts over the land, and upon approaching within four miles of the coast, it then being high spring tide and only ten feet water, and able to find no other channel where there was deeper water, they steered again to the northward, and went five miles farther north.

Where the junks were seen there was supposed to have been a small stream of water. This point was guarded by three forts, and there was a village in the neighbourhood. It could not be approached any nearer for want of water. About five miles north of the forts another village was seen, to which the "Toeywan" was enabled to approach within a mile and a half, having then nine feet at half tide.

I herewith attach a tracing of the route of the "Toeywan"

No. 12.

Lord John Russell to Mr. Bruce.

SIR, Foreign-Office, September 26, 1859.

I HAVE received and laid before the Queen your despatches of the 30th of May, 1st and 14th of June, and 5th, 13th, and 15th of July, the first three giving an account of your proceedings up to the time of your departure from Shanghai for the mouth of the Peiho, and the last three containing a report of the events which occurred on your arrival off the Peiho and of your subsequent return to Shanghai.

The events of the first period are clear and free from all obscurity, and I am happy to convey to you Her Majesty's entire approval of your communications with the Chinese Commissioners, and of the firmness with which you resisted their attempts to dissuade you from insisting upon the strict fulfilment of the stipulations of the Treaty of Tien-tsin. That Treaty provided for the exchange of ratifications at Peking on a day not later than the 26th of June of the present year, a time so nearly at hand as not to admit of any further delay.

You were enjoined by the instructions given you by the Earl of Malmesbury, on your departure from England, to insist upon being received at Pekin, and to refuse to exchange ratifications at any other place. You were further informed that it might be advisable before your departure from Shanghai to send an intimation to Pekin of your approach, and to request that suitable arrangements might be made for your honourable reception at the mouth of the Peiho, and at Tien-tsin, and for your journey from that place to Pekin. You were informed that the Admiral in command of Her Majesty's Naval Forces in China had been directed to send up with you to the mouth of the Peiho a sufficient naval force, and you were instructed that unless any unforeseen circumstances should appear to make another arrangement more advisable, it would seem desirable that you should reach Tien-tsin in a British ship-of-war.

Your conduct, therefore, in insisting upon being received at Pekin and in proceeding to the mouth of the Peiho, was in strict conformity with your instructions. Upon arriving at the mouth of the Peiho you were placed in circumstances of great difficulty, in selecting the course you were to pursue, you were obliged to found that course mainly upon presumptive evidence.

In these circumstance you had to weigh contingencies upon which no safe calculation could be made. I can only say, therefore, that Her Majesty's Government, without being able in the present state of their information, to judge precisely what measures it might have been most advisable for you to adopt at the moment, see nothing in the decision that you took to diminish the confidence which they repose in you.

Her Majesty deeply regrets the loss of life which attended the gallant though unsuccessful efforts of the British and French forces to clear the passage of the river. But Her Majesty has commanded preparations to be made which will enable Her forces, in conjunction with those of His Majesty the Emperor of the French, to support you in the execution of the instructions which will be hereafter addressed to you.

I have, &c.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of OCTOBER 7, 1859.

India Office, October 3, 1859.

THE Secretary of State for India has received the following Paper from the Government of India :

Minute of the Governor-General of India regarding the Services of Civil Officers and others, during the Mutiny and Rebellion.

1. THE bloodshed, strife, and general disorganization, consequent upon the mutiny of the Bengal Army, which declared itself two years ago, are drawn to a close.

Here and there a few bands of turbulent and disaffected marauders still remain in arms ; but there is no unity amongst the enemies of the State ; and, although the complete and universal security which prevailed before the outbreak has not in all places returned, there is no part of the Queen's Indian possessions to which civil government has not been restored.

A day of solemn thanksgiving for this happy result has been appointed.

2. This being so, it becomes my grateful duty to bring to the notice of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, the names of those earnest, devoted men, by whose abilities, sound judgment, and unexampled labours, the civil authority of the British Government has been upheld or re-established.

3. Although civilians by profession, or holding for the time civil offices, the duties which they have performed have been, for the most part, full of peril and toil.

Only some few of them have been called on occasionally to take part in the operations of the army, and have thereby had the satisfaction of seeing honour done to their names in the Gazettes of the day. But there are others who have been distinguished by conduct in front of an enemy which would make any army proud of them.

They have organized levies and led them; defended stations; kept in check large disaffected communities; reassured the wavering; and given confidence to the loyal.

Many of them have, in the service of the State, carried their lives in their hands for months together.

Their position has been such as to try not only their physical courage, but the judgment, intelligence, and self-reliance of each individual, and to keep these qualities unceasingly on the strain.

4. The most anxious part of their long task is now at an end, and I confidently claim for them from Her Majesty's Government the same respect, admiration, and gratitude, as have been so deservedly bestowed upon their fellow labourers of the Army.

5. The Return which accompanies this Minute, shows some of the services of those who have been most actively engaged, but very briefly and imperfectly.

6. I will speak first of Bengal.

The value of the services rendered by the late Lieut.-Governor, Mr. Halliday, is as well known to the Home Government as to myself. With a charge of enormous extent and responsibility, and called upon to take a large share of the work by which troops and munitions of war were forwarded from Calcutta to other Local Governments, Mr. Halliday was the right hand of the Government of India for many months. The efficient aid given by Mr. Halliday to the Government, the watchfulness and sound judgment which marked his advice in regard to affairs within his own jurisdiction, and the promptitude and completeness with which he carried out all the precautionary and defensive measures sanctioned by the Government of India, effectually checked the spread of rebellion in Bengal. And although in this province, the people are for the most part less warlike and turbulent than those of Upper India, there are in it many dangerous centres of fanaticism, and many wide, and not easily accessible, tracts, where an outburst of rebellion would have sorely crippled the small means at the disposal of Government, and where peace was to be maintained more by good management than by show of force.

As the head of the Government, I feel myself deeply indebted to Mr. Halliday for his most useful aid, and I confidently trust that the Secretary of State will not be forgetful of his services.

7. Of the officers of the Bengal Government who have been brought to notice by Mr. Halliday, I wish to recommend to the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government Mr. G. Yule, the Commissioner of Bhaugulpore; Mr. A. Money Magistrate of Shahabad and Gya, whose good service has already attracted the notice of the Home Government ; Mr. S. Wauchope, Commissioner of Police in Calcutta, who has had a most irksome and difficult post, and has discharged the duties of it fearlessly and excellently ; Mr. E. A. Samuells, the late Commissioner of Patna ; and Mr. H. C. Wake, Magistrate of Shahabad.

8. The following officers have also well deserved the notice of Her Majesty's Government : Mr. W. J. Allen, Member of the Board of Revenue, on Deputation at Cheera Poonjee ; Mr. G. F. Cockburn, Commissioner of Cuttack ; Mr. R. L. Mangles, Assistant in Shahabad ; Mr. E. Jackson, the Superintendent of Supplies on the Trunk Road ; Mr. C. Hollings, Sub-Deputy Opium Agent at Gya ; Mr. F. B. Drummond, Magistrate of Purneah ; Mr. E. McDonnell, Sub-Deputy Opium Agent in Sarun ; Mr. E. Baker, Deputy Magistrate of Sasseram ; Mr. C. Carnac, Magistrate of Dacca ; Mr. W. McDonnell, Magistrate of Sarun, and attached to Sir E. Lugard's Column ; Mr. J. D. Gordon, Assistant Magistrate of Jelpigoree ; Mr. W. Brodhurst, Magistrate of Shahabad ; Mr. Garstin, Deputy Magistrate of Sasseram ; Mr. Boyle, Mr. R. de Courcy, Mr. J. Cockburn, and Mr. J. Wemyss, gentlemen not connected with Government, but who have given to it valuable aid ; and Mr. J. Todhunter and Mr. W. McIntyre, both of the Telegraph Department.

9. In respect of Military Officers in Civil employ, I have to call to notice the excellent services of Captain Dalton, Commissioner at Chota Nagpore ; of Lieutenant J. Graham, Assistant Commissioner in Palamew ; of Lieutenant Birch, Assistant Commissioner of Chota Nagpore ; Lieutenant R. Stuart, Superintendent of Cachar ; and Lieutenant Stanton, Executive Engineer of the Grand Trunk Road at Shergotty.

10. Of the value of the assistance received from Mr. A. R. Young, Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Mr. Halliday has spoken forcibly. I can add nothing to what he has said on this head, but I have pleasure in confirming it.

11. I proceed to mention the services of the Officers of the North-West Provinces.

The lamented death of the late Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Colvin, under the weight of his great and anxious labours, was not only a heavy loss to the Government of India, but the cause of throwing, upon many of its officers, an unusual but unavoidable responsibility.

12. In the Central Provinces, the Government for some months availed itself most beneficially of the ability and energy of the Honourable Mr. J. P. Grant, then a Member of the Supreme Council, and now Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, whose exertions contributed greatly to recall things to order.

13. In the Upper Provinces at Agra, the Government was long cut off from regular communication with the Government of India, and, during that time, and subsequently, the experience and public spirit of Mr. E. A. Reade, Senior Member of the Board of Revenue; and, when military authority became necessary, the zealous services of Colonel Fraser, who, unhappily, has not survived; were of great value.

14. The Central and Upper Provinces were reunited from the beginning of February, 1858, when I assumed the government of the North-west Provinces, at Allahabad.

15. The pressure of the revolt upon these Provinces was severer and longer than in any other part of India, Oude alone excepted; but, whilst in Oude our Government was entirely swept away, in the North-west Provinces it retained its hold of many chief points of the country. These were held single and isolated in a sea of rebellion, and that this was possible is due to the indomitable courage, devotion to duty, and fertility of resource which have marked the conduct of the Officers of the Civil Service of India throughout this terrible time.

They have been worthily aided and rivalled by military officers on detached employ, and by many gentlemen not connected with the Government; but it is due, primarily, to the Officers of the Civil Service that the landmarks of British authority throughout the districts of the North-west Provinces were not overborne in the flood.

16. It is now my duty to recommend to the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government the following officers.

Mr. J. Cracroft Wilson, Judge of Moradabad. I name this gentleman first, because he has the enviable distinction of having, by his own obstinate courage and perseverance, saved more Christian lives than any man in India. He did this at the repeatedly imminent peril of own life. He has since left the service of the Indian Government, and is retired to New Zealand, whither I respectfully hope that the favour of the Crown may follow him.

Mr. Henry Carre Tucker, late Commissioner, and Mr. Frederick B. Gubbins, Judge (and now Commissioner) of Benares. The firmness, calmness, and excellent judgment of Mr. F. Gubbins in dealing with the great dangers which beset that city were most remarkable. Mr. C. J. Wingfield, Commissioner of Goruckpore, since raised to the Chief Commissionership in Oude, where there is a wider field for the exercise of his high qualities; Mr. A. H. Cocks, Judge of Mynpoorie; Mr. B. Sapte, Magistrate of Bolundshuhur; Mr. R. Alexander, Commissioner of Rohilcund; Mr.

R. H. Dunlop, Magistrate of Meerut ; Mr. F. O. Mayne, Magistrate of Banda ; Mr. A. O. Hume, Magistrate of Etawah ; Mr. J. H. Bax, Joint Magistrate of Ghazeepore ; Major Erskine, Commissioner of Saugor ; Major G. Williams, commanding the Volunteers, and afterwards head of the whole Police of the North-western Provinces ; Major H. Ramsay, Commissioner of Kumaon ; and Captain Pinckney, Commissioner of Jhansi.

17. I would also invite the notice of Her Majesty's Government to the excellent services of Mr. C. Chester, Commissioner of Allahabad ; Mr. M. H. Court, Magistrate of Allahabad ; Mr. G. F. Harvey, Commissioner of Agra ; Mr. C. Raikes, Civil Commissioner in the camp of the Commander-in-Chief ; Mr. F. Williams, Commissioner of Meerut ; Mr. C. Daniell, Assistant Magistrate of Etah ; Mr. A. Lyall, Assistant Magistrate at Bolundshuhur ; Mr. A. Shakespeare, Magistrate of Bijour ; Mr. G. D. Turnbull, Judge of Meerut ; Mr. M. B. Thornhill, Magistrate of Muttra ; Mr. F. M. Lind, Magistrate of Benares ; Mr. St. George Tucker, Magistrate of Mirzapore ; Mr. H. Vansittart, Officiating Judge of Agra ; the Hon. R. J. Drummond, Magistrate of Agra ; Mr. J. Power, Magistrate of Mynpoorie ; Mr. R. H. Davies, Magistrate of Azimgurh ; Mr. R. Spankie, Magistrate of Saharunpore ; Mr. A. R. Pollock, Joint Magistrate of Benares ; Mr. W. Probyn, Officiating Magistrate of Furruckabad ; Sir T. Metcalfe, Assistant Magistrate at Delhi ; Mr. R. M. Edwards, Joint Magistrate of Mozuffurnuggur ; Mr. G. Palmer, Joint Magistrate of Bijour ; Mr. F. Bird, Joint Magistrate of Goruckpore ; Mr. H. Robertson, Assistant Magistrate of Saharunpore ; Mr. H. Willock, Assistant Magistrate at Allahabad ; Mr. L. Probyn, Assistant Magistrate at Ghazeepore ; Mr. S. S. Melville, Assistant Magistrate at Bolundshuhur ; Mr. A. L. Phillips, Joint Magistrate of Etah ; Mr. C. Jenkinson, Assistant Magistrate of Jounpore ; Mr. G. Free-ling, Joint Magistrate of Azimghur ; Mr. J. Simson, Joint Magistrate of Mirzapore ; Mr. C. Grant, Joint Magistrate of Mozuffurnuggur ; Mr. G. Lane, Acting Magistrate at Etawah ; Mr. W. M. Low, Assistant Magistrate at Bareilly ; and Mr. H. G. Ross, Assistant Magistrate at Azimghur.

18. Of military officers in civil employ, notice is first due to Lieutenant-Colonel Baird Smith, Superintendent of Roorkee ; but this officer's most signal services were rendered in a military capacity, and are already known and appreciated by Her Majesty's Government.

There are, besides, Captain Waddington, Deputy Commissioner of Mundla ; Captain Teran, Deputy Commissioner of Jaloun ; Captain Drummond, Superintendent of the Ganges Canal ; Captain Read, Superintendent of Forest Agency ; Captain Maclean, Deputy Commissioner of Baitool ; Lieutenant Fenton, Deputy Commissioner of Chanderee ; and Lieutenant Brownlow, Deputy Superintendent of the Jumna Canal ; Lieutenant Eckford, of the Mynpoorie levy ; and Lieutenant de Kantzow, whose service in the field has been partly under civil, partly under military authority.

19. Of gentlemen not in the covenanted service of the Indian Government, notice is claimed especially for Mr. P. Carnegy, Deputy Collector of Jounpore ; Mr. P. Saunders, and Mr. A. Tonnochy.

20. The valuable services rendered by Mr. Dunne, Mr. Walewski, Mr. A. Walewski, Mr. Legge, and Mr. D. Churcher, and Mr. G. Jones, —gentlemen upon whose aid the Government had no claim,—are also deserving of the notice of Her Majesty's Government.

21. If it be thought that the number of officers whom I have brought to the attention of Her Majesty's Government for distinguished service in the north-west provinces is large, I beg that it may be remembered that the services have been rendered over a country of 73,000 square miles in area, and peopled by 30,000,000 of inhabitants, nearly every corner of which has been searched out by rebellion.

22. It only remains for me, as regards the north-west provinces, to bring before the Secretary of State the able and indefatigable services of the Secretary to the Government, Mr. W. Muir: I cannot speak too highly of them.

The services of Mr. C. B. Thornhill, who acted as Secretary to the Government at Agra during the first nine months of the mutiny, and subsequently as Commissioner of Allahabad, also claim notice.

23. In Central India, the officers of Government were tried by great and long-continued difficulties and dangers.

I desire to bring prominently before Her Majesty's Government the very important services of the two distinguished men who have had charge of the affairs of Central India, during that time.

24. The first thanks of the Government are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Durand, C.B., who, at the time of the outbreak, was officiating as the Agent of the Governor-General. Colonel Durand's conduct was marked by great foresight and the soundest judgment, as well in military as in civil matters. He had many points to guard, and the trustworthy force at his disposal was almost hopelessly small; but, by a judicious use of it, and the closest personal supervision of its movements,

25. In December, 1857, Sir Robert Hamilton returned to Indore, and Colonel Durand resigned his charge. At the same time, Sir Hugh Rose moved into Central India.

Throughout the campaign in that country, and through the hot season of 1858, Sir Robert Hamilton accompanied Sir Hugh Rose's force to the Jumna and Gwalior, and was present in several actions. By his thorough knowledge of the chiefs and people with whom he had to deal, and by the personal influence which he has known how to establish with them, he contributed largely to the rapid movement and signal successes of the troops, and laid the groundwork of the general pacification of that part of India.

26. I recommend to the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government the services of Major Macpherson, Political Agent at Gwalior. Holding a post of great importance, far removed from his immediate superior at Indore, and often struggling against sickness, he has discharged his difficult duties with complete success.

As also the very remarkable services of Captain Willoughby Osborne, Political Agent in Rewah. Few servants of the Government have laboured more courageously or successfully, against difficulties of every kind, to maintain the influence of the British Government, and to repress disloyalty, than this distinguished young officer.

27. Of other Political officers whose services in Central India deserve notice, there are Major Ellis, Political Agent in Bundelcund; Major Nixon, Political Agent at Bhurtpore; Major Keatinge, Political Agent in Nimar; Lieutenant Hutchinson, lately Bheel Agent; Captain Gordon Cumming, Deputy Bheel Agent; Captain Shakespear, First Assistant at Indore; and Mr. G. Coles, Assistant to the Political Agent in Rewah.

28. In Rajpootana, I have to recommend to the favourable consideration of the Secretary of State; the claims of Colonel George Lawrence, who has acted as Agent for the Governor-General throughout the disturbed times.

29. The services in those States of Major Eden, Political Agent in Jyepore, and now officiating for Colonel Lawrence; of Captain Lloyd, the Superintendent at Neemuch; and of Major Brooke, commanding the Meywar Corps, well deserve the notice of Her Majesty's Government.

30. The difficulty of the position which the Resident at Hyderabad, Lieutenant-Colonel Davidson, has had to maintain is well known to the Home Government. I trust that favourable consideration may be given to the merits of this able officer, whose courage and good judgment have been conspicuously shown on more than one critical occasion during the last two years.

31. He has been most efficiently aided by Major Briggs, the Military Secretary, and Captain Thornhill, the first Assistant; to the former of whom the successful defence of the Residency was mainly due in 1857, when its fall would have led to the rising of the whole Deccan.

I beg to ask that the merits of these officers may not pass without notice.

32. To Sir Richmond Shakespear, the Government of India is indebted for the perfectly good understanding maintained with the Guicowar and the Baroda Durbar, at a time when the disaffection and intrigues of the Mahrattas in Western India threatened to be most dangerous to our hold of that part of the country. It has given me pleasure to advance Sir R. Shakespear, from his late post of Resident at Baroda, to the more important charge of Central India ; but I would further ask, that his good service may receive favourable consideration from the Queen's Government.

33. Of the respective claims of the officers in Nagpore, I am unable to speak with sufficient certainty. The Commissioner has not yet furnished me with satisfactory means of doing so.

34. There remains the large and important Province of the Punjab.

The merits of the officers to whose courage and ability the preservation of that country is due, have been set forth by the distinguished chief, Sir John Lawrence, with a fulness which leaves little to be added.

Of what is due to Sir John Lawrence himself, no man is ignorant. Through him, Delhi fell, and the Punjab, no longer a weakness, became a source of strength ; and but for him, the hold of England over Upper India would have had to be recovered at a cost of English blood and treasure which defies calculation. It is difficult to exaggerate the value of such ability, vigilance, and energy, at such a time.

35. Next, but not inferior to any man in his claim to the gratitude of his country, is Mr. Montgomery, the present Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab. I know but one opinion of the value of his prompt and courageous counsels, tempered as they always have been with the soundest and most generous judgment. Before he received charge of the great government of the Punjab, I claimed the benefit of his experience and ability in the reorganization of Oude. I shall have to speak elsewhere of his services as Chief Commissioner of that Province : here it is sufficient to say, that they have largely enhanced his high reputation, and his claim to the favour of the Government.

36. The officers for whose services I solicit the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government, are Mr. Macleod, the Financial Commissioner ; Lieutenant-Colonel Herbert Edwardes, the able and fearless Commissioner of Peshawur ; General Van Cortlandt, who, with a small force of police, recovered and held Hurrianah ; Captain James, the Deputy Commissioner of Peshawur ; Major Becher, the Deputy Commissioner of Hazara ; Captain Henderson in Kohat ; Mr. G. C. Barnes, the experienced Commissioner of the Cis-Sutlej States ; Mr. G. H. M. Ricketts, Deputy Commissioner at Loodianah, for whom I earnestly request that an error committed elsewhere in quieter times may not be an obstacle to the acknowledgment of his remarkable service in the crisis of the Punjab's danger ; Mr. A. Roberts, the Commissioner of Lahore ; Mr. F. Cooper, the Deputy Commissioner of Umritsur, who, I hope, will be judged by his acts done under stern necessity, rather than by the narrative of them ; Lieutenant-Colonel Macpherson, Military Secretary ; and Lieutenant-Colonel R. Lawrence, at first Captain of the Lahore Police, and afterwards commanding the Cashmere Contingent ; Mr. T. Forsyth, Deputy Commissioner of Umballa ; and Major Marsden, Deputy Commissioner at Ferozepore.

37. Sir John Lawrence has borne grateful testimony to the manner in which the officers of the Punjab of all grades did their duty.

Major Hamilton, Commissioner of Mooltan, Captain Briggs, Captain Lewis, and Lieutenant Dobbin, rendered service in the transport of troops and stores which deserves special notice.

38. There is one department of the Civil Government, which, though established in Calcutta, has concern with all parts of Bengal where troops are in the field. or in movement,—the department of the Superintendent of Marine. .

The calls for exertion and watchfulness in this department have been constant, from the time when the transports with English troops began to arrive in the river, up to the present moment, when the despatch of supplies and stores by the inland steamers is only just slackening.

To Mr. Howe, in the first instance, and to Captain Rennie, from the time when he took up his appointment at the beginning of 1858, great praise is due for the manner in which the duties of the office have been discharged.

I trust that the services of these two officers will receive notice from Her Majesty's Government.

89. Lastly, I must request that due acknowledgment and honour be given to the gentlemen who, during these times of difficulty and anxiety, have discharged the onerous duties of the Secretariat of the Government of India.

40. As might be expected, the heaviest burden has, perhaps, fallen upon the Secretary to Government in the Military Department, Major-General Birch, C.B. I cannot speak too highly of the ability and assiduity with which his work has been performed. For the clearness and precision with which he has conducted very complicated duties, and the hearty zeal with which he has given his days and nights to the extraordinary press of labour that has come upon, and still rests upon, his department, he has my warmest thanks.

Major Atkinson, the Under Secretary in the same department, had responsibilities thrown upon him, during this year, when his superior was absent with me from Calcutta, which were much beyond the ordinary scope of his duties; and he discharged them in a manner which has given great satisfaction to the Government of India.

41. The post of Secretary to the Foreign Department was filled, up to the 20th January, 1859, by Mr. G. F. Edmonstone, now the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West Provinces. I can give to this valuable servant of the Government no higher praise than to say that the performance of the duties which fell upon him, and which were heavily increased by the state of affairs that has prevailed in the many large and important districts superintended through the Foreign Office, has been exactly what might have been expected from those who knew the character of his former service. It has been admirable, and I rejoice to have been able to mark my own sense of it, and my confidence in him, by naming him to the highest office which the Governor-General of India in Council can bestow.

Mr. Edmonstone has been zealously and indefatigably seconded by Mr. Robert Simson, the Under Secretary of the department, whose thorough knowledge of his work has been of great value to the Government.

42. The labour of the Secretary of the Home Department, Mr. Cecil Beadon, has been rendered unusually heavy and anxious from the very commencement of the Mutinies: much work connected with transport by land and water, and with the despatch of the Naval Brigades, beginning with that under the late Sir W. Peel, was thrown upon his department, and the efficiency with which it was done, although for the most part of a very novel nature, has been most creditable to him.

I desire to record my very high appreciation of the value of Mr. Beadon's services.

43. In the office of the Financial Secretary, Mr. Lushington, the pressure of the times has been felt, especially of late. In his own department, and in those under its control, particularly in that of the Accountant-General, the Honourable Mr.

Drummond, the business of Government has been zealously discharged.

44. There remains the office of Secretary in the department of Public Works.

From the moment that it became certain that a vast increase of accommodation, temporary and permanent, for the English troops, would be necessary, the labours of this office in prescribing the work, and in directing and controlling the staff of Engineers engaged upon it, have been greatly augmented.

The staff has, for various reasons, been short-handed, and there is no branch of the duties of the Government in which rapid and judicious action has been more necessary, and in which we have been compelled so constantly to have recourse to makeshifts, and to make the best of imperfect means, both in agency and materials. In surmounting these difficulties, the intelligence and earnestness of Lieutenant-Colonel Yule have been the main help of the Government; and the thanks, not only of the Governor-General in Council, but of the English Army in Bengal, are well deserved by him.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of OCTOBER 21, 1859.

Foreign-Office, October 18, 1859.

THE Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. James King as Consul at Cape Town for His Majesty the King of Prussia.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, October 21, 1859.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Plantations have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul-General at Alexandria, reporting that vessels arriving in Egyptian ports from the coast of Syria will be admitted to free pratique.

War-Office, 21st October, 1859.

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned Officers and Private Soldier of Her Majesty's Indian Military Forces, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, on account of Acts of Bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their several names ; viz. :

5th Bengal European Cavalry.

Major Charles John Stanley Gough.—First, for gallantry in an affair at Khurkowdah, near Rho-tuck, on the 15th of August, 1857, in which he saved his brother, who was wounded, and killed two of the Enemy. Secondly, for gallantry on the 18th of August, when he led a Troop of the Guide Cavalry in a charge, and cut down two of the Enemy's Sowars, with one of whom he had a desperate hand to hand combat. Thirdly, for gallantry on the 27th of January, 1858, at Shumshabad, where, in a charge, he attacked one of the Enemy's leaders, and pierced him with his sword, which was carried out of his hand in the melée. He defended himself with his revolver, and shot two of the Enemy. Fourthly, for gallantry on the 23rd of February, at Meangunge, where he came to the assistance of Brevet-Major O. H. St. George Anson, and killed his opponent, immediately afterwards cutting down another of the Enemy in the same gallant manner. Date of Acts of Bravery, 15th and 18th August, 1857, and 27th January, and 23rd February, 1858.

60th Bengal Native Infantry.

Brevet-Captain Robert Haydon Shebbeare.—For distinguished gallantry at the head of the Guides with the 4th column of assault at Delhi, on the 14th of September, 1857, when, after twice charging beneath the wall of the loopholed Serai, it was found impossible, owing to the murderous fire, to attain the breach. Captain (then Lieutenant) Shebbeare endeavoured to re-organize the men, but one-third of the Europeans having fallen, his efforts to do so failed. He then conducted the rear-guard of the retreat across the canal most successfully. He was most miraculously preserved through the affair, but yet left the field with one bullet through his cheek, and a bad scalp wound along the back of the head from another. Date of Act of Bravery, 14th September, 1857.

19th Madras Native Infantry.

Captain Herbert Mackworth Clogstoun.—For conspicuous bravery in charging the Rebels into Chichumbah with only eight men of his Regiment (the 2nd Cavalry Hyderabad Contingent), compelling them to re-enter the Town, and finally to abandon their plunder. He was severely wounded himself, and lost seven out of the eight men who accompanied him. Date of Act of Bravery, 15th January, 1859.

72nd Bengal Native Infantry.

Lieutenant Harry Hammon Lyster.—For gallantly charging and breaking, singly, a skirmishing square of the retreating Rebel Army from Calpee, and killing two or three Sepoys in the conflict. Major-General Sir Hugh Henry Rose, G.C.B., reports that this Act of Bravery was witnessed by himself and by Lieutenant Colonel Gall, C.B., of the 14th Light Dragoons. Date of Act of Bravery, 23rd May, 1858.

Madras Engineers.

Lieutenant Harry North Dalrymple Prendergast.—For conspicuous bravery on the 21st of November, 1857, at Mundisore, in saving the life of Lieutenant G. Dew, 14th Light Dragoons, at the risk of his own, by attempting to cut down a Velaitee, who covered him (Lieutenant Dew) with his piece, from only a few paces to the rear. Lieutenant Prendergast was wounded in this affair by the discharge of the piece, and would probably have been cut down, had not the rebel been killed by Major Orr. He also distinguished himself by his gallantry in the actions at Ratgurh and Betwa, when he was severely wounded. Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, in forwarding his recommendation of this Officer, states:—"Lieutenant Prendergast, Madras Engineers, was specially mentioned by Brigadier, now Sir Charles Stuart, for the gallant act at Mundisore, when he was severely wounded; secondly, he was 'specially mentioned' by me when acting voluntarily as my Aide-de-Camp in the Action before besieging Ratgurh, on the Beena river, for gallant conduct. His horse was killed on that occasion. Thirdly, at the Action of 'the Betwa,' he again voluntarily acted as my Aide-de-Camp, and distinguished himself by his bravery in the charge, which I made with Captain Need's Troop, Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons, against the left of the so-called Peishwa's Army, under Tantia Topee. He was severely wounded on that occasion." Date of Acts of Bravery, 21st November, 1857, and other occasions.

3rd Bombay European Regiment.

Private Frederick Whirlpool.—For gallantly volunteering on the 3rd of April, 1858, in the attack of Jhansi, to return and carry away several killed and wounded, which he did twice under a very heavy fire from the wall; also, for devoted bravery at the Assault of Lohari on the 2nd of May, 1858, in rushing to the rescue of Lieutenant Doune, of the Regiment, who was dangerously wounded. In this service, Private Whirlpool received seventeen desperate wounds, one of which nearly severed his head from his body. The gallant example shewn by this man is considered to have greatly contributed to the success of the day. Dates of Act of Bravery, 3rd April and 2nd May, 1858.

MEMORANDUM.

Ensign Everard Aloysius Lisle Phillipps, of the 11th Regiment of Bengal Native Infantry, would have been recommended to Her Majesty for the decoration of the Victoria Cross, had he survived, for many gallant deeds which he performed during the Siege of Delhi, during which he was wounded three times. At the assault of that city, he captured the Water Bastion, with a small party of men; and was finally killed in the streets of Delhi on the 18th of September.

THE Secretary of State for India in Council

No. 1.

GENERAL ORDER.

No. 1202 of 1859.—His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following report from Lieutenant G. Hawthorn, Commanding Field Detachment 24th Bombay Native Infantry, of operations against the rebels at Gonda, on the 19th June, 1859.

His Excellency in Council desires to record his approval of the manner in which these operations were conducted, and offers his thanks to all engaged on the occasion.

SIR, Morar, July 18, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward a report from Lieutenant Hawthorn, of the 24th Bombay Native Infantry, of operations conducted by him against rebels. I shall feel obliged by your bringing prominently to the notice of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief the zeal and perseverance of Lieutenant Hawthorn, resulting in the complete defeat and dispersal of a body of rebels.

I have, &c.

No. 3.

Lieutenant George S. Hawthorn to the Brigade Major, 2nd Brigade Gwalior Division, Jhansi.

SIR, Camp, Mow Ranypoor, 3rd July, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Colonel Lockhart, C.B., Commanding 2nd Brigade Gwalior Division, that, according to my instructions, I arrived at Torri Futtepoor on the morning of the 15th June last. I there was informed that the rebels, amounting to some 50 cavalry and between 200 and 300 infantry, under their leaders Burgoor Sing, Chutter Sing, and Desput, had left the Goorserai Districts, and proceeded across the Gosie Desanne to the Hum-meerpoor Districts. I therefore determined, in concert with Major Davies, Commanding the Jhansi Military Police, to follow them up, and co-operate with Captain Sawyers, of the police in that district.

I accordingly marched on Mow Ranypoor, where the intelligence above mentioned was confirmed ; left Mow for Alipora on the morning of the 18th ultimo ; and, the following day, moved on to Jorun. About twelve o'clock mid-day, intelligence was brought from Alipora that the rebels, under Burgoor and Chutter Sing, were collected at Gonda, on the banks of the River Desanne, some 500 strong. We immediately struck camp, and marched, via Alipora, on Gonda ; the strength of my detachment being as per margin ;* that of Major Davies, as near as I can say, as per margin also.†

We arrived at Gonda about 4.30 P.M., where we found the rebels, as reported, encamped on the left bank of the river, with dense jungle in their rear. I immediately ordered skirmishers to the front, under Ensign Holland, 24th Native Infantry, and drove the rebels through a dense jungle, some two miles I should say, on to another ghât further up the river, of the existence of which we were unaware. At this place they recrossed the river, and commenced a sharp fire upon us, but more particularly on the cavalry, who were in the open : however, we drove them out of their position ; and then the cavalry, under Major Davies, took up the pursuit.

The success was complete ; the rebels were completely defeated and dispersed, with, I am glad to say, no casualty on my side. A sowar of Major Davies, I regret to say, had two fingers cut off, while attacking one of the rebels with his spear. About ten or twelve of the enemy were killed, amongst whom was Jowahier, a foster brother of Burgoor Sing, and a man of very determined appearance. Many others were wounded, but hard to state how many, on account of the dense jungle and nullahs innumerable, which favoured their escape.

I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men under my command during this day's work, and more particularly my thanks are due to Ensign Holland for the steady way in which he led the skirmishers, driving all before him, and eventually enabling the cavalry to take up the pursuit, when infantry were of no further use, and to which I attribute the great success of the day.

I have, &c.

P.S.—I regret the delay that has occurred in forwarding my report, but sickness, I trust, will plead my excuse.

LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 8, 1859.

Foreign-Office, November 8, 1859.

IT is hereby notified, that Mr. Buchanan, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Madrid, received from Senor Calderon Collantes, the Secretary for Foreign Affairs of Her Catholic Majesty The Queen of Spain, on the 30th ultimo, a Note, of which the following is a translation :—

SIR, Palace, October 30, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward to you herewith a copy of this day's Gazette, which contains the official Notification of the Blockade of the Ports of Tangier, Tetuan, and Larache, on the Coast of Morocco.

I request you to have the goodness to acquaint your Government with this Notification, for the information of the subjects of Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain.

(Signed)

SATURNINO CALDERON COLLANTES.

Minister Plenipotentiary.

The following is a Translation of the Official Notification contained in the number of the Madrid Gazette, forwarded by Senor Collantes to Mr. Buchanan, with the above translated Note.

(Translation.)

NOTIFICATION OF BLOCKADE OF THE PORTS OF TANGIER, TETUAN, AND LARACHE.

Notice is hereby given, that according to communications addressed to the Minister of State by the Minister of Marine, with reference to the Commander-in-Chief of the Spanish Naval Forces destined to operate on the Coast of Africa, on the 28th of the present month of October, the ports and anchorages of Tangier, Tetuan, and Larache, on the coasts of Morocco, were in a state of effective Blockade by the competent number of vessels of the Royal Navy.

Foreign-Office, November 7, 1859.

CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO SPANISH OCCUPATION AT TANGIER, OR ON COAST OF MOROCCO.

No. 1.

Lord J. Russell to Mr. Buchanan.

SIR, Foreign-Office, September 22, 1859.

WITH reference to the preparations making in Spain with a view to hostilities in Morocco,

I wish you to observe to the President of the Council and to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, that the differences between the Governments of Spain and Morocco appear to have arisen from outrages committed by Moors in the vicinity of Ceuta, but that those outrages appear to have been provoked by the excitements and defiance of the Governor of Ceuta ; that a wild and untamed race seem to have become ungovernable, and to have made hostile attacks against the Spanish garrison of Ceuta.

That if the Spanish Government only seek redress for wrongs, and vindication of their honour, Her Majesty's Government will not interpose any obstacle to their obtaining such reparation. But if the outrages of the wild Moorish tribes are to be made a ground for conquest, and especially on the coast, Her Majesty's Government are bound to look to the security of the fortress of Gibraltar.

You are therefore instructed to ask for a declaration in writing, that if the Spanish troops should in the course of hostilities occupy Tangier, that occupation will be temporary, and will not extend beyond the ratification of a Treaty of Peace between Spain and Morocco. For an occupation till an indemnity is paid might become a permanent occupation, and such permanent occupation Her Majesty's Government consider inconsistent with the safety of Gibraltar.

Her Majesty's Government are sincerely desirous of maintaining with Spain the most amicable relations, but they are bound to provide for the safety of Her Majesty's possessions.

I am &c.,

(Signed) J. RUSSELL.

No. 2.

Mr. Buchanan to Lord J. Russell.—(Received October 12.)

MY LORD, Madrid, October 7, 1859.

HAVING made M. Calderon Collantes acquainted with the contents of your Lordship's despatch of the 22nd ultimo, instructing me to ask the Spanish Government for a declaration in writing, that if, in the event of war between Spain and Morocco, Tangier should be occupied by Spanish troops, they will be withdrawn immediately after the ratification of a Treaty of Peace, it was agreed between us that I should address to his Excellency the note of which I inclose a copy herewith for your Lordship's information; and I received this day from him an answer, of which a copy and translation are inclosed, and which I I trust may prove satisfactory to Her Majesty's Government.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ANDREW BUCHANAN.

Inclosure 1 in No. 2.

Mr. Buchanan to Señor Collantes.

SIR, Madrid, September 27, 1859.

DURING the discussions which took place last winter between Spain and Morocco, respecting the claims of Spanish subjects upon the Sultan's Government and the zone round Melilla, I did not fail to report to my Government the frequent assurances which I received from your Excellency, that the only object, at that time, of Her Catholic Majesty's Government was to secure due protection to Her Majesty's fortress, and to Her Majesty's subjects residing in or trading with Morocco, and that they had no intention whatever

These assurances were entirely confirmed by the event, and I have been happy to learn from the declaration contained in your Excellency's note of the 26th instant, and from the verbal explanations which you have afforded me, on repeated occasions since the new difficulty which has arisen with the Government of Morocco, that no change has taken place in the policy of the Spanish Government, and that they seek for no conquests in Africa, but only propose to obtain reparation for offences which have been offered to them by the Moors of Ceuta, and securities from the Government of the Sultan for that fortress, and Her Catholic Majesty's other possessions in Africa, which will effectually prevent a repetition of the conflicts which have taken place, and maintain hereafter the relations of Spain with the Moroccan Empire on a satisfactory and honourable footing.

The reports of my conversations with your Excellency will thus have already acquainted the Government of the Queen my Sovereign with the sentiments of moderation and justice which animate Her Catholic Majesty's Government; but it would, notwithstanding, be a satisfaction to them, considering the interest which they take in the Empire of Morocco, and the importance which they attach to the commerce of Tangier with Her Majesty's possessions in the Mediterranean, to learn from your Excellency that the great preparations at present making, with a view to military operations in Africa, have not arisen from any change in the views of Her Catholic Majesty's Government, and do not indicate any intentions on their part to make conquests in Morocco, or to occupy permanently any portion of the Sultan's territory.

Feeling assured that your Excellency will readily comply with the wish which I have the honour to express to you on this subject, I avail, &c.

(Signed) ANDREW BUCHANAN.

Inclosure 2 in No. 2.

Señor Collantes to Mr. Buchanan.

Muy Señor Mio,

HE recibido la nota que VS. se ha servido dirigirme en 27 del mes proximo pasado.

El Gobierno de la Reina mi Señora, al adoptar las disposiciones necesarias para alcanzar, si fuere menester por la fuerza de las armas, la justa reparacion pedido al Gobierno Marroqui, sigue sus constantes propositos respecto á aquel pais: propositos que VS. conoce por las manifestaciones verbales que espontaneamente le hice el año pasado con motivo de la cuestion de Melilla, confirmadas en mis notas posteriores á VS., y en la circular que he dirigido en 24 de Setiembre á los Representantes de Su Magestad en las Cortes de Europa, y de cuyo contenido habrá dado noticia el Señor Don Xavier de Isturitz al Señor Principal Secretario de Estado para los Negocios Estrangeros de Su Majestad Británica.

Aun conserva esperanzas de que se termine pacificamente el conflicto suscitado por las agresiones inmotivadas de que ha sido objeto la plaza de Ceuta; pero si sus deseos conciliadores no fuesen realizados, procurará por otros medios alcanzar el castigo de los agresores, la satisfaccion debida, y la celebracion de acuerdos encaminados á dar garantías materiales y eficaces para evitar la repeticion de tales desmanes.

Estos son los objetos á que habian de dirigirse las operaciones militares, si comenzasen. En tal concepto, fácil es comprender, conocidas las intenciones del Gobierno de la Reina mi Señora, que cualquier menoscabo que, por causa de la guerra, pudiera sufrir el activo comercio que sostiene la Gran Bretaña, con Tanger, habria de ser tansitorio, puesto que una vez ratificado el Tratado de Paz que haya de poner termino á las hostilidades entre España y Marruecos, y resueltas favorablemente, por lo tanto de un modo definitivo, las cuestiones hoy existentes, el Gobierno Español, cumpliendo con sus propositos, non mantendria la ocupacion de aquella plaza, dado caso que se viera en la necesidad de establecerse en ella para asegurar el buen exito de sus operaciones.

SIR,

Palace, October 6, 1859.

I HAVE received the note which you had the goodness to address to me on the 27th of the month last past.

The Government of the Queen my Sovereign, while adopting the measures necessary to obtain, if requisite by force of arms, the just reparation which they have demanded from the Moroccan Government, continue in their invariable intentions with regard to that country—intentions of which you are cognizant by means of the verbal statements which I spontaneously made to you last year with reference to the question of Melilla, and which have been confirmed by my subsequent notes to you, and by the circular which I addressed, on the 24th of September, to Her Majesty's Representatives at the Courts of Europe, with the contents of which Don Xavier de Isturiz will have acquainted Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

The Cabinet of Madrid, as you are aware, do not yield in this question to the impulse of a pre-existing desire for territorial aggrandizement, but are influenced alone by the sacred duty of defending their dignity and the honour of the nation.

They still preserve hopes that the conflict which has arisen from the unprovoked aggressions of which the fortress of Melilla has been the object, may terminate peacefully ; but if their conciliatory desires should not be realized, they will endeavour to obtain, by other means, the punishment of the aggressors, the satisfaction which is due, and the conclusion of agreements which may tend to give efficacious material guarantees for preventing the repetition of similar outrages.

It is to these objects that military operations, should they commence, would be directed. In this point of view it is easy to understand, knowing the intentions of the Government of the Queen my Sovereign, that whatever diminution the active commerce which Great Britain maintains with Tangier might suffer in consequence of war, would be of a transitory character ; since, when once the Treaty of Peace which should put an end to the hostilities between Spain and Morocco should be ratified, and the questions now existing should be settled favourably, and therefore definitively, the Spanish Government, in the fulfilment of their intentions, would not continue in the occupation of that fortress, on the supposition that they should have found themselves

I avail, &c.

No. 3.

Lord J. Russell to Mr. Buchanan.

SIR, Foreign-Office, October 15, 1859.

HER Majesty's Government have had under their consideration the note addressed to you by Señor Collantes on the 6th of October, of which a copy was inclosed in your despatch of the following day, in reply to the demand for explanations which you were instructed by my despatch of the 22nd of September to require of him respecting the intentions of the Spanish Government in the event of the occupation of Tangier by the Spanish forces.

You were instructed to apply to the Spanish Government for a declaration, in writing, that if the Spanish troops should, in the course of hostilities, occupy Tangier, that occupation would be temporary, and would not extend beyond the ratification of a Treaty of Peace between Spain and Morocco ; and in your note to Señor Collantes of the 27th of September you said that it would be a satisfaction to Her Majesty's Government to learn that the military preparations of the Spanish Government did not indicate any intentions on their part to make conquests in Morocco, or to occupy permanently any portion of the Sultan's territory.

Señor Collantes, in his reply of the 6th of October, states that when once the Treaty of Peace which should put an end to the hostilities between Spain and Morocco should be ratified, the questions now existing being settled favourably, and therefore definitively, the Spanish Government, in fulfilment of their intentions, would not continue in the occupation of that fortress (Tangier), in the supposition that they should have found themselves obliged to establish themselves there in order to secure the favourable issue of their operations.

You will state to M. Collantes that Her Majesty's Government accept with pleasure this assurance, as conveying the declaration which, by my despatch of the 22nd of September, you were instructed to ask for.

You will further state to his Excellency that Her Majesty's Government earnestly desire that there may be no change of possession on the Moorish coast of the straits. The importance they attach to this object cannot be overrated; and it would be impossible for them, or indeed for any other maritime power, to see with indifference the permanent occupation by Spain of such a position on that coast as would enable her to impede the passage of the straits to ships frequenting the Mediterranean for commercial or any other purposes.

I am, &c.

MY LORD, Madrid, October 24, 1859.

WITH reference to your Lordship's telegrams of the 19th and 20th instant, on the subject of the alleged intention of Spain to obtain a cession from Morocco of several miles of territory on the coast of the Straits of Gibraltar, I have the honour to inclose herewith the copy of a note which I addressed to M. Calderon Collantes on the 21st instant, expressing the objections which Her Majesty's Government would entertain to the occupation by Spain of the coast west of Ceuta; and requesting his Excellency to name the points on that coast which would be included in the rayon of the fortress, if the views of Her Catholic Majesty's Government are carried into effect.

I have also the honour to inclose the copy and translation of an answer which I have received from his Excellency, declaring distinctly that Her Catholic Majesty's Government have no intention to occupy any point on the said coast, which would give Spain a superiority that would be dangerous to the navigation of the straits.

I have, &c.

Inclosure 1 in No. 4.

Mr. Buchanan to Señor Collantes.

SIR, Madrid, October 21, 1859.

THE Government of the Queen my Sovereign have reason to believe, from the reports of Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires at Tangier, and from the late declarations of Her Catholic Majesty's Government in the Cortes, that Her Catholic Majesty is about to declare war to the Emperor of Morocco, in consequence of the Moorish Government having declined a demand on the part of her Government that certain territory lying between the fortress of Ceuta and the mountainous ridge, or Sierra of Bullones, should be ceded to Spain.

From my verbal communications to your Excellency on this subject, you are already aware that the Government of the Queen my Sovereign entertain apprehensions that the cession to Spain of the territory in question cannot take place without seriously compromising the freedom of the navigation of the Straits of Gibraltar ; and it is, therefore, my duty, in execution of instructions which I have received from Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to inquire how far Her Catholic Majesty's Government propose that the rayon of Ceuta should be extended, and more particularly to request that your Excellency will have the goodness to name the points on the coast which, in the event of the views of Her Catholic Majesty's Government being carried into effect, would be included within the territory of Spain.

In addressing these inquiries to your Excellency, I am further to request that I may receive answers to them at your Excellency's earliest convenience.

I avail, &c.

Señor Collantes to Mr. Buchanan.

Palacio, 21 de Octubre de 1859.

Muy Señor mio,

HE recibido la nota que con fecha de hoy se ha servido V.S. dirigirme, y me he enterado con especial atencion de su contenido.

En el estado en que hoy se halla la cuestion de Marruecos, por la inconcebible resistencia del Gobierno del Sultan á satisfacer las justas demandas de la España, es muy difícil, sino imposible, para el Gabinete de Madrid determinar, ni aun aproximadamente, la naturaleza de las garantías que podrá verse en la necesidad de pedir para afianzar los resultados de las hostilidades próximas á comenzarse.

VS. no puede desconocer, ni ocultarse tampoco á la ilustracion de su Gobierno, que cuando dos naciones apelan, para resolver sus diferencias, á la fuerza de las armas, al romperse las negociaciones diplomaticas que se siguieron sin resultado, se declaran nulas, y se tienen por no hechas las proposiciones anteriores, reservandose ambas partes el derecho de renovarlas ó de presentar otras diferentes, segun conviene á sus intereses, y corresponde al éxito de las operaciones militares. Apesar de esto, el Gobierno de la Reina mi Señora, que tantas y tan señaladas pruebas ha dado de su espíritu conciliador y recto en los varios incidentes de la cuestion con Marruecos, no cambiará el proposito que desde su origen habia formado, de no ocupar en el Estrecho punto alguno cuya posicion pueda proporcionar á España una superioridad peligrosa para la navegacion. En esta materia sus ideas han sido siempre tan desinteresadas y leales que no puede creer que se haya concebido duda alguna acerca de ellas.

Sin embargo el Gobierno de Su Magestad, en cuyo nombre he dado á VS. repetidamente las esplicaciones necesarias para disipar todo genero de dudas, si tal vez se habian concebido respecto á sus propositos, no quiere omitir la manifestacion consignada, seguro de que el Gobierno de Su Magestad Británica, al pedirlo, no tiene otro objeto que él de poner á salvo los intereses de la Gran Bretaña, y de ningun modo intervenir en la contienda proxima á empeñarse entre dos pueblos independientes.

I HAVE received the note which you have had the goodness to address to me, dated this day, and I have informed myself of its contents with particular attention.

In the present state of the question of Morocco, owing to the inconceivable resistance of the Sultan's Government to satisfying the just demands of Spain, it is very difficult, if not impossible, for the Cabinet of Madrid to determine, even approximately, the nature of the guarantees which they may find themselves under the necessity of asking, in order to assure the results of the hostilities which are on the point of commencing.

You cannot be unaware, nor can your enlightened Government either be ignorant, that when two nations appeal for the settlement of their differences to force of arms, on the diplomatic relations, which have been pursued without effect being broken off, former proposals are declared null, and considered as if they had not been made, while both parties reserve to themselves the right of renewing them, or of presenting others of a different kind, according as it may suit their interests, and correspond to the results of the military operations.

Notwithstanding this, the Government of the Queen my Sovereign, who have given so many and such marked proofs of their conciliatory and upright spirit in the different incidents which have sprung from the question with Morocco, will not vary the intentions which they had formed from the beginning of that question, not to occupy any point on the Straits whose position could afford to Spain a superiority dangerous to the navigation. In this matter their ideas have been always so disinterested and loyal that they cannot believe that any doubt can have been conceived with regard to them.

Nevertheless, Her Majesty's Government, in whose name I have repeatedly offered to you the explanations necessary for dissipating every species of doubt, if by chance it had been conceived with respect to their intentions, do not wish to omit the statement made above, feeling sure that Her Britannic Majesty's Government, in asking for it, have no other object than to secure the safety of the interests of Great Britain, and not in any manner to interfere in the contest which is about to be engaged in between two independent nations.

I avail, &c.

India Office, November 4, 1859.

THE following papers have been received by the Secretary of State for India in Council:

No. 1.

Extract of a Letter from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, G.C.B., dated May 14, 1859.

Para. 16.—I have already praised the excellent conduct of the B. Company Madras Sappers and Miners, which formed part of my force; but I now beg leave to request most respectfully his Lordship, the Commander-in-Chief in India, to have the goodness to convey, to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief of the Madras Army, the high sense which I entertain of the excellent service which they performed under my orders; they lived on the very best terms with their English comrades; no work was too dangerous, or too difficult, for the gallantry and the devotion of this company, which has been twenty years on foreign service. On account of the great length of hard service which the company had gone through, it was to return to Madras from Calpee ; but, on Gwalior falling into the hands of the rebels, the company again took the field with the utmost alacrity, and again earned not only my sincere approbation, but that also of the Central India Field Force, by its unvarying gallantry and zeal. Captain Brown deserves to be specially mentioned, for having led this distinguished company at the escalade of Jhansi, and for having commanded it from the 5th July, 1857, when its commander, Lieutenant-Colonel Boileau, was appointed to the staff, till the close of the operations against Jhansi, when he fell sick. Lieutenant Gordon then took the command of the company, and I beg to mention him specially for the satisfactory manner in which he performed this duty. The Subadar of the company has a full right to be specially mentioned for his admirable conduct throughout the campaign.

GENERAL ORDER.

Fort William, August 19, 1859.

No. 1173.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following report from Lieutenant Roome, of the 10th Bombay Native Infantry, commanding the Field Detachments at Basoda, of a spirited and successful action against the rebel forces, under Adil Mahomed Khan, near Goonapoor, on the 23rd June, 1859.

No. 3.

Brigadier-General Sir R. Napier, K.C.B., to the Chief of the Staff.

SIR,

Morar, July 14, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, a report, received through Lieutenant-Colonel Boyle, commanding at Seronge, of a second successful attack upon the rebels, under Adil Mahomed Khan, by that gallant and enterprising officer Lieutenant Roome, 10th Bombay Native Infantry. I entirely concur in the favourable terms in which Colonel Boyle mentions Lieutenant Roome and the officers and men under his command.

I have, &c.,
R. NAPIER, Brigadier-General, Commanding Gwalior Division.

No. 4.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. Boyle to the Assistant Adjutant-General, Gwalior Division.

SIR,

Camp near Seronge, July 1, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for submission to Brigadier-General Sir R. Napier, commanding the division, a Report from Lieutenant Roome, (10th Bombay Regiment of Native Infantry), commanding the Field Detachments at Basoda, of a successful encounter with rebel forces under Adil Mahomed Khan, near Goonapoor, on the 23rd ultimo.

2. The operations described in Lieutenant Roome's Report appear to me highly creditable to him and to the force under him; and I wish to express to the Brigadier-General my sense of Lieutenant Roome's praiseworthy exertions, zeal,

3. It affords me much pleasure to point out to the Brigadier-General the warm terms in which the services of Lieutenant Blair, of Mayne's Horse, and of his detachment also, are mentioned on this occasion by Lieutenant Roome, and the good spirit shown by all the officers and men of the force, and I hope for the good offices of Sir R. Napier on behalf of Rissaldar Indur Sing. of Mayne's Horse (wounded in the engagement), who is specially mentioned.

I have, &c.,

W. BOYLE, Lieutenant-Colonel, Commanding Seronge Field Force.

No. 5.

Lieutenant Ford Roome, to the Staff Officer Deopoor.

SIR, Camp, Garrispore, June 24, 1859.

I HAVE the honour to request you will forward, through Colonel Boyle, commanding Brigade at Deopoor, to General Napier, commanding Gwalior Division, this my Report of a successful attack on Adil Mahomed, on the hills near Goonapora. I left this place yesterday morning at 1 A.M., with a force as per margin,* and proceeded by a jungle track over several ranges of hills, till I arrived at their encampment; this I found burnt to the ground and deserted, but in the bushes we took two prisoners, who told us that Adil Mahomed was encamped on the hills with 2000 men, of whom 80 were mutinied Cavalry Sowars, and 700 Teelingas, or mutinied regular Sepoys, and the remainder Budmashes and Villaities. I ought to say that we had heard from a woman we met on the road, that the Patell of Goonapoorra had advised her to leave, as it was the intention of the rebels to have a fight with the English force coming to attack them. Taking all this into consideration, and also the smallness of my force, I advanced to the attack of their camp with the greatest caution. I threw out a portion of my infantry as skirmishers, keeping the remainder as a support. In this order we reached the enemy's position, but found that, at the eleventh hour, their courage had failed them, and they had retreated. Perceiving from the freshness of their tracks, that they had only lately left, I sent on Lieutenant Blair with the cavalry in pursuit, and followed myself with the infantry to support him, should the enemy make a stand as I expected.

Lieutenant Blair, after a gallop of about a mile through thick jungle, came upon a large body of the enemy, which he at once charged. They were regular sepoy and sowars mounted on horses and ponies, and, though many of them made a desperate resistance, yet the detachment of Mayne's Horse, under Lieutenant Blair's able leadership, managed to cut up a great number of them. The infantry were not altogether idle, for the skirmishers put up, in one of the nullahs, a few rebels who had escaped the cavalry, and shot or bayoneted them altogether. I am of opinion that at least 100 were sabred by the cavalry, who, with their gallant young officer, did their work admirably. Lieutenant Blair speaks highly of the behaviour of the whole of his men, on this occasion, more especially of the Sikh troops, which happened to be in front. He also begs to recommend to the special notice of General Napier, Ressaldar Indur Sing (whose name I had much pleasure in once before bringing to his favourable notice, and who was yesterday wounded on the wrist) ; also Sowar Rum Sing, who received a sword cut on the right shoulder ; as also Sowar Bheekum Sing, who cut down the sepoy, who wounded the Ressaldar, and in doing so received a cut through the boot.

On our return, as the column approached the village of Goonapoor, some rebels who were hid in the houses, fired out and shot a Duffadar of the Camel Corps. I at once formed the infantry into three storming parties, under the respective leaderships of Lieutenants Harris, Newport, and myself. We lost no time in attacking. Lieutenant Harris's and my party stormed the village, and Lieutenant Newport's a hill at the back of it. We drove the rebels out of the village, and towards Lieutenant Newport's party ; but, owing to the admirable cover they had, and the denseness of the jungle, they escaped with the loss of about ten of their number. We then returned to the village of Goonapoor, which we found full of grain and other supplies, sufficient for a year's consumption, of which we took away as much as we could, destroyed the remainder, and burnt the village. I should beg to draw the General's attention to the admirable behaviour of the men of all arms composing the force, who, because of the baggage not being able to follow us on account of the badness of the roads, had to remain the whole day and night in the rain, wet, hungry, and fatigued, bearing every privation with the utmost cheerfulness. My thanks are specially due to Seei Sooba Ram Rao, for the correctness of his information, and the great trouble he took to obtain it, and his indefatigable zeal in procuring supplies for the force. I may also add that, as usual, he kept in front with the skirmishers. I ought to say that I sent a copy of the terms offered, to Adil Mahomed, and that he ordered my messengers to be beheaded ; they managed, however, to escape, with the loss of their horses, and returned to me late on the night of the 22nd. In fact, I set out for the attack in less than two hours after their return. I enclose a casualty list.

I have, &c.,
FORD ROOME, Lieutenant,
 10th Regiment B. N. L., Commanding Basoda Field Force.

THE following paper has been received by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

Extract of a Letter from the Secretary of the Government of India to the Adjutant-General of the Army, dated Allahabad, 17th November, 1858.

I AM directed to acquaint you, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-1859.

Chief, that the Governor-General is of opinion that the military arrangements made by Major-General Reed, in the Punjab, in concert with the civil authorities, during the early period of the mutinies in the North-Western Provinces in 1857, well merited the approbation which the officers received at the time from the late Commander-in-Chief; and that his Lordship is fully satisfied that, from the 5th of July, when the decease of Major-General Sir H. Barnard, took place, to the 17th of that month, when ill-health obliged Major-General Reed to quit the camp before Delhi, that Officer, in assuming the command of the besieging force, and in directing its operations, performed a service which deserves the acknowledgments of Government.

LONDON GAZETTE of NOVEMBER 29,

India Office, November 24, 1859.

THE Secretary of State for India in Council has received the following papers.

No. 1.

Fort William, September 24, 1859.

No. 1336.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following extract of a letter from the officiating Adjutant-General of the Army, No. 1094, of the 18th ultimo, and reports from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, G.C.B., late Commanding Central India Field Force, of the capture of Rathgur, and of the action at Barodia.

His Excellency in Council in notifying his entire concurrence in the opinion expressed by the Right Honourable the Commander-in-Chief, desires to record his high approval of the manner in which these operations were directed. His Excellency in Council offers his cordial thanks to Major General Sir Hugh Rose, and to all the officers and men employed on these occasions, and regrets that the miscarriage of the Reports of these operations should have delayed the public notice of them.

No. 2.

Extract of a letter from the officiating Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, No. 1094, dated 18th August, 1859 :—

In continuation of my letter, No. 389, of 20th May last, I am now directed to append, for submission to His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, the accompanying despatch, No. 1204A, dated 29th June of the present year, from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, G.C.B., late Commanding Central India Field Force, giving cover to copies of his reports of the capture of Rathgur and action of Barodia.

With reference to the operations described in the despatches now forwarded, his Lordship desires me to observe that they reflect the highest credit upon the commander and the troops engaged, and are characterised by that complete success which marked the whole of Sir Hugh Rose's campaign in Central India.

No. 3.

Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K.C.B., Commanding Central India Field Force, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, Head Quarters, Bombay.

SIR, Camp, Saugor, 7th February, 1858.

MY report of the 31st ultimo will have informed you, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that the rebels had determined to defend the fort of Rathgur, in order to prevent my force from relieving Saugor, and putting down rebellion in the Saugor and Bundelcund districts.

As I approached Rathgur, I received information of the assemblage of rebels at Odepore, in Scindia's Country, and in my front. In order to ensure the safety of the Siege Train, which was a day's march in the rear, and not to lose time, I brought it up by a night march to my force, and adopted precautions against surprise.

In going through a pass, over a range of hills, five miles from Rathgur, the officer commanding the leading flankers, embarrassed by the thick jungle, took by mistake the right instead of the left road, as ordered, and crossing, in consequence, the River Beena by the upper, the wrong ford, got into a skirmish with the rebels posted in the suburbs of Rathgur. I had just arrived with the advanced guard at the encamping ground : to extricate the flankers from a position so unfavourable to cavalry, I advanced, and covered with the infantry guns and supports, their return to their proper position. In rectifying this mistake, I had gained a good deal of ground to the right front, and a Company of the 24th Native Infantry had taken with spirit one or two houses and gardens ; on reconnoitring, I found that they were the commencement of the suburbs, and that, to keep all this, would compromise my right, and plan of attacking the fort from the left flank. I therefore ordered the troops back to their camp.

The next day I made, with Major Boileau, Commanding Engineer, and a small party of the 3rd Europeans and 3rd Light Cavalry, under Captain Forbes, a complete reconnoissance of eighteen miles of the whole country round the rock of Rathgur.

I ascertained that the rock, one mile and a half in length, covered and surrounded with thick jungle, slopes from the west, where it is precipitous, to the east, where it is accessible. The north front of the fort was the only one which was inhabited ; the other fronts were merely fortifications. The River Beena runs under its west face.

The reconnoissance confirmed in all essentials the information on which I had formed my plan of attack. I carried it out, by investing, the same evening, the rock of Rathgur as closely as the great extent, hills, thick jungle, and a difficult river would allow me. But it is impossible, unless with a very much larger force than my own, to invest completely such ground, because a great part of it is dense jungle, which, hiding all view of the enemy's motions, enables him, by a feint, to concentrate videttes and pickets on one point, and then pass through the vacuum.

Sir Robert Hamilton had the goodness to place at my disposal 600 or 700 troops of all arms of the Regiment of Bhopal ; and I had requested their commander to invest the south-west of the fort, as being nearest to their country, and to take the village of Puttan, which they did with alacrity, after firing a few shots.

The next day, as soon as the officers commanding the Artillery and Engineers had reported that they were ready for the siege, I attacked the fort from the left, at the south-west end of the rock, under cover of a feint from the right, against the town, from which all possible advantage was to be derived.

Both succeeded.

Leaving a troop of the 3rd Light Cavalry at the foot of the slope to cover our rear, accompanied by Captain Forbes, commanding the 3rd Light Cavalry, who is always as zealous as he is useful, I mounted, with the troops in the margin,* under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, the slope, two Companies of the 3rd Europeans skirmishing and covering the breadth of the rock, two Companies supporting, and the rest in reserve. We made our way through thick jungle, and reached, without being discovered, the edge of the open ground in front of the east curtain of the fort, which Major Boileau had selected for the breaching batteries.

I directed a road to be cut immediately by the Sappers and Miners from the foot of the slope to this battery; our left to open a communication down the south of the rock with the troop of the 3rd Cavalry, investing the south of the rock; our right to open a communication down the north side of the rock with the camp; and rifle-pits to be made at night in front of our attack, enfilading as much as possible the enemy's line of defences.

The enemy, having perceived our position, commenced rather a sharp fire on it from their jinjals and small guns in the curtain and bastions, which I kept down with the fire of the 6-pounder of the Hyderabad Contingent and the 5½-mortars, the former firing at the loop-holes and embrasures, the latter, with half-charges, dropping their shells on the banquette. I beg to mention, for his devotion on this occasion, Quarter-Master Thompson, commanding a half-battery of the artillery of the Hyderabad Contingent, who has completed thirty-two years of meritorious service. Twice hit, he continued to fight his guns successfully to the close of the day. I thanked his battery on the ground.

The two 18-pounders, with elephant draught, were brought up the hill at 4 P. M., the 3rd

Artillery; two 5½ inch mortars, 10 men Bombay Artillery, 90 Madras Sappers and Miners, two 6-pounder guns Artillery; Hyderabad Contingent; one Troop 3rd Light Cavalry, under Captain Forbes.

Europeans dragging them up the steep where the elephants could not go.

The feint against the town drove the enemy out of it into the fort, and enabled Brigadier Steuart, with the force in the margin,* to take possession of the "Eedgha," a Mussulman place of prayer, opposite the north face, commanding the town, and within range of the main gate of the fort. On this height, and another to the left, he skilfully placed Captain Lightfoot's 9-pounder battery—one 8-inch howitzer and two 8-inch mortars. These batteries, forming the right, or town attack, kept up night and day an effective fire on the line of defences and buildings of the fort.

On the 27th instant, I changed the 8-inch howitzer from the right to the left attack, in order to enfilade with its fire the defences and palaces of the north face.

I was constantly between the two attacks, which were two and a half miles apart.

From the town attack I directed a detachment of the 3rd Europeans, supported by another of the 24th Native Infantry, with two companies of the 24th Native Infantry in reserve, and under cover of houses and trees and of a heavy fire from the Eedgha Battery, to take a low massive tower close to the main gate, Captain Lightfoot being of opinion that a howitzer might be placed in it which would batter the gate and strengthen and shorten the cordon of investment. I had a couple of 8-inch shells thrown into the tower, to drive

* Four 6-pounder guns, Bombay Horse Artillery; six 9-pounder guns, Bombay Light Field Battery, under Captain Lightfoot; fifty Bombay Sappers and Miners; detachment of Siege Train; two 8-inch mortars and one 8-inch howitzer, twenty-six men Bombay Artillery; all the artillery under Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull; two troops of H.M.'s 14th Light Dragoons, under Major Scudamore, 24th Regiment Native Infantry.

out the enemy should they be there, when the storming party, gallantly led by Captain Lightfoot (who volunteered to accompany it, for which I beg to recommend him to His Excellency) entered the tower, under a heavy fire from the walls, by the postern opposite the walls, from which it was only fifty yards distant. Captain Lightfoot recommends Private Davies, of the 3rd Europeans, for his gallantry and intelligence on this occasion.

Captain Lightfoot and Lieutenant Bonus, of the Engineers, having, after a thorough examination of the tower, reported that the massive construction and nature of its defences prevented their being used for the offensive, I withdrew the troops from it before daylight.

On the 28th instant, at 8 o'clock, the sand-bag batteries of the left attack having been completed, the two 18-pounders and the 8-inch howitzer, having been brought up to them, commenced their fire against the outer wall of the east curtain of the fort with such good effect that it was evident that a practicable breach would be soon made.

I had just returned to the camp from the battery when the rebels, coming in force out of the thick jungle, crossed the River Beena, and attacked the videttes of the right rear of the camp. Another large body of them appeared at the same time on the opposite bank, the two bodies amounting to 1,500 or 2,000 men, many of them sepoys and valaitees.

I moved rapidly, with the outlying picket of Her Majesty's 14th Dragoons, who, in less than a minute, were in their saddles, against the rebels, ordering two guns and the rest of the pickets to follow in support. The enemy, who were skirmishing with a picket of the 3rd Light Cavalry, on seeing our approach, fired a discharge of muskets and rockets at us, and ran into a gorge of the Beena, and up its rocky banks. I directed Captain Hare, following in my rear, to move by a short line, and cut off their retreat.

Brigadier Steuart, whom I had called up, advancing from the Eedgha, with a few rounds of artillery, sent the rebels on the other side of the river into the jungle, and the whole retreated rapidly to a precipitous ridge above the village of Chunderapore, four miles to the north-west of Rathgur, from whence they had started in the morning.

Captain Hare came up with the rear of the rebels before they reached the ridge, and cut up several of them.

Captain Hare and Lieutenant Westmacott, attached to the Hyderabad Cavalry, did good service on this occasion, and Lieutenant Moore, of the 3d Bombay Light Cavalry, who, on account of the few artillery men, served a gun with effect, deserves also to be mentioned.

After nightfall, the rebels made a feeble and unsuccessful attack on the left of the camp from the Saugor Road. The rebels, who had come from their fortified Camp Noreonlee, and from the Fort of Kooreye, failed completely in their attempt to surprise the camp and relieve Rathgur. During the whole time of their attack the breaching batteries continued their fire. Colonel Turnbull reported that the breach would be practicable for an assault the next day at sunset.

Accounts now came into me that the rebels from the Chunderapore ridge had, early in the morning, attacked, in the difficult pass mentioned in the first part of this report, a convoy of supplies coming for my force from the west, and had killed Scindia's vakeel who was in charge of it.

The safety of my supplies rendered it necessary that the enemy should be driven from Chunderapore during the night. I was employed in making arrangements for attacking them, which was not easy, as my force was already engaged in an operation for which in former times a force of four times their strength was considered necessary. However, I was on the point of marching against Chunderapore, when two spies I had sent out during the night came in and reported that the enemy had left that place for Barodia.

On visiting the Eedgha, Brigadier Steuart reported to me that about 4 o'clock A. M. the enemy had attempted to make a sortie from the main gate, which he had driven back with Captain Lightfoot's 9-pounders. A Bhopal officer came up, and reported that he had cut up twenty-five, out of fifty, of the garrison who had attempted to force their way by his patrol. Colonel Liddell reported also, at the same time, that, judging from the stillness in the fort, that its garrison were escaping, he had entered it by the incomplected breach, with part of the 3rd Europeans, who, after receiving some shot from the few rebels still there, had killed them and taken possession of the fort. The main body fled by an ancient sally port and a hole dug under the parapet to the south-west, from which, when I entered the fort, the ropes were hanging, by which they had let themselves down. The reports of all the officers on duty state that these rebels, crossing a ford over the Beena, to the south-west, under the Bhopal Camp, passed through the Bhopal lines into the jungle; the Bhopal troops fired a few shots at the fugitives; two or three of their dead baggage animals in this ford showed the track they had taken. The Bhopal troops have been, and are still, so useful to me that I merely mention this circumstance, which is nothing out of the way amongst oriental troops, out of justice to my own force.

The garrison, stated to be 400 or 500 in number, had, although many of them were warlike valaitees and Pathans, despite of their determination that they would hold Rathgur or die, not been able to stand the shelling, or meet the approaching assault. I am glad to say that the investment of the rock prevented the escape, and caused the capture, of most of the chief rebels, and of many of the rest. Mahomed Fazil Khan, a relation of the Regent of Bhopal, and the military chief of the rebels in these districts, and all his staff, such as they were, attempted to cross the Beena, but, seeing the videttes of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons on the other bank, turned back, and hid themselves in a cave under a rock, where they were captured. The videttes and pickets round the rock, those of Bhopal included, cut down and took many of the fugitive garrison during the day. I made over eighty prisoners to Sir Robert Hamilton, of whom twenty-four were executed; and forty-eight more to the civil authorities.

Of the cavalry sent in pursuit of the fugitives, the Hyderabad Irregulars came up with and killed forty of them, this being exclusive of the twenty-five killed by the Bhopal troops; Lieutenant Westmacott on this occasion again distinguished himself.

At sunset, Mahomed Fazil Khan, and the Nawab Kamdar Khan, a pensioner of the British Government and a son of the great Pindaree Chief taken by Sir John Malcolm, were hung over the gate of the fort in presence of detachments of my force: next day, seventeen more, most of them rebels of note, and all part of the garrison of Rathgur, were executed; two of them, brothers of the Pindaree Chief, had taken part in the murder of the British Assistant at Bereiseeah. Kishen Ram, a secretary of Mahomed Fazil Khan, is stated to have been instrumental in atrocities committed on forty Christians ; Wallidad Khan, who admitted on his trial that he had done all he could, and three times urged Fazil Mahomed to go down, sword in hand, and attack the camp, a valaitee leader, &c.

The Shazadah of Mundesore was not in the fort, as was proved by an unopened letter from the Rajah of Banpoor to his address, found in the fort by an officer of the 3rd Europeans ; he had left it the day of our arrival. In this letter, which is curious, the Rajah gives him the title of King, and deplores that many native Chiefs do not venerate his kingly authority as they ought to do, but have the bad taste to prefer the rule of the Kafir and infidels.

The fort was provided with a fine tank cut out of the rock fifty feet deep ; and in it were found great stores of salt and grain sufficient for a year's consumption, a few camels, cattle, and several horses, two of them belonging to Mahomed Fazil Khan, one with a silver bridle, and another to the Shazadah of Mundesore, a mould for casting cannon and shot, and an immense mass of native correspondence and English accounts, which I made over to Sir Robert Hamilton ; one object was also found which excited indignation, the effigy of the head of a decapitated European female, which it appears these supporters of a change of rule in India carried before their troops, as fitting emblem of their deeds ; notwithstanding this, and all that has passed, far worse than this, the 3rd Europeans, when they entered the fort, treated the women and numerous children of the rebels, who were left there. with the humanity which was to be expected from their discipline, and their faith. I had enjoined the troops, for the honour of their country and the Army, not to harm a woman or a child.

I beg to bring to his Excellency's favourable consideration the zealous and able support which I have received before Rathgur from Brigadier Steuart, Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull, commanding the Artillery, and Major Boileau, commanding the Engineers, and which contributed so materially to the success of the operations against it; as well as the discipline, courage, and thorough good will of the troops engaged on them.

Anxious not to lose a day in relieving Saugor, I made continued marches without a halt. The troops, on account of the difficulties of supply, were, at times, twenty-four hours without rations, and four days on duty before Rathgur without a relief, defending their camp against a numerous enemy in a dangerous country on their flanks and rear, attacking with all their energy, and taking, in three days, a fort strong by nature and art in their front, which Scindia, with a force of at least four times their strength, besieged for five months.

I shall have the honour to make favourable mention of the services of my Staff in a future report.

I beg leave to enclose a return of the Oude artillery found in the fort, and of the casualties in my force before Rathgur.

The troops took three large standards, two of which bore the red extended hand, the device of Mahomedan rebellion.

I beg to offer my excuses for the length of this report, which is caused by the varied nature of the operations. I cannot conclude it without returning my sincere thanks to his Excellency and to Lord Elphinstone, for having made my force as complete as circumstances would possibly allow, and for the very great kindness with which you have attended to all my requests on this subject.

I have, &c.,

HUGH ROSE, Major-General,

Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K.C.B., Commanding Central India Field Force, to Colonel Green, C.B., Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to state to you, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that, after the capture of Rathgur, the rebels, who had retired from Chunderapore to Barodia, as mentioned in my report of the 7th February, 1858, concentrated in the latter place, having been reinforced by such of the garrison of Rathgur as had escaped, and by rebels from Kooreye and other places in Bundlecund.

2. Barodia, on the left bank of the river Beena, is a strong village with a "gurrie," or small fort, with dense jungle on each side, about 12 miles from Rathgur, on the road to Kooreye, a strong fort 29 miles to the north of Saugor.

3. The object of the rebels in concentrating at Barodia was to prevent or endanger my advance to Saugor, by retaking Rathgur, or by placing themselves in my rear, on the road from Bhopal to Saugor, to cut off, as they had already attempted to do, the supplies coming to me from the friendly states of Scindia and Bhopal. It was consequently necessary to attack the enemy, and drive them out of Barodia.

4. Taking with me the force stated in the margin*, I marched at mid-day, on the 31st ultimo, from Rathgur, leaving Brigadier Steuart, with the remainder of my force, to protect Rathgur and the camp.

5. I moved in the order of march which I always adopt when near the rebels, as a precaution against their system of surprises; that is, a line of flankers of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons on each side of the road, 50 yards in front of the leading file of the advanced guard, which with a file of irregulars has charge of the guides; another line of irregular cavalry, 150 yards in echelon in front of the outward flanks of the 14th ; and, should thick jungle border the road, a company of infantry in extended order on each side of it, to support the flankers of the 14th and the advanced guard. By this means all dangerous ground is searched ; surprises are almost impossible ; and spies, lying concealed at a great distance from the road, are frequently seized.

* Four guns Horse Artillery; four guns Captain Light-foot's Battery; two 5½ inch mortars, with 15 men of Captain Woolcomb's Battery, under the command of Lieutenant Strutt; three troops 14th Light Dragoons; two troops 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry; 25 men Madras Sappers and Miners; 3rd European Regiment; detachment Hyderabad Contingent Field Force, under Captain Hare.

6. As we approached Barodia and the river Beena, we had very thick jungle, long grass, and nullahs on our left. The flankers of the irregulars, suddenly halting, reported that they perceived the enemy in force in ambushade on our left. Being with the advanced guard, which was under Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull, I ordered the two guns of his troop to open their fire to the left on the enemy ; before they could do so, the enemy opened a musketry fire on us, killing Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull's horse, and keeping it up with tenacity, although I reinforced the division of horse artillery with four of Captain Lightfoot's 9-pounders, firing grape and round shot ; it was too close for shrapnell.

7. Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull, with the Horse Artillery, took ground to the right, with the view to enfilade the enemy, but he could not get a slant at them. However, this movement enabled him to obtain good views of a body of rebel horsemen, with a red standard, endeavouring to gain a wood to our right and outflank us. I had directed a charge of cavalry against them, but it could not be executed, in consequence of the Staff Officer being unable to find a passage down the high banks of the Beena ; two rounds of spherical case burst amongst this batch ; they disappeared.

8. I had placed the 3rd Europeans in skirmishing order, in front of the flanks of the guns ; their united fire diminished, but did not silence, the fire of the rebels.

9. I therefore charged the rebels out of their advanced position, with the skirmishers of the 3rd Europeans, who, under Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, gallantly drove them out of their own treacherous element, thick jungle, and twisting nullahs, and took possession of the bank of the river, commanding the ford to Barodia, which now first became visible ; the rebels had displayed so much obstinacy in defending this position, in order to prevent our advance across the Beena to Barodia.

10. Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell, Captain Neville, Royal Engineers, Captain Campbell, 3rd Europeans, Captain Rose, my Aide-de-Camp, and Lieutenant Macdonald,* Assistant-Quartermaster-General, were conspicuous in this advance.

11. I turned the advantage gained by the 3rd Europeans immediately to account, and sent the Hyderabad Irregular Cavalry, supported by the 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry, under Captain Forbes, to cross the ford covered by the skirmishers, to pass through the jungle to the front, and fall on the enemy in the open, which I had learnt was between the jungle and Barodia. I followed with four guns of the Horse Artillery, and a troop of Her Majesty's 14th Light Dragoons in support, under Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull, ordering the rest of my force to follow, with the exception of Captain Hare's infantry and guns, which remained at the fort to prevent the rear being cut off.

12. Captain Forbes found the enemy's flanks, particularly their left, posted in thick jungle, their centre in comparatively open ground ; he charged and broke their centre, cutting up thirty or forty of them. The third, and a very strong position, the village of Barodia, now came within sight. Captain Forbes, having observed a body of cavalry retreating leisurely on it, attempted to cut them off, but their flight, on seeing his intention, became so rapid that he only succeeded in killing eight or ten of them, before they got well under the protection of their guns in position at their village, and of the matchlock men posted in the dense jungle, which surrounded three sides of it, and lining the banks of a wet nullah running along the front.

13. Captain Forbes mentioned for their conduct on this occasion, and I beg to recommend to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Subadar Soojut Khan, for having killed, himself, three of the rebels, all of his own caste; Naick Hunut Sing, very severely wounded; Naick Babadheen Khan and Trooper Vass, also severely wounded; who attracted the notice of their officers by engaging singly two or three of the enemy at the same time.

14. On the day before, when the camp was attacked, the same faithful Subadar hindered the advance of the enemy by the able disposition of his picket.

15. If his Excellency were pleased to obtain a reward for these brave soldiers, it would have a good effect on their regiment, whose fidelity and courage have never failed.

16. Jemadar Jhurut Hoosanie Khan, 3rd Hyderabad Cavalry, was mortally wounded in courageously attacking singly a knot of the enemy.

17. Captain Forbes conducted the charge with the same gallantry and intelligence which distinguished him at Kashab.

18. Although the ford was a bad one, Lieutenant-Colonel Turnbull took his guns across it rapidly in support of the cavalry, and when, by the strength of the enemy's position, they were compelled to give up the pursuit, unlimbered in front of the village, and the enemy's guns, and opened an effective fire on their position. Captain Lightfoot with the 9-pounder battery arrived shortly afterwards.

19. The enemy answered with guns and rockets, killing at my side, to my great regret, Captain Neville, of the Royal Engineers, acting as my Aide-de-Camp: knowing what excellent service he had done as an engineering officer before Sebastopol, I had brought him up by forced marches to assist in the reduction of the forts in this country; during the action he was most useful to me, exhibiting to the last the courage and intelligence which had obtained for him so honorable a reputation.

20. Driven from their position by the fire of our guns, the enemy retreated across a wall and open space into the village and jungle. I directed Captain Lightfoot to correspond to this movement; he took ground to the left with guns, and gave them, before they reached cover, an enfilading and destructive fire; the 5½ inch mortars threw shell into the small fort of the village and jungle, to which the enemy had retired.

21. It was now getting dark: taking two companies of the 3rd Europeans, which had just come up, I crossed the wet nullah, and, bringing their right shoulders forward, occupied the wall round the village, and surrounded it with the skirmishers and a troop of the 3rd Light Cavalry. Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell afterwards occupied it and the little fort, but the enemy, except a few valaitee skirmishers who were killed, had fled to Kooreye through the jungle, leaving baggage unpacked, and other signs of a precipitate retreat.

22. I was not at all sure that my camp, with the siege artillery and numerous stores, left, with a small force, at Rathgur, under Brigadier Steuart, might not be attacked during my absence, as it had been before. I therefore halted in the village only for a short time in order to rest the troops, who had been on duty for the last five days, and marched back the same night to Rathgur; they were marching or engaged fifteen hours.

The enemy's loss was severe; they themselves state it to be from four to five hundred, which is not surprising, as they were exposed to well directed fire for a length of time. Amant Sing, their ablest military leader, and a nephew of Tajie Mahomed Khan, were killed; and the Rsjah of Banpore was wounded.

The valaitees and Pathans fought with their accustomed courage, several of them, even when dying, springing from the ground, and inflicting mortal wounds with their broad swords.

The good result of the defeat of the rebels at Barodia exceeded my expectations; not only were my communications with the West and Saugor completely opened, but the rebels, flying from Barodia to Kooreye, left in their panic that place, although it is a fort in a strong position, and Krulassa, which is between thirty and forty miles to the north-west of Saugor. Nureeawallee, their fortified camp, was also abandoned. All these places and the country about them had been in their hands for the last eight months. The rebels also left at Kooreye their guns which they had at Barodia.

The troops behaved at Barodia with discipline and courage, keeping in very bad ground their formation, and obeying with eager alacrity any orders which brought them closer to the enemy.

The 3rd Europeans, although very young, and now for the first time in the field, have qualified themselves for a career of honour ; and Lieutenant-Colonel Liddell is sure to lead the way.

I am much obliged to Captain Wood, my Assistant-Adjutant-General, and my Staff, for the assistance which they gave me on this occasion, as well as at Rathgur ; and I ought to add that the Officers of my Divisional Staff, whose duties are non-combatant, still, in their zeal, accompany me to the field. Captain Campbell, Baggage Master, who was hit, was very useful and intelligent in conveying my orders ; and Lieutenant Lyster, my Interpreter, of the 72nd Regiment Bengal Native Infantry, was wounded when engaging the nephew of Mahomed Fazil Khan, whom he killed.

I have the honor to enclose a list of the casualties at Barodia, as also a list of Sappers and Miners, whom Major Boileau, Commanding Engineer, wishes to be mentioned for having inspected the ditch and the breach of the Fort of Rathgur.

The Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to Government.

SIR, Bombay, March 17, 1858.

IN continuation of my previous communications, Nos. 2133 and 2288, dated respectively the 9th and 13th instant, I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief to transmit, for submission to the Right Honourable the Governor in Council, the enclosed letter (without date), from Major-General Sir Hugh Rose, K.C.B., Commanding Central India Field Force, detailing his proceedings subsequent to the capture of the fort of Rathgur, and action with the insurgents near the town of Barodia.

2. The operations of Sir Hugh Rose in the Field, while they have the cordial approval of the Commander-in-Chief, will doubtless be most satisfactory to His Lordship in Council, as the success which has attended them must have the most beneficial effect in tranquillizing a district which has been so long in the hands of the rebels.

3. The Lieutenant-General Commanding in Chief has desired me to submit, in the margin of this letter,* the names of officers prominently brought to notice by Sir Hugh Rose, and to beg that the Right Honourable the Governor in Council will be pleased to bring their conduct prominently to the notice of the Honourable Court of Directors.

4. The Major-General will be directed to constitute a Court of Inquiry, under the provisions of Act 273, section XXXIX., of Jameson's Code, with the view of ascertaining if the native officer and men alluded to in the 13th and 14th paragraphs of his despatch are entitled to admittance to the distinction of the Order of Merit.

*Extract of a Letter, dated 20th March, 1858, from the Adjutant-General of the Army, to
Field Force.*

HIS Excellency has perused your despatch with much satisfaction, and I have been commanded to recommend to the especial notice of Government, the conduct of all the troops on the occasion (Barodia), also to bring prominently forward the officers, non-commissioned officers, and private named by you, as having distinguished themselves in action with the enemy.

I am to convey to you the cordial thanks of the Commander-in-Chief for the very valuable services you are performing; and to request you will notify to the officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers, European and native, that their gallant and excellent conduct is fully remembered and heartily acknowledged by the Government and the Commander-in-Chief.

Resolution by the Governor of Bombay in Council, dated March 22, 1859.

THE Right Honourable the Governor in Council entirely concurs in the cordial approval of Sir Hugh Rose's operations near the town of Barodia, and will have great pleasure in bringing his services and those of the officers mentioned in his dispatch, to the favourable notice of the Government of India, and the Honourable the Secret Committee.

India Office, November 25, 1859.

THE Secretary of State for India has received the following Minute of the Governor-General of India, giving cover to a Minute of the Governor of Bombay, regarding the Services of Civil Officers and others in Bombay, during the Mutiny, in continuation of that published in the London Gazette of 7th October, 1859 :

Minute by his Excellency the Governor-General of India, dated 17th September, 1859.

BOMBAY DURING THE MUTINY AND REBELLION.

IN sending this minute of the Governor of Bombay, and the accompanying papers, to the Secretary of State, I desire to express my earnest hope that his Lordship's recommendations of the officers therein named may receive the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government.

Lord Elphinstone's enumeration of the services rendered by officers in civil employ in the west of India, will of course carry with it the weight which is due to every recommendation that proceeds from him ; but the Government of India would fail in its duty if it did not support those recommendations to the utmost of its authority.

The support which the cause of the British Government in India has received, during the last two anxious years, from the Bombay Government and its officers, stands upon record, and will, I am confident, meet with its just reward. For myself, I shall never cease to remember with admiration the boldness and readiness with which that support was given; but, whilst I entirely concur in the estimate which Lord Elphinstone has formed of the individual services of those who were under the immediate orders of his Government, I must observe that to Lord Elphinstone himself, foremost of them and above them all, is our debt of gratitude due.

I have long ago expressed my sense of the degree to which India is indebted to the patriotic and unselfish aid which came to us from the Governors of the Cape of Good Hope and of the Mauritius—Sir George Grey and Sir James Higinson,—and it only remains for me to declare my entire concurrence in all that Lord Elphinstone and his Council have said on this head.

I cannot doubt that Her Majesty's Government will adequately appreciate the cordial spirit of friendliness which the Governor-General of Portuguese India, the Viscount de Torres Novas, has evinced towards the traditional allies of his country in the time of their difficulty.

CANNING.

September 17, 1859.

Minute by the Right Honorable the Governor of Bombay, dated the 18th August, 1859.

THE Governor-General in Council having called upon us for a report upon the claims of persons who have rendered good service to the State, otherwise than in the field, during the late troubles, for transmission to Her Majesty's Secretary of State, I beg to submit the names of those who seem to me best entitled to this distinction.

From the extract from Lord Stanley's letter of the 1st of June, which has been sent for our information, I perceive that the persons, and the services performed, are to be classified under four different heads :—

1st. Civil servants.

2nd. Persons. unconnected with Government, who have rendered valuable assistance.

3rd. Military officers employed on civil duty.

4th. Military officers who have rendered service in their military capacity, which, though not such as to render them eligible for promotion, or the distinction of the Bath, is of as high an order as service performed in action against the enemy, and not less worthy of honorable distinction.

Under the first head, I should have placed the name of Sir Bartle Frere, the Commissioner in Sind, but he has already received the thanks of Parliament and the honors of the Bath ; it would therefore be a work of supererogation. I beg, however, respectfully, to submit, for the most favorable consideration of Her Majesty's Government, the services of Mr. I. N. Rose. As the chief civil officer in Sattara, Mr. Rose was placed in a position of great difficulty, and in which he was able to render most valuable service.

The annexation of Sattara was far from being popular among the people of that province. The upper classes especially regarded the introduction of British rule with dislike, and all classes of Mahrattas looked with regret upon the extinction of the line of the great freebooter, who delivered them from the Mahometan yoke, and laid the foundation of that wide-spread confederacy which has been called the Mahratta Empire.

No wonder, then, that the eyes of the disaffected throughout this part of India were turned towards Sattara. The widows of the two last Rajahs, with their adopted sons, had been permitted to occupy the palaces of the Rajah, and to keep up a certain amount of royal state. The disturbances had hardly broken out in the north-west, when Mr. Rose discovered that a plot, for the restoration to the Gudi of the adopted son of the elder branch, had been for some time hatching. Soon afterwards, overtures were made by the conspirators to a sepoy of the 22nd Native Infantry, who was to sound his comrades, and to promise rewards and promotion if the regiment only remained neutral, while all the Europeans at the station (including their own officers), were being murdered.

Mr. Rose immediately took the most vigorous measures, and recommended the removal of the widow and adopted son of the elder Rajah from Sattara. This measure he carried out with great prudence and judgment. The Ranee and her adopted son, with their principal advisers, were arrested and conveyed out of the town, without the people being aware of it; but in the excited state of people's minds, a rescue might have been attempted, and, to prevent this, European escorts had been secretly posted all along the road to Poona; a distance of upwards of 70 miles.

It was afterwards found that the presence of the rival pretender to the Gudi (the adopted son of the last Rajah) encouraged the hopes of the disaffected to our rule; and he and his adoptive mother were also successfully removed from Sattara.

Throughout the whole of the period which intervened between the seizure of Delhi by the mutineers, and recapture of Gwalior by Sir Hugh Rose, there was great excitement in the province of Sattara, and if any outbreak had occurred there, it must have extended to the other Mahratta provinces of this Presidency, and probably to Holkar's and to the Gackwar's States, and we are mainly indebted to Mr. Rose for the frustration of these intrigues, and for the preservation of tranquillity in the Deccan.

Many other civil servants rendered useful service, but the only ones whom it seems to me should be brought to the notice of Her Majesty's Government are Mr. Seton Karr, who, during the early part of the period of disturbance, was Political Agent in the S. M. country, and who, as collector and magistrate of Belgaum, showed great coolness and tact in dealing with the disaffection, which undoubtedly prevailed in that part of the country, and especially in Belgaum itself; and Mr. Chapman, who was wounded in an affair with the Bheels in the neighbourhood of Nassik.

I presume, however, that under the first head should be entered the names of gentlemen, who are in the service of Government, but who are neither military officers nor civil servants, in the ordinary sense of the term. If so, I would beg to bring the meritorious services of Mr. Souter, the Superintendent of Police in Belgaum, and Mr. Forjett, the Deputy Commissioner of Police in Bombay, to the notice of Her Majesty's Government.

In the second category, it does not occur to me that there are any persons in this Presidency who have a claim to be inserted.

I now come to military officers in civil employ. The valuable services of Major General Sir

H. Roberts and Brigadier General Le Grand Jacob, as political commissioners in Guzerat, and the Southern Mahratta country, have already been brought to the notice of Her Majesty's Government, and have been appropriately (though in the case of Brigadier General Jacob inadequately) rewarded with the honors of the 2nd and 3rd class of the Bath.

Sir Richmond Shakespear, who succeeded General Roberts as political commissioner (on the latter assuming the command of the Rajpootana Field Force) is also deserving of the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government. The disarmament of the eastern portion of Guzerat was successfully carried out under his directions, and it is impossible to say how much this salutary measure may have contributed to the maintenance of tranquillity when Tantia Topee appeared upon the borders of these disarmed districts last winter.

The services of Major Merewether, who, during the crisis of 1857, acted as Political Agent on the Sind frontier, also appear to me to deserve the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government.

Those of Major Green, who was Political Agent at Kelat, were also doubtless valuable in preventing disturbance upon the frontiers of Sind, but they have been separately brought to the notice of Her Majesty's Government.

Captain Walker, Superintendent of Police at Tanna, who was charged with the suppression of the disturbances in Peint; Major Montgomery, who was Lieutenant of Police at Shikarpoor, when the Native Artillery at that station mutinied; Lieutenant Naylor, who held the same appointment at Hyderabad, and anticipated the outbreak at that station by successfully disarming the Native Artillery by his police; and Captain

Graham, who was wounded when co-operating with Brigadier Macan in an attack upon the insurgent Blueels at Shumsherpore ; ought also in my opinion to have their names brought to the notice of the Secretary of State ; as ought also Captain Buckle, Assistant Political Agent in the Rewa Kanta, of whose energy and judgment it is difficult to speak too highly.

I now come to the last category. Military officers who have rendered good service in their military capacity, otherwise than in the field.

I presume that naval officers are included under this head, and, if so, I beg to bring to the notice of the Secretary of State the valuable assistance which this Government received from Commodore Wellesley, C.B., Commander-in-Chief of the Indian Navy, and the good services rendered by Lieutenants Chitty and Sweeny, of the Indian Navy, in conveying the different detachments of European troops down the coast, at the height of the monsoon, by which movement, under Providence, the peace of the S. M. country and of this presidency, was preserved. Those of Captain Jenkins, C.B., who proceeded to the Cape and the Mauritius with letters to the Governors of those colonies, asking for assistance, may also be considered worthy of being brought to the notice of Her Majesty's Government.

Among military officers the name of Colonel Davidson, Commissary-General, has upon a former occasion been brought to the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government, Major Kane, who organized the transit train to Mhow, and who accompanied Sir Hugh Rose into the Stapooras when he was endeavouring to intercept Tantia Topee ; Major Taylor of the 2nd Cavalry, who was wounded in arresting the mutineers, who tried to excite the Guzerat Horse to raise the green flag, and declare for the rebel cause ; Captain Birch, Candeish Bheel Corps, who, with a company of his Bheels, disarmed an equal force of the 4th Infantry, Gwalior Contingent, at Boorbaumpoor, and who also performed most gallant service against the insurgent Bheels and Walayteês, at Amba Panee; should also be brought to the notice of the Secretary of State.

The gallant services of Lieutenant-Colonel Malcolm and Lieutenant Kerr, of the S. M. Horse, have already been recognized by Her Majesty's Government; and those of Lieutenant Macauley, of the Sind Horse, who commanded the Belooch Levy, in Rajpootana, have been recommended to the Government of India for recognition.

I have now enumerated the names of those officers, civil and military, who appear to me to have the greatest claims upon the favourable consideration and the notice of Her Majesty's Government. I feel that, when so many officers have done good service, the task of selecting some for rewards and distinction must always be a difficult and an invidious one. I have endeavoured to perform it impartially and carefully.

I cannot, however, conclude this minute without adverting to the invaluable assistance which I have at all times received from my honourable colleagues, including Mr. Lumsden, who has since left the service, to whom I was indebted for many excellent suggestions, and whose foresight and appreciation of the nature of the crisis were truly remarkable; and from the Secretary to Government. I would take this opportunity of specially recommending to the favourable consideration of Her Majesty's Government the services of Mr. H. L. Anderson, Secretary in the Political, Secret, and Judicial Departments, whose labours during the last two years richly deserve some recognition.

Those of Colonel Melvill, Secretary in the Military and Naval Departments, have been already brought to the notice of Her Majesty's Government, with a recommendation that the distinction of the Bath may be conferred on him.

I trust also that I may be pardoned if I venture to draw the attention of the Government of India, and of Her Majesty's Government, to services rendered in the suppression of the rebellion by some high officers unconnected with this presidency, and indeed altogether independent of the Government of India.

No one on this side of India is likely to have forgotten the relief which was experienced when the 33rd Regiment and Captain Bolton's company of Royal Artillery arrived at Bombay. We had just heard of the mutiny of the 27th Native Infantry at Kolapore,—the state of the S. M. country was daily becoming more critical,—the European troops in the garrison of Bombay were less than 300 strong. At this moment, the arrival of an entire European regiment, and of 50 artillerymen, was of incalculable value. It enabled us to send off the whole of the European troops in garrison to Kolapore and Belgaum.

The arrival of the 33rd was followed (about a month afterwards) by that of the 89th from the Cape of Good Hope, which was immediately despatched to Guzerat, which, up to that time, had been almost without European troops. Other regiments and batteries of artillery were subsequently sent from the Cape of Good Hope, some of which, if I am not mistaken, had the honour of forming part of the force which relieved Lucknow. For these most opportune reinforcements, we were indebted to the Governors of Mauritius and of the Cape, Sir James Higginson, and Sir George Grey.

It is worthy of remark that, when Sir James

Higginson despatched the first reinforcement of six companies of the 33rd, and 50 men of the Royal Artillery, he only retained two companies of infantry for the protection of the island; those two companies he sent on as soon as the 4th Foot arrived at the Mauritius, and, upon a second application from this Government, he again sent us a wing of the latter regiment. It is impossible, I think, for any man to have done more than Sir James Higginson did, and I should sincerely rejoice, if his conduct upon this occasion was rewarded by some conspicuous mark of the approbation of Her Majesty's Government.

Sir George Grey's hearty and efficient assistance calls also, I venture humbly to think, for some recognition.

I may be forgiven for stating a fact which was related to me by Captain Jenkins, who was sent with the letters which we addressed to the Governors of the Mauritius and the Cape, by one of the steamers which we engaged for the conveyance of troops from those colonies. I had suggested that, if possible, artillery horses might be sent with the artillerymen from the Cape. There was a difficulty in getting a sufficient number of trained and serviceable horses, and Sir George Grey actually sent his own carriage horses to make up the quota.

Having ventured to mention the great and invaluable assistance rendered to the Government of India by two high officers independent of it, I hope that I may be permitted to allude to the cordial and friendly co-operation which this Government has received, throughout the disturbances, from His Excellency the Governor-General of Portuguese India, the Viscount de Torres Novas. I believe that it is not generally known that, in permitting British troops to land at Goa during the Monsoon of 1857, His Excellency was acting in opposition to his Council, and in violation of the Portuguese laws. He did not tell me so at the time; but, in a private letter which I received from him some months ago, he mentioned that his conduct had been approved by the King's Government, and that a bill of indemnity had been passed, absolving him from any penalties he might have incurred. I think this fact sufficiently shows the friendly disposition which has marked the conduct of the present Governor-General of Portuguese India, which has been further manifested in the operations against the Phoond Sawunts, and in the transportation of these rebels (as well as of some of the Peint insurgents who sought refuge in the Demmaun territory) to the Portuguese penal settlement of Timor.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and to make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act, passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the post office."

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act, passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications."

And whereas by the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, and by divers Warrants, under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, certain rates of British postage have been established and made payable on the transmission by the post of certain British, colonial, and foreign newspapers therein respectively mentioned.

And whereas it is expedient that such additional rates of postage should be charged on certain British, colonial, and foreign newspapers sent by the post as are hereinafter mentioned;

Now We, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers vested in us, in and by the said before-mentioned Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided), order and direct as follows (that is to say):—

1. On every printed newspaper, whether British, colonial, or foreign, transmitted by the post between any ports or places beyond the seas, through the United Kingdom, by British packet-boat, viâ Southampton and Egypt, or between any ports or places beyond the seas, by British packet-boat, viâ Egypt, without passing through the United Kingdom, there shall be charged and paid, in addition to any other postage now payable thereon, a further and additional rate of British postage of one penny, and in all cases in which such respective newspapers are liable, on the transmission thereof by such respective routes, to progressive rates of postage, according to the scale of weight contained in any such Warrants as aforesaid, the additional rate of one penny payable under this present Warrant shall be calculated and paid in respect of each such progressive rate.

2. Every printed supplement or additional sheet to any newspaper shall, for the purpose of charging the postage under this Warrant, be deemed a distinct newspaper, unless sent in the same cover or together with the newspaper to which it is a supplement or addition, and every printed newspaper transmitted by the post under this present Warrant shall be so transmitted in conformity with and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions relating to newspapers mentioned and contained or referred to in and by clause 7 of a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the sixteenth day of February, 1859.

3. The respective newspapers transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall, when redirected and again forwarded by the post, be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain other Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the nineteenth day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets respectively redirected and again forwarded by the post.

4. Nothing in this Warrant before contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any newspapers transmitted to or from the United Kingdom via Marseilles, or to newspapers contained in the French or Spanish mails passing through Egypt, or to any newspapers to be transmitted by the post, under the provisions of the said Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the sixteenth day of February, 1859, and amended by a certain other Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the tenth day of March, 1859, all which respective newspapers shall be charged and chargeable as if this present Warrant had not been made.

5. The term "newspaper," used in the several clauses of the said Warrant, bearing date the 16th day of February, 1859, and in clauses Nos. 1, 2, and 3 of this present Warrant, shall include all publications admitted to the privileges of a newspaper under the provisions of the said recited Act passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, and the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said recited Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty.

6. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made, at any time hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed, or any of the orders, regulations, conditions, or restrictions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, regulations, conditions, or restrictions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

7. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of January, 1860.

FROM THE

1859.

AT the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 1st day of December, 1859.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

To the Guardians of the Poor of all Unions and Parishes, to the Churchwardens and Overseers of all Parishes, Townships, and places in which the Relief to the Poor is not administered by Guardians, in England and Wales, and to all Medical Practitioners.

WHEREAS by the Public Health Act, 1858, and by an Act since passed to perpetuate the same, it is enacted that the Privy Council may from time to time issue such Regulations as they think fit, for securing the due qualification of persons to be thereafter contracted with by Guardians and Overseers of Unions and Parishes in England for the Vaccination of persons resident in such Unions and Parishes, and for securing the efficient performance of Vaccination by the persons already or thereafter to be contracted with as aforesaid ;—

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, by the Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Vice-President of the Committee of the said Privy Council on Education is one) that on and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, the following Regulations shall be in force ; viz. :—

Qualification of Contractors.

1. Except where the Privy Council, for reasons brought to their notice, see fit in particular cases otherwise to allow, no person shall in future be admitted as a Contractor for Vaccination, unless he possess the same qualifications as are required by the Orders of the Poor Law Commissioners as qualifications for a District Medical Officer, and produce a special Certificate, given, under such conditions as the Privy Council from time to time fix, by some public Vaccinator whom the Privy Council authorize to act for the purpose, and by whom he has been duly instructed or examined in the practice of Vaccination, and all that relates thereto :—

but the production of this special certificate on occasion of the contract being made may be dispensed with, if the certificate, or some other which the Privy Council judge to be of like effect, have been among the certificates or testimonials necessary for obtaining any diploma, licence or degree, which the candidate possesses ;—

and also, in respect of persons legally admitted to practise before this regulation comes into effect, the special Certificate may be dispensed with, on condition that the Contract, during one year from its making, continue subject to the approval of the Poor Law Board;—

and all persons now contracted with shall be deemed to be qualified to be again contracted with.

Qualification of Deputies of Contractors.

2. Under the same conditions as are appointed for the admission of a Contractor, any person qualified to be a Contractor may, on the Contractor's application, be admitted by the Guardians or Overseers to act as his occasional deputy;—

but, if this admission be not part of the original Contract, it must be notified by indorsement upon the Contract; and at least 15 days before it is intended to take effect, a copy of the proposed indorsement, together with all requisite evidence of the qualification of the person whom it is proposed to admit, must be transmitted to the Poor Law Board.

Vaccination and Inspection.

3. All Vaccinations and Inspections under Contract shall be performed by the Contractor in person, or by some other Contractor of the same Union or Parish acting for him, or by a deputy, duly admitted as above;—

but at any station where the Contractor is authorised (as above) to grant certificates, pupils and other candidates, aged not less than 18 years, may, in his presence and under his direction, take part in vaccinating.

All Vaccinations and Inspections under Contract shall be performed in accordance with the annexed "Instructions for Vaccinators under Contract."

Register of Cases.

4. Until some new form of Vaccination-Register be duly prescribed, the person who performs any Vaccination under Contract shall, on the day when he performs it, legibly write in his Register (as now provided) the letter R (for Revaccination) against the name of every person, adult or adolescent, who, having in early life been successfully vaccinated, is revaccinated; and shall also enter in some column, or in the margin of the Register, the source whence the lymph used in the vaccination was obtained;—

thus: the name, or number (if any) in the Register, of the subject from whom the lymph was taken; or "N.V.E.", if the lymph was sent by the National Vaccine Establishment; or the name or description of any other source;—

and where the Vaccination or the Inspection is done by a person acting as Deputy for the Contractor, the Deputy shall write the initials of his name in the Register side by side with the entry of the case; viz.: in the left margin of the page if it be a Vaccination which he performs, or in the right margin of the page if it be an Inspection which he performs.

Contracts.

5. Guardians and Overseers, in their respective Unions and Parishes, shall forthwith take measures to bring the performance of public Vaccination into conformity with these Regulations.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR VACCINATORS UNDER

(1.) Except there be immediate danger of small-pox, vaccinate only subjects who are in good health. Satisfy yourself that there is not any eruption behind the ears, or elsewhere on the skin ; nor any febrile state ; nor any irritation of the bowels. Under no circumstances vaccinate a subject to whom, from the state or prospects of his health, vaccination is likely to prove injurious. Do not re-vaccinate persons who in infancy have been efficiently vaccinated, unless they be more than 15 years of age, or, if during any immediate danger of small-pox, more than 12 years of age.

(2.) In all ordinary vaccinations, vaccinate by four or five separate punctures, so as to produce four or five separate good-sized vesicles ; or, if you vaccinate otherwise than by separate punctures, take care to produce local effects equal to those just mentioned.

(3.) Direct care to be taken for keeping the vesicles uninjured during their progress, and for avoiding afterwards the premature removal of the crusts.

(4.) Register the results of vaccination only after having yourself inspected the cases. Register as "successful" no case of primary vaccination, unless the course of the vesicle have been strictly regular according to the subjoined description, A ; and register as "successful" no case of re-vaccination, unless either the regular vaccine vesicle have ensued, or the results have been normally modified according to the subjoined description, B. Or if in either case you register as "successful" any result which does not agree with the subjoined descriptions, write also the word "irregular" in the column of the register where you record the result.

(5.) Endeavour to maintain in your district such a succession of cases as will enable you uniformly to vaccinate with liquid lymph directly from arm to arm ; and do not, under ordinary circumstances, adopt any other method of vaccinating. To provide against emergencies, always have in reserve some stored lymph ;—either dry, as on thickly-charged ivory points, constantly well-protected from damp ; or liquid, according to the method of Dr. Husband of Edinburgh, in fine, short, uniformly capillary (not bulbed) tubes, hermetically sealed at both extremities. Lymph, successfully preserved by either of these methods, may be used without definite restriction as to time ; but with all stored lymph caution is necessary, lest in time it have become inert, or otherwise unfit for use. If, in order to vaccinate with recent liquid lymph, you convey it from case to case in a vial or in other like manner, without its being hermetically sealed, do not let more than 18 hours, and in very hot weather not more than 12 hours, intervene before it is used.

(6.) Consider yourself strictly responsible for the quality of whatever lymph you use or furnish for vaccination. Take lymph only from subjects who are in good health ; especially satisfying yourself that they are free from eruption on the skin. Take it only from well-characterised, uninjured vesicles. Do not take it from cases of re-vaccination. Take it (as may be done in all regular cases on the day week after vaccination) at a time when the vesicles are plump, either just before the formation of the areola, or, at the latest, not more than twenty-four hours after the areola has begun to form.

(7.) In vaccinating from arm to arm, and still more in proceeding to store lymph, avoid draining any vesicle which you puncture. From such a vesicle as vaccination by puncture commonly produces, do not, under ordinary circumstances, take more lymph than will suffice for the immediate vaccination of five subjects, or for the charging of seven ivory points, or for the filling of three capillary tubes; and from larger or smaller vesicles take only in like proportion to their size.

(8.) Scrupulously observe in your inspections every sign which tests the efficiency and purity of your lymph. Note any case wherein the vaccine vesicle is unduly hastened or otherwise irregular in its development, or wherein any undue local irritation arises; and if similar results ensue in other cases vaccinated with the same lymph, desist at once from employing it.

(9.) If from any cause your supply of lymph ceases, or becomes unsuitable for further use, take immediate measures for obtaining a new supply.

(10.) Keep in good condition the lancets or other instruments which you use for vaccinating, and do not use them for other surgical operations.

N.B. Supplies of lymph, guaranteed by the National Vaccine Board, are furnished on application to all medical practitioners. Letters of application for this lymph should be addressed "To the Registrar of the National Vaccine Establishment, Privy Council Office, London, S.W."

SIGNS OF SUCCESSFUL VACCINATION AND OF SUCCESSFUL RE-VACCINATION.

(GREGORY, revised by CEELEY and MARSON.)

(A.) "When Vaccination has been successfully performed on a healthy infant, the puncture may be felt elevated on the second or third day, and soon afterwards, if examined with a magnifying glass, appears surrounded by a slight redness. On the fifth or sixth day a distinct vesicle is formed, having an elevated edge and depressed centre. On the eighth day it appears distended with a clear lymph. The vesicle, on this, its day of greatest perfection, is circular and pearl-coloured; its margin is turgid, firm, shining, and wheel-shaped. Late on the seventh, or early on the eighth, day an inflamed ring or areola begins to form around the base of the vesicle, and, with it, continues to increase during the two following days. This areola is of a circular form, and its diameter extends from one to three inches. When at its height, on the ninth or tenth day, there is often considerable hardness and swelling of the subjacent cellular membrane. On the tenth or eleventh day the areola begins to subside, leaving, as it fades, two or three concentric circles of redness. The vesicle now begins to dry in the centre, and acquires there a brownish colour. The lymph which remains becomes opaque, and gradually concretes; so that about the fourteenth or fifteenth day the vesicle is converted into a hard round scab of a reddish brown colour. This scab contracts, dries, blackens, and, about the twenty-first day, falls off. It leaves a cicatrix which commonly is permanent in after life, circular, somewhat depressed, dotted or indented with minute pits, and, in some instances, radiated. The above described local changes, while in active progress, are attended by feverishness; first, from the fifth to the seventh day, so slightly that often the fact passes unobserved; and again more considerably during those days when the areola is about its height; the infant now being restless and hot, with more or less disturbance of stomach and bowels. About the same time, especially if the weather be hot, children of full habit not infrequently show on the extremities, and less copiously on the trunk, a lichenous, roseolar or vesicular eruption, which commonly continues for about a week. When Vaccination is performed on such adults or adolescents as have not previously been vaccinated, and likewise when lymph is employed which has recently been derived from the cow, the resulting phenomena, as compared with the preceding description, are somewhat retarded in their course; and the areola is apt to be much more diffuse. There is also more feverishness; but eruption is less frequently seen."

(B.) "When persons who have once been efficiently vaccinated are, some years afterwards, re-vaccinated with effective lymph, there sometimes result vesicles which, as regards their course and that of the attendant areolæ, cannot be distinguished from the perfect results of primary vaccination. But far more usually the results are more or less modified by the influence of such previous vaccination. Often no true vesicles form, but merely papular elevations surrounded by areolæ; and these results, having attained their maximum on or before the fifth day, afterwards quickly decline. Or if vesicles form, their shape is apt to vary from that of the regular vesicle, and their course to be more rapid; so that their maturity is reached on or before the sixth day, their areolæ decline on or before the eighth day, and their scabbing begins correspondingly early. In either case the areolæ tend to diffuse themselves more widely and less regularly, and with more affection of the cellular membrane, than in primary vaccination; and the local changes are accompanied by much itching, often by some irritation of the axillary glands, and in some cases on the fourth or fifth day by considerable febrile disturbance."

NOTIFICATION.

QUALIFICATION OF PUBLIC VACCINATORS.

WHEREAS under the provisions of the Public Health Act, 1858, and of an Act since passed to perpetuate the same, the Privy Council have this day issued Regulations "for securing the due qualification of persons to be hereafter contracted with by Guardians and Overseers of Unions and Parishes in England for the vaccination of persons resident in such Unions and Parishes, and for securing the efficient performance of vaccination by the persons already or hereafter to be contracted with as aforesaid ;” and whereas in these Regulations it is, among other things, required that, on and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, persons to be contracted with for vaccination, and persons to be allowed to act in their stead, shall, except in certain cases, produce evidence of being duly qualified in all that relates to the practice of vaccination ; which evidence must consist in a certificate given, after due instruction or examination, by some Public Vaccinator whom the Privy Council authorise to act for the purpose :

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN—

1) that, subject to Orders of the Privy Council, the Public Vaccinators named in the following list are authorised by the Privy Council to give the required certificates of proficiency in vaccination to persons whom they have instructed therein, and those whose names in the following list are printed in italic letters are also authorised to give such certificates after examination to persons whom they have not themselves instructed ;

2) that from and after the first-day of January, 1860. the Vaccinating-Stations, at which these Vaccinators officiate, will be open, under conditions set forth in the annexed memorandum, for the purposes of teaching and examination ; and

3) that from time to time, as additions are made by the Privy Council to the list of persons whom they now authorise to give certificates of proficiency in vaccination, the names of the other persons thus authorised will be published in the London Gazette.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

Memorandum of Arrangements made in England for the Public Teaching of Vaccination, and for the granting of such Certificates of Proficiency in Vaccination as will qualify the bearers (if otherwise eligible) to be contracted with by Guardians and Overseers for the performance of Public Vaccination.

The Stations at present established for educational purposes are all in places where there are recognized medical schools. They are stations where the appointed public vaccinator uniformly attends in person, and where the annual number of vaccinations, as compared with the number of vaccinating-days, is sufficiently large to promise that the student, during his period of attendance, will, as a rule, always find many cases together for observation. They are stations from which vaccine lymph is furnished for the public service; the Vaccinators in charge of them having, for this purpose, been selected by the National Vaccine Board to be Members of the National Vaccine Establishment.

The Vaccinator of an educational vaccinating-station, during his attendance thereat, will exhibit and explain the course and characters of the vaccine vesicle, will practically teach the best method or methods of performing vaccination, and of taking lymph for present or future use, will inculcate all precautions which are necessary with regard to the health of subjects proposed for vaccination, and with regard to the selection and preservation of lymph, and will give all such other instruction as is requisite for the scientific and successful performance of vaccination and re-vaccination. During his course of instruction, he will make provision to ensure that always some cases come for inspection on the 10th, as well as on the 8th day ; and, for the purpose of shewing these cases to his pupils, he will give, on the day appointed for their coming, a second weekly attendance at his station. He will further enable and direct each pupil to see at least six cases of vaccination on at least two other days of their progress ; viz., both before the 8th and after the 10th day. In the Teacher's presence, and under his direction, any Pupil, aged not less than 18 years, may take part in vaccinating ; but not till he have attended the station on at least two vaccinating-days.

Any person, desirous of being admitted as pupil at an educational vaccinating-station, shall pay a fee not exceeding one guinea, and thereupon receive a ticket entitling him to attend the public vaccinations of the Teacher. When the Pupil has attended at the station, during the times of vaccinating and teaching, for at least six weeks, the Teacher, if satisfied of his proficiency, shall, on receiving back his ticket, but without further payment, give him a certificate in the appointed form.

At stations where the Teacher is also authorized to give certificates of proficiency in vaccination to persons whom he has not himself instructed therein, such persons will, on appointed occasions, be examined by the Teacher, on payment of a fee not exceeding one guinea, and if he find them competent, receive certificates accordingly. In case of failure to pass this examination, the Candidate may be admitted to a second examination on payment of a fee not exceeding half a guinea.

The Certificate of Proficiency will be understood to imply—and therefore the Teacher who signs it will have taken care to ascertain, that the person to whom it is given can skilfully vaccinate, both with liquid lymph (including such as is preserved in capillary tubes) and also from ivory points ;—that he can properly charge ivory points or capillary tubes with lymph ;—that he is aware of the relative advantages of recent and preserved lymph and of all precautions which are requisite in using the latter ;—that, from among vaccinated subjects presented for eighth-day inspection, he can select, and give reasons for preferring, those who are fittest to furnish lymph ;—that, besides being thoroughly familiar with all local changes which, from first to last, normally ensue on vaccination, he has learnt what causes may accelerate or retard the local changes, or give them undue severity, or otherwise render them irregular ;—that he is well-informed as to the constitutional effects of vaccination (including the eruptions which sometimes follow it) and as to the treatment which cases of vaccination, under various circumstances, may require ;—that he knows how far the protective influence of vaccination is affected by lapse of time, and how far by the mode in which vaccination is performed especially by the number or size of vesicles, and knows generally under what circumstances re-vaccination is to be recommended ;—finally, that he is acquainted with the laws and regulations relative to public vaccination, and understands the local arrangements which are necessary for maintaining a constant supply of lymph.
